GIGANTIC LOOTING.

Hipple Helped Along Overdrafts.

Amount Sometimes Reached as High as Eight Hundred Thousand.

Tellers Were Ordered Also to Pay Excessive Drafts of Adolph Segal.

Latter Is Held to Answer With Treasurer North and Collingwood.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a hearing before a magistrate here, today, in which the most gigantic conspiracy ever concocted to loot a bank in this country was exposed, Adolph Segal was held in bonds of $25,000; Treasurer North of the Real Estate Trust Company and Assistant Treasurer Collingwood each in $10,000, bail for court.

It was shown that the late President Hipple constantly overdrew his account from $150,000 to $800,000. Segal's overdrafts amounted to a quarter of a million. Hipple had a supply of Segal's blank notes in the vault of the Trust Company, already signed, ready to be filled in when required for any amount desired.

Tellers of the Trust Company testified that when Segal's check for hundreds of thousands of dollars overdraft were presented, Treasurer North, Assistant Treasurer Collingwood and President Hipple would instruct them to pay them.

EARLE'S OPPORTUNITY.

If George H. Earle, Jr., will consent to become president of the rehabilitated institution, the Real Estate Trust Company will reopen its doors within the next few days, and pay all creditors 100 cents on the dollar. Earle has not yet consented to assume this burden, but as the one condition upon which the directors today subscribed the $3,000,000 needed to put the institution upon its feet was that he shall be the new president, it is believed that he will at once acquiesce in their desire that he become the head of the concern.

PLAN OF REORGANIZATION.

The plan upon which the bank is to be reorganized, its debts paid, and business resumed is as follows: The liabilities of the banking department are approximately $7,000,000. There are in the vaults $2,500,000 worth of good marketable securities. The Segal assets are to be taken over at the actual value of the lands, buildings and machinery.

DIRECTORS PLEDGED.

The directors today pledged themselves to pay into the concern $3,000,000. The difference between the value of these good securities, the actual value of the Segal properties and the $3,000,000 the directors will pay, being approximately $1,000,000, will be covered by the issuance of preferred stock to large depositors who are creditors in that sum. The board of the institution is to be reorganized by the retirement at their own desire, it is understood, of Messrs. Gunkin, Porter and Henry, and the places thus vacated are to be filled by the choice of those to whom preferred stock will be issued.

NEW SAFEGUARDS PROPOSED.

A new set of bylaws, under which the most drastic safeguards will be thrown about the funds of the institution, are to be adopted. This plan of reorganization was matured and finally agreed to at what was virtually an all-day session of the Board of Directors, held today in the board room. The plan was submitted by Receiver Earle, and was promptly agreed to by the directors upon the one condition that Earle accept the presidency of the institution. To this he demurred, and asked time to consider.

Tonight, Earle said that the bank would be opened in a few days, under the above plan of reorganization.

TOKIO TROLLEY CARS MOBBED.

THOUSANDS, ANGRY AT RATE OF FARE, THROW STONES.

Violence Spreads Throughout Entire Capital and Several Stations Are Destroyed—Many Policemen and Passengers Wounded—Ninety-two Arrests Made.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, Sept. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tokio was the scene of a serious disturbance last night owing to agitation against the rate charged on street cars.

Thousands of angry people thronged the main streets, stoning cars and trying in vain to upset them. Some of the more adventurous members of the mobs climbed to he roofs of the cars and broke trolley poles.

The violence spread throughout the whole capital and several street car stations were destroyed. Many policemen and passengers were wounded. Ninety-two people were arrested for taking part in the disturbance.

The street railway lines of Tokio run through the principal thoroughfares of the city, between the midway station and the parks. The cars are, for the most part, used by the common people, well-to-do citizens preferring other modes of conveyance. Most of the lines are now operated by electricity.

AID RENDERED REPAID IN WILL.

W. P. HARRIS LEFT FORTUNE BY PHYSICIAN.

Dr. Albert B. Cummings of Pittsburgh Attended by Guest of Hotel for One Night and Leaves Entire Wealth to "Nurse" Who Afterward Compromises With Relatives.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A little kindness thrown upon the waters by W. P. Harris of Denver has returned, after seven years, with a tag worth $13,500 attached. Harris will receive this amount from the estate of Dr. Albert B. Cummings of Pittsburgh.

Harris is a city salesman for the Merchants' Biscuit Company. He was in a hotel in Cresson, Pa., in 1899, and Dr. Cummings was a guest in a room opposite. During the night the doctor became very ill of cramps, and Harris attended him until he was relieved. They met but once afterward at dinner the following day.

Pittsburgh lawyers notified Harris of the death of Dr. Cummings, and conveyed the information that Harris was heir to the entire estate of the physician, valued at from $50,000 to $75,000. Later a brother and two sisters of the man who made the strange will began contest proceedings.

After an investigation Harris decided upon accepting a compromise in consideration of the withdrawal of the suit, and by agreement with the heirs-at-law, will receive $13,500.

L. B. Fink, his room-mate the night the services were rendered the physician, and still Harris's associate in business, was left $1000. He compromised for $250.

GOLDFIELD ANARCHISTS HAVE QUIT FIGHTING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All the fight has oozed out of the wild-eyed anarchists of the I.W.W. who swore no more copies of the boycotted Daily Sun should be sold on the streets of Goldfield.

When the printers and pressmen of that paper were out today, selling papers, a crowd of Goldfield's leading citizens assembled around the Nixon Block and bought papers until the streets fluttered with them.

"Diamondfield Jack" Davis marched down the middle of the street, and kept up with the news-sellers to see that no one molested them. He looked very bulgy in the region of his hip pockets.

"DAGO" DROPS BANNER.

At sight of him, the "Dago" who has been carrying the boycott banner for a week through the streets, dropped it in the gutter, and ran in terror. The Times man, who walked with Davis, nervously requested him to take a good look before he began shooting.

"JACK," HE KNOWS.

"It's never a good idea to shoot indiscriminately," said the hero of many gun plays. "I always know who I am shooting at."

As he passed along, the I.W.W. watched him with respect that amounted to awe. No one could call scab or offer impolite words to the newsboys whom they tried to mob day before yesterday.

UNIONS DENOUNCE I.W.W.

The I.W.W. is completely cowed, and is meek as a cottontail rabbit. Carpenters, painters, and other building trades unions have passed resolutions condemning the I.W.W. There will probably be more trouble, however.

Many of the miners are I.W.W. men, and the Miners Union seems to be affiliated with the I.W.W. in this camp. The mineowners themselves do not know the extent of that alliance.

ORGANIZER SMITH ADMITS.

Organizer Smith, the local trouble-breeder for the I.W.W. has admitted that the Goldfield mines eventually will be involved as many of the I.W.W. miners came here from Colorado, deported from Cripple Creek.

Mining stocks, which suddenly slumped here at the beginning of this trouble, were firmer yesterday owing to an agreement between the mine owners and the business men here to fight the I.W.W. boycott.

CHOICE OF LEADERS.

Gillett and Porter Nominated.

One Ballot Sufficient to Decide Contest for Head of the Ticket.

Ruef Swings in Behind the Nominee and Hayes Does Not Run.

Curry, Colgan and Webb Renominated—Kingsbury Surveyor-General.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I am especially grateful to Los Angeles and all of Southern California for the staunch support given me in my campaign for the nomination," said Congressman Gillett tonight. "The people of the southern section were among the very first to give me encouragement, and I wish, through The Times, to extend to them my heartfelt thanks for this magnificent tribute of their trust. I hope to prove by my acts that I am worthy of the confidence thus reposed in me by the good people of the south."

The nomination of Gillett and Porter to head the Republican State ticket is believed by the strongest men in the convention just closed to be the best ever made by the party. Confidence is felt that the ticket will poll a Republican vote greater than ever registered before in the State.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Santa Cruz tonight is like a bottle of champagne with the fizz gone. All the corked-up enthusiasm of weeks of campaigning popped out within the space of a few brief minutes, today, after the stopper was pulled at the convention by Walter Parker, the Southern Pacific boss.

The Republicans of the State have met, acted and adjourned within a time limit of twenty-eight hours. The speed of the celebrated Los Angeles county convention has been surpassed.

ONE-SIDE "FIGHTS."

Aside from the contest over Governor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Clerk of the Supreme Court, the surface of the convention was as tranquil as a summer sea. Even these turned out to be so one-sided at the last minute that no evidence of a fight was discernible on the floor of the convention.

ATTORNEY ACKERMAN
of San Francisco, the Beau Brummel of the convention.

Back of the scenes yesterday and this morning, however, the situation was different. Despite Walter Parker's confidence in being able to carry his slate through, he had to cope with some puzzling complications, and it was not until a few minutes before the opening session, today, that it was known that all his plans would carry.

RUEF MUCH BATTERED.

Abe Ruef and his San Francisco cohorts came out of the convention very much battered. They failed to dictate the nomination of any principal candidate. Their plan to stir sentiment for Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco, by having that official appear on the platform at a tense moment, fell down miserably. Schmitz hardly got a "hand."

Ruef grew desperate toward the close. "Big frog" in his own puddle, he found himself but a tadpole in State politics. Some of his beer-slinging followers created the only serious disturbance of the session.

Ruef flickered out of the convention like a candle in a gust of wind. He failed to prove to his gang that he was the stuff he pretended to be.

ONE SHOWS HIS TEETH.

"Billy" Bell, who keeps a saloon in the burned district of San Francisco, and who came as a Ruef delegate, showed his ugly teeth toward the close of the afternoon session, when candidates for Superintendent of Public Instruction were being nominated. He deliberately insulted the chairman of the convention, and by main force was prevented from stepping on the platform with his chief. Bell's grievance was against the Los Angeles delegation in particular. His ugly display was a reflection of the bitter feeling of all the Ruefites.

J. N. GILLETT,
the next Governor of California, nominated yesterday. Convention photograph taken for The Times at Santa Cruz.

Ruef, he was there.

RUEF IN BAND WAGON.

Ruef climbed into the "band wagon" at the last minute. By doing so, he had the empty honor of appearing to name Shannon for Public Printer. He is said also to have secured a little patronage on the San Francisco water front.

WARREN R. PORTER,
nominated for Lieutenant-Governor by the Republican State convention at Santa Cruz.

LOS ANGELES LUCKY.

Los Angeles got all that was slated for it, Kingsbury for Surveyor-General and Theodore Summerland for Railroad Commissioner and Justice Allen for return to his place on the Appellate bench. Superior Judge Wilbur made a good showing in the race for a seat on

CALHOUN'S DEFIANCE.

Will Not Concede "Closed Shop."

President of United Railroads Expects Renewal of Fight With Union.

Says He'll Sink His Last Dollar Before He Will Yield to Demands.

Present Strike Issues Nearing a Settlement — Carmen Giving Up Cards.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While cars ran, uninterrupted, over the system of the United Railroads today, with an all-night "owl" service, and while the public breathes freely in the belief that stagnation of traffic is at an end, all is not peaceful in the strike situation. The serpent of unionism has been sorely stunned by the blow at the hands of President Calhoun of the United Railroads, but it is preparing to coil again for another strike. While the union unconditionally surrendered, its attitude today is more bitter, its venom is more poisonous than ever before, and unless this snake is crushed and trodden under foot, the people of San Francisco will again become footsore.

The matter of hours and wages will be satisfactorily settled, probably within twenty-four hours, and perhaps even without arbitration, as Calhoun returned from the East ready to offer platform men $3 for a ten-hour day, and had the unreasonable union been willing to wait a matter of twelve hours, there would never have been any strike.

"CLOSED SHOP" ISSUE.

Having been treated fairly by the company on the matter of hours and wages, the union now will plot for the "closed shop." Over this question, which is the underlying motive of the snarls of the Carmen's Union, will come the real fight. How soon it will invade the peace of San Francisco no one can say, but that it will come there can be no question.

CALHOUN FORESEES TROUBLE.

President Calhoun realizes this, and spoke on the subject to a Times reporter yesterday, saying:

"There is no peace in the hearts of these strikers, they are not happy unless they are making trouble. Their attitude is ever threatening, and I know that they will try to force the closed shop.

"This strike, which is ended, I fought and defeated for a principle that underlies true Americanism, that these men cannot dictate to a corporation or to individuals.

"Labor organizations must keep their solemn contracts, or be denied recognition and be tabbed untrustworthy. I fought that principle, and if they attempt to force the closed shop on me, they will find that they are attacking a principle still more dear to me, and they will be beaten worse than they were before.

"When a man comes to you with a revolver in one hand and a brickbat in the other and demands that you shall not employ this man or that, it is time to fight.

PROMISES A KNOCK-OUT.

"If this union wants a fight on the matter of closed shop it will meet with a knock-out blow. I would rather see every dollar that I have in this world sunk to the bottom of Hades and every drop of blood in my body drained from my veins than yield to a demand that I shall employ none but union men.

"This is the poison in the life of San Francisco. That poison must be killed here before it spreads through the fiber of the whole State.

"DR." FARLEY'S CURE.

"I believe in the case of the United Railroads that I have an anti-toxine for it, the cars of that system are running, and they will never stop again, if I have to feed and house an army of strike-breakers for all time. Farley is a good physician for this sickness."

CARMEN TALK SECESSION.

Dissatisfaction among carmen over the outcome of the strike manifested itself last night after the announcement that the union should accept the company's terms, after the union had declared for ten days that, under no consideration, would the strikers return to work before the demands had been granted, or as long as a non-union man was in the employ of the company.

Secession from the union was the attitude of many carmen. The question was repeatedly asked what consideration had the company made in answer to the men's demands. The United Railroads secured what they had asked, the malcontents asserted, whereas the men themselves had nothing to show for striking except the loss of many days' pay.

TORE DOWN NOTICES.

A manifestation of the displeasure among the platform men was the tearing down of notices posted in the Turk and Fillmore streets barn by Secretary Bowling of the union, declaring the strike to be off.

The act was not done openly, or those concerned in it were sufficiently numerous to surround men who actually removed the paper, but within half an hour after Bowling, who went from barn to barn in an automobile pasting up typewritten slips, had fastened two of the notices to the wall of a house that has been the center of the disturbances, they were removed. The significance of this cannot be overlooked. Over a dozen of men from Oak and Broderick streets barn found the decision so repugnant to them that it is declared they went to union headquarters to secure cards of withdrawal, but were unable to get them.

WISHING TO RESIGN.

Almost without exception, it is asserted by some of the men, those of the Twenty-ninth and Mission streets barn wished to resign from the organization, and the conditions are said to be much the same at the Kentucky-street barn. This element intends to force the union to demand the scalps of all "scabs."

Among other workers whose unions are associated with the affiliation whose action yesterday resulted in the declaration of peace, the same sentiment is prevalent. This is especially true of the linemen, whose organization, the Electrical Workers Union, was first to strike against the company two months ago. The linemen have been insolently bitter throughout the entire affair, and they openly expressed their dislike of the result.

T. E. Zant, organizer of the Track Workers Union, last night coerced union linemen into an attempt to renew the strike by inciting a riot.

FIGHTING REPAIR WORKERS.

Just before midnight a wire on the Divisadero-street line fell to the ground, endangering traffic on the street. A repair tower wagon, manned with non-union linemen and bearing armed guards, was started from the Turk and Fillmore streets barn to make the urgent repairs.

Union sympathizers and a mob of union electricians who had been stationed for the purpose of preventing the working of "scabs" attempted to drag the men from the wagon. Bricks and stones were hurled at the heads of the men in the vehicle and car No. 1353 of the Fillmore street line was hailed. The motorman and conductor were forced to desert.

Motorman W. L. Fields and Conductor T. Reynolds were both struck with brickbats and were cut about the head before they could fight their way to safety in the carbarn.

RIOT CALL TURNED IN.

Fighting became general, and a riot call was turned in to the police station. Corporal Morrissey and ten men hurried from the O'Farrell-street station, and charged the mob with their night sticks and forced it to disperse at the point of revolvers.

CORNELIUS "STANDS IN."

President Cornelius had been sent for, and upon his arrival he addressed the men and said, as the need of repairs was urgent and as no union linemen had reported for duty, he "guessed the union had better allow the 'scabs' to work this time."

Cornelius is the man who asks the president of a corporation representing millions of dollars to arbitrate with him and his faithless union. Tonight Cornelius said to a Times reporter:

"Well, I cannot say that the strike is altogether settled. If the company gives the men all that they ask for, I cannot see any reason why there should be any trouble. But we are going to have the closed shop before we get through with this fight. The men will run the cars per agreement they have entered into with the company until such time as the question of wages and hours may be determined. What the union will do then I cannot say."

Having violated their contract once and having insulted Calhoun by refusing to wait a day to treat with him, this is the union that is bidding for the support of public sentiment in San Francisco.

CITIZENS TO BLAME.

"The merchants and citizens of this city are to blame for the labor conditions here," said a prominent citizen of the city today. "I was asked to be a member of the Citizens' Committee appointed to attempt a settlement of the strike. I refused to serve on that committee because I knew that the motive back of the pressure which the committee brought to bear on President Calhoun to get him to recognize the union was purely a mercenary motive.

"There is the fault, there is the mistake that San Francisco people are making today. In their greed for dollars and in their haste to have the city rebuilt, these men, moulders of public opinion, are willing to be bulldozed by the unions, and allow themselves to be robbed and trodden upon.

"We need more men here like Calhoun. The people here must awake to the justice of the situation, or San Francisco will suffer for years to come, and her upbuilding will prove an industrial failure and can never be a commercial success."

PUGS' BATTLE CAUSES RIOT.

Blood Flows in Race Affray in Lynn, Mass., Over the Gans-Nelson Prize Fight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LYNN (Mass.) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Blood flower freely at Pikes Corner, Central Square, yesterday, as the result of the Nelson-Gans fight. A race riot was started between John Gaffney, a shoe-cutter, and several white companions and a number of negroes, who overheard them discussing the Goldfield bout.

Friends of both sides rallied to the fray, and it became a battle with razors and shoe knives. Later officers appeared and clubbed right and left and arrested the negroes who started the trouble.

One white man had eleven stitches taken in his back where he was slashed with a razor.

HEARST WAYS GET A ROAST.

Brooklyn "Times" Scores His "Personal Bossism."

Newspaper Trust Used to "Destroy Reputations."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Goes for Sam Gompers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most flagrant instance of personal bossism and shameless "machine" discipline within the memory of the oldest politician in New York State is furnished by the campaign methods now practiced by William R. Hearst, says the Brooklyn Times. The general public is very poorly informed about these methods, which, nevertheless, are carried on so openly that all men actually in politics, including the leaders of the Independence League and the Municipal Ownership League, are familiar with them.

IN HIS PAY.

The regular officers of the Independence League's State Committee are men who have for months, and in some cases years, been in the pay of Hearst. He pays the rent of the Independence League headquarters in the Gilsey House, Manhattan, where these officials are managing his campaign. Meanwhile the Independence League plans to hold its "free and untrammeled" convention next week.

"The untrammeled," says the paper, "will find a cut-and-dried programme, consisting of the nomination of Hearst for Governor and whoever Hearst personally selects for other positions on the State ticket. This programme will be jammed through by Max F. Ihmsen and his lieutenants.

IHMSEN AND THE "WAD."

"Two years ago Ihmsen first became nationally prominent as Hearst's political manager. He traveled through the Southern States with a large wad of money, organizing Hearst clubs. Each club of a hundred or so members was permitted to peal a few yellow backs off the wad for 'campaign funds.'

NEWSPAPER WEAPONS.

"Hearst is the proprietor of the newspaper trust. He owns more newspapers in the United States than any other man, and controls more in this State than any other man or corporation. He has in his newspapers a tremendous machine for the destruction of reputations. It is used principally in destruction. It is the destructive part of his political organization, while the Independence League is the constructive part."

SIGNS OF A SPLIT.

Signs of serious differences among the leaders of the Independence League become more pronounced as the league's State convention approaches. One faction, composed chiefly of paid representatives of William R. Hearst, desires to have the convention nominate only Hearst, and then have the nominations for the rest of the State ticket referred to a committee for action, after the Buffalo convention. Other factions from the interior of the State are equally determined to place the entire State ticket in the field at the convention in Carnegie Hall next week.

"UNCLE JOE'S" SENTIMENTS.

GOMPERS IS UNAMERICAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LEWISTON (Me.) Sept. 6.—In his speech here last night Speaker Cannon, criticising Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in the course of his speech:

"Mr. Gompers has a grievance against your Representative, as he has against President Roosevelt, myself and forty or fifty men in public life. We refused to disregard our oaths of office and enact legislation which Mr. Gompers demands. He is aggrieved because Congress suspended the eight-hour law on the Panama Canal zone, as it applied to alien labor, not American labor. He is aggrieved because the President has authorized the employment of Chinese labor in digging the canal because American labor cannot and will not go there. He is aggrieved because Congress would not enact an anti-injunction law which he approved and declared constitutional.

"Some men among them, your Representative and myself, did not believe the proposed law either constitutional or fair to all the people. It proposed to repeal the common law, which is older than our government and which by legislation and the decision of the courts, which, under the Constitution, interpret the law, have from the beginning exercised the power to protect property from destruction and damage where damage would be irreparable.

"Mr. Gompers has black-listed us because Congress failed to pass that law. He has read us out of civilization, but, speaking for myself, I had rather quit public life now and at the age of 70 quit forever, true to the civilization we have developed, true to the distribution of powers to the legislative, executive and judicial which act as a check on each other, than to retain public office at such a sacrifice of my own self respect and such terrible cost to the country.

"While God gives me life to live I will not by any act take from any citizen, be he rich or poor, union or non-union man, farmer or mechanic, shoemaker or paper hanger, doctor or lawyer, any right which right is not given to another. And I believe that by the grace of God and the intelligence and the patriotism of the people in this district the laboring men, Republican and Democratic, who are for law and order, will put their feet on Mr. Gompers's proposition because it is un-republican and un-democratic and un-American."

"UNCLE JOE" IN ROCKLAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROCKLAND (Me.) Sept. 6.—"Stranger things might happen than Roosevelt being President until 1912," said Speaker Cannon, in the course of a speech advocating the reelection of Representative Littlefield here tonight. The statement was made after Cannon had discussed recent utterances of Bryan.

The Speaker had a severe chill while coming here from Lewiston today, and kept to his bed after his arrival until the early evening. He recovered sufficiently to fulfill his engagement, and made a vigorous speech. When Cannon left the hall he exhibited signs of weakness, but expressed the belief that a night's rest would restore his normal condition.

This is Littlefield's home city, and Cannon's audience cheered his reference to Littlefield loudly.

WHY HE "BUTTED IN."

At the opening of his address, the Speaker took up a question which had been handed to him by a representative of a local newspaper, asking why he had "butted in" in the Maine campaign. Cannon said he had "butted in" because he is interested in the welfare of Congressman Littlefield, whose reelection as an advocate of protection was of as much interest to the people of Illinois as to those of Maine.

AERONAUT IN PERIL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OCONTO (Wis.) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Mattersay, a Chicago aeronaut who made an ascension in airship Columbia from the fairgrounds, is believed at midnight to be lost in Lake Michigan, or Green Bay. As soon as the airship rose, it was evident that something was wrong. Mattersay made desperate efforts to head his machine into the wind, but in vain. When last reported, the airship was 14 miles north of Oconto, dangerously near the lake shore, and with the wind steadily carrying the Columbia toward the waters of Green Bay.

Bryan will tomorrow make a short address at the State Fairgrounds and in the evening will talk to his neighbors at Fairview.

September 10 Bryan will leave for a tour of nearly twenty days in the South, Central and Southeastern States. He will be home about the first of October.

SAILS FAR TO DIE ON GIRL'S GRAVE.

ITALIAN GOING HOME TO KEEP A SUICIDE PACT.

Denied Loved One's Hand, He Came to America to Prosper and Overcome Parents' Objection, but in Vain. Brother Kneels on Pier and Frantically Tries to Dissuade Him.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—A dramatic scene occurred on the French line pier today just before the steamer La Provence left for Havre.

Among the passengers was Luigi Contanrini, 34 years of age, who was bound for his old home in Locco, provence of Lombardi, Italy, to keep a suicide pact to die on his sweetheart's grave.

Antonio Contanrini, a brother of the passenger, created the scene and afterwards told his brother's story. He said that Luigi became betrothed to Josephine Ballatini, a girl in his home town. The parents opposed the match, preferring a wealthier suitor, and Luigi, with his sweetheart's promise to keep faith, came to this country to seek his fortune.

Luigi established himself at Beaver, Oklahoma, where he secured a farm. He wrote for Josephine to come, but she replied that she could not; that her parents forbade it, and that she intended to commit suicide and that she expected Luigi to join her in death. News that the girl had carried out her purpose followed and Luigi sold his property at Beaver and started for Italy to kill himself on the girl's grave.

The brother, Antonio, lives in Paterson, N. J., and Luigi went to him, told him the story and bade him farewell. Entreaties failed to swerve the man and on the pier Antonio made his final appeal. He clung to his brother passionately imploring him not to go. Luigi shook his head. Antonio then half dragged his brother to an open space on the pier, fell on his knees, raised a crucifix aloft and renewed his pleadings. Luigi could not be moved and finally, turning his back on Antonio, he went on board the vessel.

When the steamer sailed Luigi stood at the rail watching Antonio, who had again fallen to his knees and with outstretched arms was beckoning to his brother.

GEOGRAPHY WAS STUDIED.

Geography ruled in the naming of Justice Wheaton A. Gray retired to private life because the counties from Tulare, his home county, was pledged to Pardee for Governor and could not be used in trade while San Diego was willing to back up anything to name Victor E. Shaw for the Appellate Court.

"PHIL" STANTON SUBSIDES.

One of the saddest figures in the convention during the balloting was Delegate "Phil" Stanton of Los Angeles, Gov. Pardee's "political manager in Southern California." With the Pardeeites, Stanton had given up hope long before, but he felt the thrill when the roll was called on nominations for Governor.

Then he saw the boasted "thirty votes or more from Los Angeles" melt away to ten.

ing for Pardee. The result of which California assembly districts gave votes:' Sixty-fourth, Gillett, 8; Pardee, 8; Sixty-sixth, Gillett, 8; Sixty-seventh, Gillett, 12, Pardee, 1; Sixty-eighth, Gillett, 10, Pardee, 3; Sixty-ninth, Gillett 17; Seventieth, Gillett, 13, Pardee 1; Seventy-first, Gillett 9, Pardee 5; Seventy-second, Gillett 13; Seventy-third, Gillett 11, Pardee 1; Seventy-fourth, Gillett 12, Pardee 4; Seventy-fifth, Gillett 14 Pardee 1; Seventy-sixth, Gillett 12, Pardee 4; Seventy-seventh, Gillett 10, Pardee 1; Seventy-eighth, Gillett 16, Pardee 1; Seventy-ninth, Gillett 16; Eightieth, Gillett 7.

Thus Gillett received 197 votes in Southern California to 16 for Pardee. This was admitted on all sides that Southern California's solid stand nominated Gillett, and overcame the influence of the courtly, crafty and unscrupulous "gutter boss" of San Francisco, who, like a vulture, stood ready to tear the Republican party to pieces to gratify his own desire for political power.

ROUT OF KIRK.

One of the gratifying features of the convention was the utter rout of Hiram J. Kirk as a candidate for reelection as Superintendent of Public Instruction. Exposure in The Times of the shady dealings of the State Text-book Commission with the Kirk ring put the cover on Kirk's political coffin. The name failed to come before the convention, despite the efforts of a number of women and other lobbyists, and Riverside would have cast a much higher vote had it not been that an appeal to gallantry was made in favor of Miss Kate Ames, Kirk's opponent, and the first woman to receive a Republican nomination to office in California. Ruef's disciples voted for Miss Ames in order to show its chagrin at defeat in the convention.

ORATORY UNLOOSED.

Torrid oratory was unloosed when the convention had rushed through the adoption of the committee reports and nominations were in order. Although no announcement has been made, it was known that the friends of Hayes and Porter would not be satisfied for first place. John A. Britton of Alameda county made the speech placing Gov. Pardee in nomination. Britton was eloquent, but his speech indicated that he knew the game was up. He was cheered, even as he made a plea for cheers for a defeated prize fighter, but the huzzas gave way to wild calls for George Knight, who had come to nominate Gillett.

KNIGHT PAINTS THE ROOF.

Knight did some word painting that raised the roof of the big tent a pale blue. The roll of the breakers on one of the Southern Pacific trains on which he was drowned by the wings of the eagle, and when the climax at last was stilled, there was a tumult of applause that settled beyond question the intention of the

GILLETT ALMOST GOT AWAY.

Gillett was afforded by northern delegates, later in the day, when they were on the platform to name favorite sons. They reached the empyrean heights of oratory, and at times their voices soared so high that there was little chance of pulling it back to earth. It was a brave day for Gillett workers, and they rose nobly to the occasion.

SENATOR CHEWED GUM.

Senator Flint, who had sat on a front bench on the convention floor, chewing gum during the balloting was in progress, was one of the first to greet his colleague Gillett emerged from the fight a party's nominee. The Governor shook hands with the Congressman, and said how glad he was that the northern man had won.

Tugging at Gillett's left and unworked hand was the Congressman's 5-year-old son, James N., Jr., He was hungry. The balloting had lasted far beyond luncheon hour.

"TIME FOR LUNCH."

"Aren't you glad papa's nominated?" some one asked him.

"Well, I think it's about time for lunch," he answered, and he pulled at the arm of his father until the big nominee finally capitulated, and headed for the Sea Beach Hotel.

SUMMERLAND SLIDES IN.

During the afternoon recess, the delegates to the Third Railroad District convention assembled, according to notice given by Chairman McKinley of the general convention, and quickly nominated Theodore Summerland for Railroad Commissioner, to succeed Orrin S. Henderson of Stockton. The vote was little short of unanimous. Henderson appeared a little later, declaring snap judgment had been taken. He said the entire delegation was not represented. An hour or so later, the delegates reconvened, and on roll call the vote stood 346 for Summerland and 95 for Henderson.

FOR APPELLATE JUDGES.

Five candidates were presented to the Second Appellate District convention, in which the Los Angeles delegation held the majority of votes. Senator Hahn of Pasadena presided. It was decided that the candidate receiving the highest vote should be presiding justice of the court. The vote was as follows: Justice M. T. Allen, Los Angeles, 233; Superior Judge Taggart, Santa Barbara, 203; Victor E. Shaw, San Diego, 168; Justice Wheaton A. Gray, Tulare, 62; Superior Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, Los Angeles, 42. The first three named, accordingly, are the nominees, Justice Allen now being a candidate for presiding justice.

There were 226 votes in the convention, and 119 were required for a choice. Political expediency alone was given as the reason for the defeat of Justice Gray.

FOUR INCUMBENTS SAFE.

Of the eleven State officials nominated by the general convention, four are incumbents of the offices to which they again aspire. They are Secretary of State Curry, Controller E. P. Colgan, Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb and W. W. Shannon, Superintendent of State Printing.

ENGLEBRIGHT FOR CONGRESS.

After the convention had adjourned, delegates from the First Congress District nominated W. F. Englebright of Nevada county to succeed Gillett in Congress.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James N. Gillett, Republican nominee for Governor, is no stranger in the political life of California. Twice a State Senator, who served with honor to himself and to his constituents, and for two terms a valuable member of the United States Congress, he has, for eight years, been a servant of the people of the State of which he is destined to be Governor, while for six years before going to Sacramento he was City Attorney of Eureka, Humboldt county, his home place.

A REAL MAN.

Magnetic, frank, cheerful, independent, intelligent, he seems possessed of all the homely virtues that go to make up a real man.

They call him "Jim" in Humboldt county.

REPUBLICAN POLICIES TOLD IN PLATFORM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 6.—Following is the platform adopted by the Republican State Convention today:

"The Republican party of the State of California, in convention assembled, does now declare the principles of policy upon which it stands and proposes to ask for its candidates the suffrages of the people:

"In this fiftieth year of its existence as a political organization, the Republican party regards with satisfaction that during the greater part of that period it has been entrusted with the control of affairs of government, that fifty years of such control have been half a century of triumph, of glory and of progress of the republic, and that now the United States stands the richest and most powerful nation the world has ever known. And because of the fact that the Republican party has carried the nation through civil and foreign wars, through financial depression and through all manner of commotion, and brought it to its present high state of prosperity, it confidently appeals to the public for a continuance of approval and support; and, therefore, be it resolved:

"That we reaffirm our allegiance, loyalty and support to the doctrines and principles of the party, as set forth and declared in the national platform of 1904.

WELFARE OF THE PEOPLE.

"That we recognize that the people of the United States at the last Presidential election committed to the Republican party, by unprecedented majorities, the entire control of the government and its affairs, and we challenge the naming of any particular in which this trust has not been well and faithfully performed.

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS.

"The first session of the Fifty-ninth Congress will go down in history as one of the most remarkable meetings of that body. It was called to meet many questions of the great possible importance, and it met them all with the single purpose of enacting that legislation which was best suited for the interests of the whole people. While to the members of the Fifty-ninth Congress we can and do award all credit for their commendable efforts in support of measures tending to the advancement of the interests of the people, still we must acknowledge that their efforts were at all times encouraged, supported and sustained by that great living exponent of American manhood and American statesmanship, Theodore Roosevelt.

PROSPERITY ON DEPOSIT.

"That the credit of its banking institutions is sustained without question, and that depositors are increasing beyond all expectation, showing as we may be rightfully allowed to claim, great and healthful prosperity in the whole country owing to the wise administration of government under the beneficent policy of the Republican party.

RELIEF OF SAN FRANCISCO.

"We favor the enactment by Congress of an amendment to the existing tariff law providing, as a measure of relief in San Francisco, that, for the period of three years, all building material may be admitted into that port free of duty.

"We pledge our members of the Legislature to pass such legislation, both remedial and by appropriation, as may be necessary for the relief of San Francisco under its present conditions.

EXCLUSION OF ASIATICS.

"We cannot but feel in the continued influx to the Pacific Coast of Japanese and other Asiatic laborers that the people of this State are being confronted with a greater evil than that which induced them to demand and secure the passage of the so-called Chinese exclusion law, and we now urge our Senators and pledge our candidates for Representatives in Congress to favor, support, and by all honorable means to secure the passage of laws similar to the present Chinese Exclusion Bill, providing for the exclusion of Japanese and all other kinds of Asiatic labor. We further insist upon the continuance and rigid enforcement of the existing Chinese exclusion acts, and we insist that the present Asiatic people of our insular possessions shall not be permitted to come into the United States proper.

TENEMENT-HOUSE LAW.

"We favor the adoption of a tenement-house law that will secure the necessities of light, air and sanitary convenience to every inhabitant and prevent the formation in our cities of congested districts, dangerous to the life and health of the working people.

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

"We recognize the rights of labor and of capital. We know that organized labor is the true and only way in which the rights of labor can be safeguarded and protected. Still, it must always be recognized that the employer has rights which must not and cannot be ignored, and in this view the only reasonable way whereby to adjust unfortunate differences between employer and employé is by arbitration, and we urge upon our representatives in the Legislature to pass such laws as will bring about arbitration whenever employer and employé differ as to the terms of employment.

INSURANCE LAWS.

"The developments in San Francisco since the great disaster in April have demonstrated the necessity for the revision of our present insurance laws and the adoption of legislation to secure to policy holders a proper indemnity in the event of loss. We therefore favor the passage by the Legislature of California of an act requiring that foreign insurance companies shall have a substantial and sufficient deposit within the State of California as a condition precent to the issuance of a license to them for the transaction of business within the State, and that an act shall be passed, prescribing a standard form of fire-insurance policy which shall be requisite to validate an insurance contract, and which shall fully protect all rights of the insured.

ADDITIONAL FEDERAL JUDGE.

"We hereby recommend that our representatives in Congress do use all endeavor to secure the appointment of an additional Federal judge for the Northern District of California, to the end, among other reasons, that many insurance cases there pending may be determined within a reasonable time.

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW.

"We favor the passage by the Legislature of a direct primary election law, providing for the nomination of all public officers by the people at primary elections.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT INDUSTRY.

"We recognize the great importance of the fruit industry of California, and we insist upon the enactment of such laws as will protect fruit growers and shippers against exorbitant freight rates and inefficient service on the part of the railroads.

"We favor an amendment to our State commerce act, so as to confer upon all shippers to right to select the route of all shipments of products of California from the point of shipment to the point of destination.

ENLARGE MARE ISLAND.

"As heretofore, the Republican party of this State insists that some substantial portion of the constructive work of the navy shall be performed in government ship yards, and to that end insists that our representatives in Congress shall endeavor to secure an adequate appropriation for the enlargement of the plant at Mare Island.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

"We sympathize with the efforts of organized labor to obtain the universal adoption of an eight-hour law on all government work.

HYGIENE AND SANITATION.

"We advocate the continuation of the work of the State in its efforts to improve the hygienic and sanitary conditions of the dairies and factories from which dairy products are placed on the markets of the State, to the end that such products may be wholesome and unadulterated, and have the confidence of the consuming public.

NAVIGABLE STREAMS.

"We favor the improvement of the navigability of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers and other navigable streams of the State, and pledge our candidates to use their utmost exertions to secure this result and obtain the coöperation of the Federal government with that of the State in continuing this work.

ECONOMY IN ATTACHES.

"The nominess of the Republican party in the several Senatorial and Assembly districts are hereby pledged, if elected, to vote at the legislative session to convene in January, 1907, to cut off every unnecessary contingent expense of the Legislature and every employé and attaché not absolutely necessary to conduct the business of the session.

"In conclusion, we point with satisfaction and pride to the record of the Republican party in California, and we appeal with confidence to the voters of the State, particularly the young generation, to stand with us in keeping California in the Republican line. Every material and economic interest, and every sentimental and political consideration is identified with and fostered and upheld by the principles and policies of the great national organization of which the Republican party of California is an integral part."

MANIAC MOTHER BEHEADS BABES.

FIT OF TEMPORARY INSANITY HAS HIDEOUS CONSEQUENCE.

After Beating Two Children Into Insensibility With Club, an Ohio Woman Finishes Deed With Butcher Knife, Then Goes to Neighbors, Who Make Terrible Discovery.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a fit of temporary insanity, this morning, Mrs. Henry Knippen of Cloverdale, near this city, beat her two little children into unconsciousness with a large club and then, in a fiendish manner, completely severed their heads from their bodies with a butcher knife. The children were three years and one and one-half years of age, respectively.

With hands stained from the blood of the murdered babes, with blood spots all over her clothing, the maniac mother ran to the house of a neighbor, acting in a demoniacal manner. Several neighbors went to the Knippen home and there beheld a most ghastly sight. The two heads of the murdered children were lying close together in a pool of blood, as were also the bodies, which lay a few feet away. In the center of the room was the blood-stained weapon which was used to accomplish the horrible deed. The woman recently was discharged from the Toledo State Hospital for the Insane.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Modifies Time of Weber Hanging.

AUBURN, Sept. 6.—Judge Prewett has modified the time of the Weber hanging, so that it will be between 11 and 12 o'clock next Wednesday. The original order made it between 11 and 1 o'clock, at or about the hour of noon. This is at the request of the warden. It is not believed here that the Governor will interfere.

Body Secreted Under Shed.

JAMESTOWN (N. Y.) Sept. 6.—The body of D. A. Wile was found last night secreted under a woodshed at his home in Ripley. The skull was crushed and he had apparently been dead several days. There was a trail of blood leading from the sitting-room to the kitchen and thence to the woodshed. Wile was last seen Sunday at Erie, where his wife had been for several days.

Public Official Alleged Thief.

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Warrants are out for the arrest of John Kaiser, former deputy sheriff and lately candidate for District Clerk of this county, charging him with the theft of over $500. The charge is made that Kaiser abstracted money from the safe in the Sheriff's office, August 9. The accused is one of the best known men in the country, and has held official positions here since he was a boy.

Falls Dead from Fist Blow.

DES MOINES (Iowa) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chief of Police Myron Tuller of Fort Dodge struck George Dugan in the face with his fist today, and the latter ran several steps and fell dead. The affair took place on the county fair grounds at Manson. Yells for a rope were heard on all sides.

BUSIEST SKATERS IN THE BIG POLITICAL RINK AT SANTA CRUZ.

CHOICE OF LEADERS.

of something under thirty years trudged into the thick timber of the county, some twenty years ago, and swung an ax in the lumber camps with the rest of them, the loggers knew him only as "Jim." Rough loggers in those days didn't take a stranger to their bosoms and use his familiar cognomen, unless he was of the right stuff.

When he had earned enough at chopping logs to buy a library, Gillett got a few of the most-needed law books and began the practice of law, which he had studied before leaving his boyhood home at Sparta, Wis.

Lawyer Gillett to strangers was "Jim" at home. When the Eureka people made him City Attorney, he still was "Jim." On the floor of the Senate at Sacramento, a leader among the lawmakers of his party, he was "Jim." In Washington, now a member of Congress, his associates on the different important committees saluted Congressman Gillett, but they linked their arms with those of "Jim."

RUEF DISAPPOINTED.

It was not hard at this convention to learn the reason of this great love for "Jim" Gillett. Throughout a bitter fight for political supremacy there never was the slightest indication that Gillett cherished any resentment against the men who were trying hardest to defeat him. If it be true that the Southern Pacific Railroad and the Republican organization, working hand in hand, went up to Humboldt and chose this man among all others as the one who might be most careless of the welfare of the people and most careful of the "machine" interests, it must be conceded at first blush that a whole lot of good people have been most distressingly fooled. Four years as Governor makes a big difference in the popular opinion. When the campaign of 1910 comes on, there may be a change in sentiment, but it looks tonight as if Abe Ruef was about the only one displeased with the nomination.

CANDIDATE'S FOLKS.

Gillett was born at the little town of Sparta, Wis., in 1859, and consequently is in the prime of life at 47. He is one of a family of six children, three of whom, a sister and two brothers, the only ones surviving, are residents of Humboldt, where the nominee's aged father also resides. The Congressman is the eldest child, and on him for many years devolved the support of the entire family, his father being an invalid.

"Jim" Gillett was educated at Sparta, where he studied law, and it was to get a real start in life that he left Wisconsin when but a young man, and finally trudged into the heavily-timbered stretches of Humboldt county. He had no means, and it required several years of hard manual labor to place him in a position to practice his profession, the new country needing laborers far more than professional men.

EUREKA'S FIRST ATTORNEY.

When the town of Eureka merged into a municipality, it was "Jim" Gillett who was called on to frame the laws, and he became the first City Attorney, serving for six years, and building a reputation that brought him forward as principal and successful candidate for the State Legislature in 1897. In that body, he served on the Judiciary and other important committees.

MAX C. SLOSS,
nominated for unexpired term for Associate Justice by the Santa Cruz convention.

HE FOUGHT DAN BURNS.

In the celebrated contest of Dan Burns for a place in the United States Senate, Gillett refused absolutely to join with the Burns forces. He stood first for the selection of State Senator Bulla of Los Angeles, and then joined the movement that ended in the election of Thomas R. Bard.

SENT TO CONGRESS.

Establishing a reputation for being invariably on the right side in the Legislature, Mr. Gillett attracted attention in the north, and when the lines of the First Congress District were changed by the Legislature, so as to make of the district one of account to mining interests, he was selected as the Congressional nominee, although not a mining man.

BEAT FORD AND CAMINETTI.

In the first campaign he defeated Senator Ford of Nevada City, a mining attorney and a well-known Democrat. Gillett even carried Ford's home city. Two years later, the new Congressman defeated, by a much-increased majority, former Congressman Caminetti, a Democrat.

SAVED JUDGE SWAYNE.

In Congres, the present nominee at once became a force, going to the front on the important Judiciary Committee during his first term. He gained renown as one of the minority in the report favoring impeachment of Judge Swayne of Florida. So zealously did the California member fight for what he thought was right that he brought Congress to his way of thinking, and saved Judge Swayne.

STANDS WITH THE PRESIDENT.

Through study of the needs of his district, the Congressman has become one of the best-informed men in the State as regards mining matters. He has stood close to the administration for protection of the forest reserves, and has supported loyally the attitude of the President on broad national affairs.

HIS HOME LIFE.

It is in his private life that Gillett is displayed as a true and good American citizen. In his unpretentious but well-appointed residence on the principal home street in Eureka, he lives with his wife and their son, James N., Jr., a lively little bright-eyed chap of five and a half, who has stuck closely to his father's side through the bustling days of the convention. Two pretty daughters, Effie, aged 18, and Ethel, aged 16, are away from home, attending school, the former at Stanford University, and the latter at Mills College, near Oakland.

The nominee for Governor is six feet tall, broad-shouldered, and with a well-knit frame that gives him a graceful carriage. His forehead is high, his eyes blue, and his face is notable among many for its openness.

He is extremely domestic in his tastes, and spends his chief recreation in hunting and fishing. His ruddy cheeks and bright eyes, despite the tinges of gray in his light brown hair, tell of the benefit he has derived from his outdoor life. He never drinks liquor, nor uses tobacco in any form. He is possessed of considerable property in Eureka, and is known as well to do, although by no means wealthy.

Gillett is one of the most approachable men in public life, and, so far as practicable, after his election, it is asserted that the doors of the executive chambers will be open to all who have business to transact.

WARREN REYNOLDS PORTER.

WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN.

Warren Reynolds Porter, Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, is one of the best-known business men in Central California. He is a son of the late John T. Porter, a California pioneer, whose estate includes big ranches in the San Fernando Valley. John T. Porter once was Collector of the Port at Monterey.

Warren R. Potetr was born in 1861, at Santa Cruz, and was educated in the public schools of this city, later attending St. Augustine College at Benicia. On leaving college he engaged as a clerk in the Pajaro Valley Bank, at Watsonville, organized by his father, and afterward was engaged with the Loma Prieta Lumber Company.

On the death of his father, the son became president of the bank at Watsonville, a position he has held for six years. He also is manager of the John T. Porter Company, which handles the great estate of the family.

Porter was married thirteen years ago at Berkeley, to Miss Mary Easton of that city. There are three children, a son, aged 12; a daughter, age 8, and another son, age 5.

LOCAL COMMENTS ON NOMINATION.

A. B. Cass: The nomination suits me. Gillett was not my first choise, but he is my choice now. I expect from him a business administrtaion of the State's affairs. He is a very worthy man and will make us a first-class Governor in every respect, I believe. Certainly he will be elected.

H. Jevne: A good man, Gillett. I am not qualified to comment at length upon his selection, for I don't know him well enough. But from all the things I have heard told of him he should make California a fair and capable Chief Executive. No, his nomination did not surprise me. I looked upon it as practically assured.

Postmaster Flint: I like it, thank you. Think he's a good vote-getter, strong man personally and politically, will give the people a clean, able administration. Suits me fine.

W. D. Stephens: I am very well satisfied with the nomination of Gillett. He is a good man and will make a good Governor. There is no doubt in my mind that he will be elected. Though it is true he is not as widely known in Southern as in Northern California, it seems to me he has strength enough of his own to command the entire respect of the Republican party and some others, and I don't see how he could be beaten.

M. A. Hamburger: He's all right; Gillett's a good man. I don't see why he shouldn't do at least as well in the Governor's chair as—ah—Pardee.

Niles Pease: I don't really know enough about Mr. Gillett personally to pass judgment on him, but I sincerely hope he will turn out better than did Pardee. I look for Gillett's election by a good Republican majority. I do not think the fact that he is not so well known in the South will hurt in the least his chance of winning handsomely. It doesn't take long to get acquainted with a good man in a political campaign.

Willard L. Goodwin: Splendid man. Fine choice for the people and the party. He never swerves, and he'll stand under fire without hitching.

W. J. Washburn: So far as I know Gillett is a good man, personally and for the position he has been nominated to fill. He ought to give the State a business administration, and that's what the State wants. Gillett's record in Congress reads well; I think we can say it augurs well. I am not surprised by his nomination; I thought it looked like Gillett from the beginning.

Dr. Ralph Hagan: Far, far superior to Pardee. I think we of the South should congratulate ourselves that Gillett is the man. He is a square man, a fair man, in every way a fitter man to be Governor than Pardee has shown himself to be. We can trust Gillett. I look for his election by a bigger Republican majority than ever.

Col. George Stone too busy to pose.

UNIONIZING OF NAVY YARDS.

SECRETARY BONAPARTE URGED TO PREVENT IT.

Letter Purporting to Be Signed by Employees of the Brooklyn Yard Declares Attempts Are Made to Beat Time-keepers and to Destroy the Connecticut.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Several protests have been received at the Navy Department urging that something be done to prevent the unionizing of the navy yards. The latest was received today, addressed to Secretary Bonaparte, and purporting to be signed by twenty employés of the New York yards. The writer's animus seemed to be directly directed against Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, and he said in part:

"In the Brooklyn yard about one-half of the so-called union men can be found in the toilet rooms, talking strike, or how to beat the timekeepers.

"They tried to destroy our ship, the Connecticut, yet no one was punished, although it cost the government thousands of dollars to protect our ships and yards from the Gompers dynamiters, who would run the country. He should be hung for high treason."

WOMAN'S WOUND SERIOUS.

RANDSBURG, Sept. 6.—A distressing accident occurred at Johannesburg this morning that may cost a life. Mrs. Jack Harrison, while handling a rifle, dropped the weapon on the floor. The piece exploded, discharging a 32-caliber soft-nosed bullet into the woman's side. The bullet "mushroomed," making a fearful wound where it emerged in the back. It is feared that blood poisoning will set in.

RIO HAS BUBONIC CASES.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There are several cases of bubonic plague here, but the Director of the Sanitary Office says there is no cause for alarm.

MARK SMITH RENOMINATED.

Named for Congress Delegate for the Eighth Time.

Both Parties in Arizona Resolve Against Jointure.

Republicans and Democrats in Session at Bisbee.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) Sept. 6.—As a result of the conventions held here today by both the Democratic and the Republican parties of Arizona, Mark Smith of Tucson was named as the Democratic candidate Delegate to Congress, and W. C. Cooper of Globe was named as the Republican candidate. This is the eighth time Mark Smith has been nominated by the Democrats of Arizona, being first named in 1886.

Both parties adopted an identical resolution against joint Statehood, as follows: "We are unalterably opposed to joint Statehood between Arizona and New Mexico and would prefer to remain a Territory forever than to be of a joint State with New Mexico."

The platform of the Democratic convention thanked the Democrats in Congress and the Republicans who joined with them in giving the Territory the right to vote "yes or no" on the question of joint Statehood; eulogized Mark Smith, Delegate in Congress, for his work in preserving the autonomy of Arizona, and declared in favor of equal taxation of all property in the Territory.

The Republican platform indorsed the national administration and the Territorial administration of Gov. Kibbey, and in addition to the resolution against joint Statehood declared for the equitable taxation of all the property of the Territory.

MEXICAN PAYMASTER GONE?

NO MONEY FOR TROOPS, 'TIS SAID

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) Sept. 6.—A paymaster in the Mexican army is alleged to have decamped from here tonight with 500 pesos, money which he was to have paid to 100 troopers now camped on the border at this point. It was their quarterly pay. The crime is punishable by death.

An important meeting of Mexicans was held last night in a secluded room on the American side. Nothing was given out. The attendance of Sonora newspaper men at the meeting excited some comment.

INIMICAL IDEA BASELESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FT. WORTH (Tex.) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maj.-Gen. Manuel Sanchez Reveras, chief of the cavalry service of the Mexican army, is in the city and will remain a few days, his mission here being to purchase several thousand horses for his government. He says the idea prevailing that his country is inimical to Americans is wholly baseless, as American enterprise in building up Mexico is fully appreciated. He says he feels so kindly toward Americans himself that he has one of them for a son-in-law—the chief engineer of the Mexican National Railway.

BLOW INCIDENT OF CONTEST.

DOLBEER CASE GETS LIVELY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—An encounter on the corner of Webster and California street yesterday afternoon, in which Horatio Chandler, the contestant of the Bertha Dolbeer will, struck Executor W. G. Mugan of the Dolbeer estate a heavy blow in the neck, was the closing incident of a day replete with unusual interest in the trial of the $1,000,000 case. The episode occurred during a recess of the court.

Miss Warren's examination, which has occupied several days, was concluded during the afternoon, and she was excused after having told in detail the events connected with Bertha Dolbeer's fall to death from the ninth-story window of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York, July 9, 1904.

CALLS HILL STOCK JOBBER.

LUMBER MANUFACTURER HOT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Victor H. Beckman, secretary of the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association, angered at an order of the Northern Pacific which cuts off his supply of cars for eastbound shipments of perishable products until September 8, declared today that the failure of the Hill roads to keep up with the demand for shipping facilities is due to stock-jobbing operations.

Beckman claims he was offered a loan of cars and locomotives, but this was refused. He thinks the road's earnings are being kept down for stock-jobbing reasons.

JAPAN'S RICE CROP GREAT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first official estimate of the rice crop is that it will exceed 54,000,000 koku (nearly 270,000,000 bushels.) This is 11 per cent. above the average and breaks the record.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Rent in the Boston Patched.

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) Sept. 6.—The rent in the hull of the cruiser Boston has been patched to such an extent that it is not now necessary to operate the pumps. The forward seam, which let in a small amount of water, was caused by striking a rock against which the vessel was swung by the rising tide. The crippled cruiser steamed out of the harbor this afternoon on her way to Bremerton, where she will go into dry dock for repairs. The tug Pawtucket followed in her wake.

Municipal Buildings Can Be Repaired.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—After carefully examining the ruins of the City Hall, the committee appointed by the Board of Supervisors, has submitted a report to Mayor Schmitz, stating that the building can be restored for about $2,468,000. The Hall of Records, they state, is structurally sound, and can properly be repaired for about $110,000. The Hall of Justice was found to have been damaged to the extent of about two-thirds of its original value. It is recommended that the Hall of Records immediately be repaired.

Found on The Skin

Phosphate Direct From The Brain

We know that active brain work throws out the phosphate of potash, for this product is found on the skin after excessive brain work.

Brain workers, in order to keep well, must have proper food containing phosphate of potash to quickly and surely rebuild the used up tissue.

That one can obtain such food has been proven in thousands of cases among users of Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts.

Both contain phosphate of potash in minute particles, just as it is furnished by nature in the grains.

This product blends with albumen and makes the gray matter that builds the brain and fills the nerve centers.

In no way can this gray matter be made except by the action of phosphate of potash upon albumen, and this mineral should be introduced to the body just as it comes from nature's laboratory, and not from the drug store. The human system is more or less fastidious about taking up the needed elements, and, as might be suspected, it will favor the products of Mother Nature rather than the products of the drug shop, however valuable they may be for certain uses.

Athletes, lawyers, journalists, doctors, ministers, business men and others, who earn their living by the use of the brain, are using both Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts Food. Both products are manufactured for a reason. They were originated by an expert, and the regenerative value of both the Postum Coffee and the Food has been demonstrated beyond question. Made in the pure food factories of Postum Co. at Battle Creek, Mich.

The report of the Committee on Order of Business was presented by Edward Sweeney of Shasta, and adopted.

William S. Wood of San Francisco read the platform, which was adopted. Several planks in the platform were greeted with considerable enthusiasm, especially that portion placing the Republican party in California as favoring the exclusion of Asiatic labor.

NOMINATIONS IN ORDER.

When the time for nominating Governor arrived, it was found that George A. Knight, who was to make the speech naming Gillett, was not in the convention hall. It was afterward found that it was Knight's intention to make the last speech, and he intended to give the chance for John A. Britton to place Pardee's name before the convention first.

BRITTON NOMINATES PARDEE.

At exactly 11 o'clock John A. Britton took the platform to nominate for Governor, George C. Pardee. When the name of Pardee was mentioned, a great wave of enthusiasm swept over the convention. Britton spoke in part as follows:

"Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the Republican State Convention: In the name and in behalf of Alameda county, that radiant gem in the crown of Republicanism, and in response to the demand of the people of the Empire State of the Golden West, I present to you for your choice as Governor of this, the greatest commonwealth in the aggregation of commonwealths of the United States of America, that fearless champion of right, that stalwart man of the doctrines of Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, McKinley and Roosevelt, that leader of all the people, that man of unimpeachable integrity and honor, that man, who is the vernacular of the West, has 'come through and made good,' Gov. George C. Pardee.

"When I stood upon the platform at Sacramento, at the Republican convention of 1902, I proclaimed then that George C. Pardee has been loyal to his country, loyal to his people, loyal to his party, and that that loyalty which prompted him in all the years of his life, in all the positions by which he was honored in municipalities, would still be the loyalty of him as your Governor. I also stated that he was then the logical, the geographical and the practical choice of the people of this State for its leader.

"I am neither a prophet, nor the son of a prophet, but the words which I uttered then were and have been prophetic in their tone. No man, with the exception of the grand standard-bearer of the party, Theodore Roosevelt, has ever approached nearer to the hearts of the people than Gov. George C. Pardee has during the past four years. He has given the State the best administration, free from cliques, political or otherwise. He has been a man of, by and for the people. He has demonstrated their wants in every act of the Legislature. He has been a Governor of initiation, he has been a Governor of appreciation, and not depreciation; he has been tried and not found wanting.

"We are told that the basest of sins is ingratitude. It cannot be possible that the people of the State of California, represented by the delegates convened at this convention, can be so lost to that sense of gratitude due to one who has builded up the State of

NON-PARTISAN MOVEMENT IS NOW UNDER WAY.

Meeting for Organization Held Last Night, With Sixty-five Present from All Parts of the County—Executive Committee of Fifteen to Draft a Full Ticket.

Sixty-five Los Angeles county men met in accord with the existing political organizations gathered for the organization of a non-partisan movement in Assembly Hall, Blanchard building, last evening. All parts of the county were represented. As the result of their deliberations and debate the chairman will name an Executive Committee of fifteen members, this committee to suggest a full county ticket. By this is meant that nominees on the Republican county ticket who are acceptable will be included and indorsed, and in the case of those who are not other men will be brought out and supported. Dr. W. A. Lamb for Supervisor, and Ben E. Ward for Assessor, will be given the full support of the movement.

Organization will be perfected at the next meeting. This will be held at the call of the chairman, L. H. Valentine. It will probably convene in some larger hall about the middle of next week. The Executive Committee of fifteen will likely be named this evening.

Lines of work were the real subject of discussion. The sixty-five men present all had copies of the call as evidence that they were wanted there. This call stated the object of the meeting to be selection of an independent ticket.

Speeches by Joseph H. Call, Supervisor George Alexander, John Burns and a number of other men dwelt on existing political conditions. These the speakers termed bad. The remedy suggested by each was the same—a non-partisan ticket.

Finally the meeting decided to give the chair power to select an Executive Committee, whose members shall draft a ticket, subject to the will of the next meeting. Financial strength is to be

WORK OF CONVENTION GREATLY EXPEDITED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 6.—Congressman James N. Gillett was unanimously nominated for Governor by the Republican State convention today. He was named on the first ballot, receiving 391 1-2 votes to 232 1-2 for Pardee.

The names of Gillett and Pardee were the only ones presented to the convention for the gubernatorial nomination. Gillett's name was presented by George A. Knight, while Pardee was named by John A. Britton.

Prior to the convention a caucus of the San Francisco delegation was held, and the members declared for Gillett. This action is believed to have influenced many votes, but the roll-call shows that Gillett would have been elected without the vote of the city delegation.

Mayor Schmitz occupied a place on the platform during the proceedings. After the ballot, Gov. Pardee met Mr. Gillett, grasped his hand and congratulated him.

"I hope you'll have as pleasant an administration as I did," said Gov. Pardee. "God bless you."

George C. Pardee.

KNIGHT NOMINATES GILLETT.

At 11:30 o'clock George A. Knight took the platform to nominate Gillett. He said in part:

"Ladies and gentlemen of the convention: James N. Gillett of Humboldt county is to be, and is, presented as a candidate—the Republican candidate—for Governor of the State of California. His nomination will not take by surprise any Republican of California. Now of national repute, in early life his one bank account was youth's ambition.

"In San Francisco on Labor Day over twenty thousand men marched in peaceful tread as an exemplification of law, order and toil. They have shown they are the bone and sinew of nature and represent the Republican policy that workingmen should receive an honest day's pay. Gillett's record shows that he has always been the friend of the laboring men. After toiling at manual labor in early youth, he took up law. Twice you have returned him to Congress. He is alive to legislation that is of interest to California.

"For this reason I ask you now to nominate James N. Gillett, as it is spelled on paper, but 'Jim' Gillett in the hearts of the people. He is not a partisan, but a real American citizen."

Congressman James McLachlan of Los Angeles county took the platform at noon to second the nomination of Gillett. He said, in part: "The southland joins hands with Humboldt county in asking that Gillett be named as the choice of this convention."

ONLY TWO CANDIDATES.

Gillett and Pardee were the only names presented to the convention for Governor. The vote was: Gillett, 391½; Pardee, 232½.

MADE UNANIMOUS.

Tumultuous applause, which lasted for several minutes, greeted the announcement that Gillett had been nominated. John A. Britton, who nominated Pardee, moved that the nomination be made unanimous, and it was so ordered.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICES.

Judge Ross of San Mateo nominated Judge F. W. Henshaw for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Judge Lieb of San José nominated Judge William G. Lorigan for Associate Justice. The nominations were then closed, and the secretary cast the ballot of the convention for these two.

On the nomination of W. S. Wood of San Francisco, Judge M. C. Sloss was unanimously named for the unexpired term of Associate Justice.

GILLETT GIVES THANKS.

Gillett was escorted to the platform by George A. Knight and John A. Britton. Gillett was greeted with vociferous applause. He said in part:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the convention: I desire first to express to you my sincere thanks for the honor you have conferred on me. Also, I desire to express thanks to my friends and neighbors who have had the honor of having had a man from their midst named for Governor for the first time. I accept this nomination with a full realization of the responsibility it implies. We may congratulate ourselves on the harmony that has prevailed in our ranks. This contest has been friendly on account of the high character of the men who have aspired to office. I thank you again for the great honor you have conferred on me."

Before adjournment was taken there were cries for addresses from Mayor Schmitz and Abe Reuf, but neither of them responded.

The call was signed by the following named, nearly all of whom took an active part in the meeting: O. T. Johnson, A. E. Pomeroy, Joseph H. Call, S. C. Graham, P. M. Johnson, W. R. Burke, W. W. # USE MACHINE TO BREAK STRIKE.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY FEAZES CHICAGO UNIONISTS.

Termination Within a Month of Strike of Five Hundred Moulders in Foundry Shops Predicted—One Machine Does the Work of Three Skilled Men.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Secretary Paul Blackford, at the Metal Trades Association meeting yesterday predicted a termination of the strike of 500 moulders in the foundry shops of Chicago within a month as a result of an important discovery made by the local manufacturers.

As an experiment 100 moulding machines recently were installed in the big foundries where it had been found impossible to secure strike-breakers to replace the foundrymen who walked out May 1. The trial was successful, according to the employers, who assert that one machine turns out as much work as three skilled iron moulders. Orders immediately were sent to New York for 500 more of the "strike-breaking" machines.

In Chicago and Milwaukee, where the strike of the moulders also is in progress, it was predicted 1200 machines would be in operation before another month. If this proves true it is figured by employers that they will have need for less than half the former number of employés, and that, consequently, the strike practically will have been defeated.

The substitution of machinery for men is not new in Chicago, but this is the first time in the history of labor disputes, it is said, that it has been tried on so extensive a scale.

The Comptroller of the Currency yesterday issued a call for a statement of the condition of national banks at the close of business Tuesday, Sept. 4.

DYSENTERY CURED AT 88

MR. SILAS DUNTON, 88 YEARS OLD.

Mr. Silas Dunton, who celebrated his 88th birthday on April 9th, last, and who has been one of the most highly respected and best known merchants for the past 60 years in Millbury, Mass., thanks Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for his youth and vigor.

A friend of Mr. Dunton's says he looks so well that he is easily good for twenty years more.

Mr. Dunton visits his store almost every day. Last summer he had a severe attack of dysentery which was completely cured by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I am using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and think it very valuable as a medicine. Last July I was taken sick with dysentery, and the doctor thought my case was almost hopeless. A good doctor and a very good nurse worked over me night and day for four or five months, giving me all sorts of medicines. Finally I insisted on two or three spoonfuls of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey a day, and I do believe it was the medicine that cured me. For a man of 88 years I am very well."—Silas Dunton, Millbury, Mass. May 18th, '06.

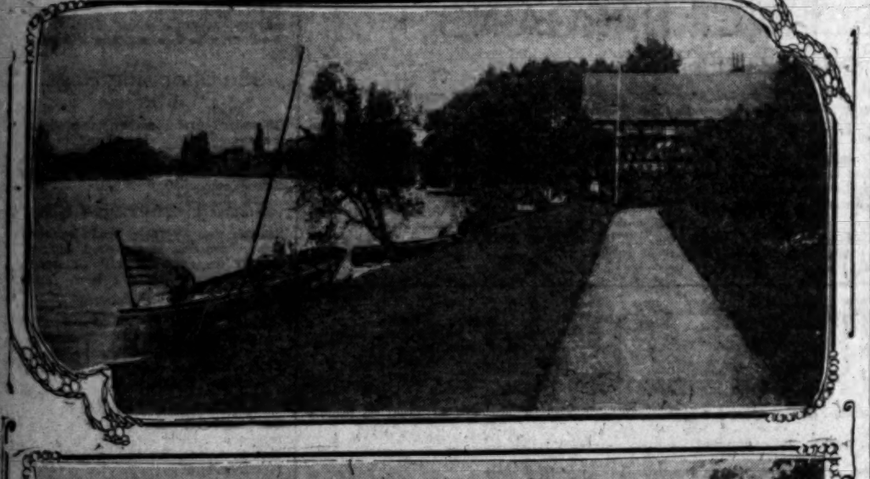
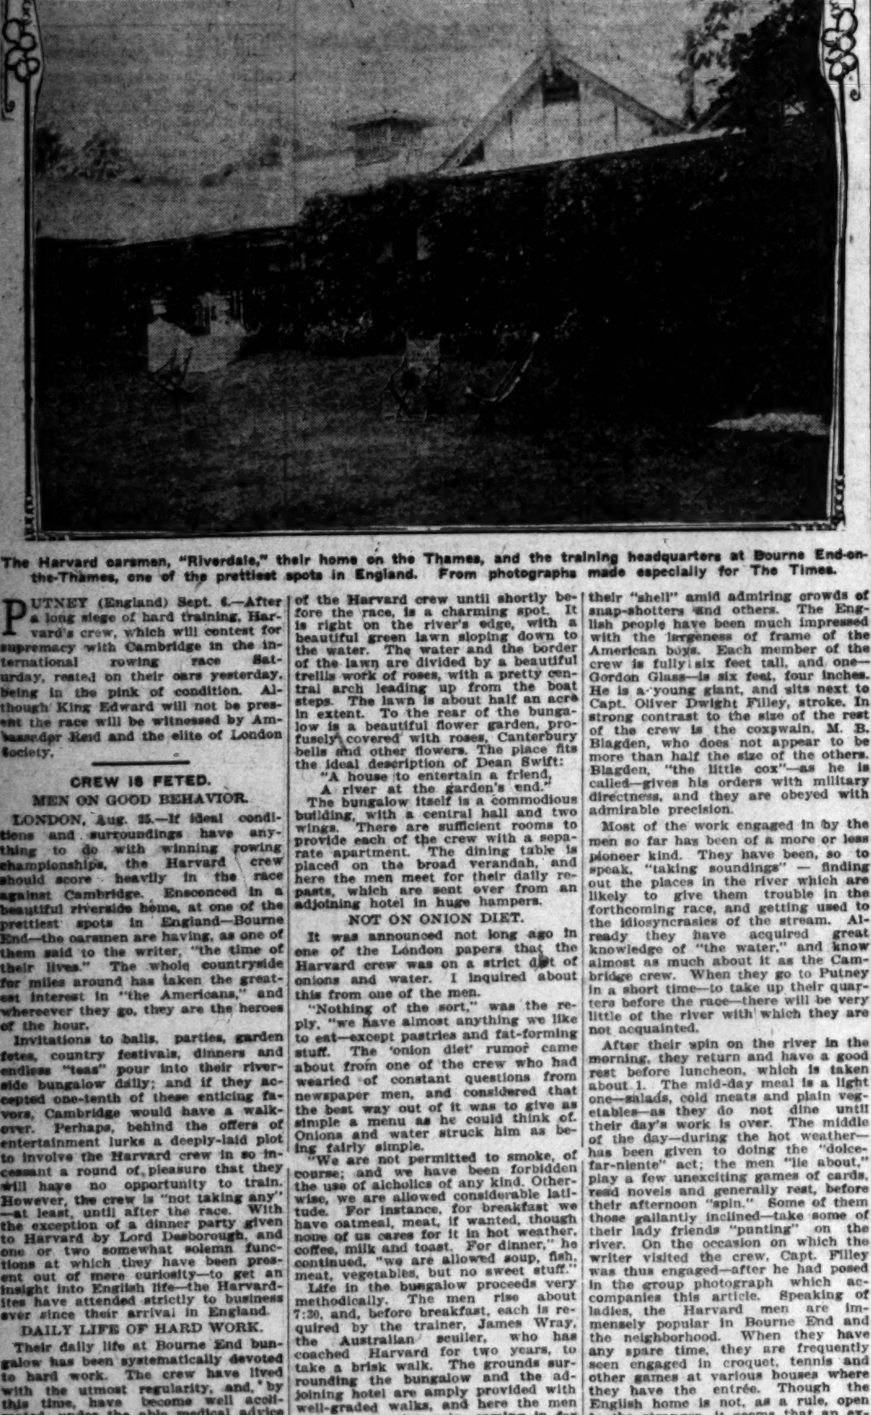
HOW HARVARD'S STURDY CREW PREPARED FOR SATURDAY'S RACE.

BY CURTIS BROWN.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]





The Harvard oarsmen, "Riverdale," their home on the Thames, and the training headquarters at Bourne End-on-the-Thames, one of the prettiest spots in England. From photographs made especially for The Times.

PUTNEY (England) Sept. 6.—After a long siege of hard training, Harvard's crew, which will contest for supremacy with Cambridge in the international rowing race Saturday, rested on their oars yesterday, being in the pink of condition. Although King Edward will not be present the race will be witnessed by Ambassador Reid and the elite of London society.

CREW IS FETED.

MEN ON GOOD BEHAVIOR.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—If ideal conditions and surroundings have anything to do with winning rowing championships, the Harvard crew should score heavily in the race against Cambridge. Ensconced in a beautiful riverside home, at one of the prettiest spots in England—Bourne End—the oarsmen are having, as one of them said to the writer, "the time of their lives." The whole countryside for miles around has taken the greatest interest in "the Americans," and wherever they go, they are the heroes of the hour.

Invitations to balls, parties, garden fetes, country festivals, dinners and endless "teas" pour into their riverside bungalow daily; and if they accepted one-tenth of these enticing favors, Cambridge would have a walkover. Perhaps, behind the offers of entertainment lurks a deeply-laid plot to involve the Harvard crew in so incessant a round of pleasure that they will have no opportunity to train. However, the crew is "not taking any"—at least, until after the race. With the exception of a dinner party given to Harvard by Lord Desborough, and one or two somewhat solemn functions at which they have been present out of mere curiosity—to get an insight into English life—the Harvardites have attended strictly to business ever since their arrival in England.

DAILY LIFE OF HARD WORK.

Their daily life at Bourne End bungalow has been systematically devoted to hard work. The crew have lived with the utmost regularity, and, by this time, have become well acclimated, under the able medical advice of Dr. Monahan. It is popularly supposed that the lower Thames Valley—where Bourne End is situated—has an enervating effect on the system; but, judging from the very lively condition of the crew when the writer recently spent the day with them, the Thames Valley has been libeled. Each member of the crew seems as spry and "chipper" as a kitten with a ball of twine; and, as for being enervated—whew!

"Riverdale," which will be the home of the Harvard crew until shortly before the race, is a charming spot. It is right on the river's edge, with a beautiful green lawn sloping down to the water. The water and the border of the lawn are divided by a beautiful trellis work of roses, with a pretty central arch leading up from the boat steps. The lawn is about half an acre in extent. To the rear of the bungalow is a beautiful flower garden, profusely covered with roses, Canterbury bells and other flowers. The place fits the ideal description of Dean Swift:

"A house to entertain a friend,
A river at the garden's end."

The bungalow itself is a commodious building, with a central hall and two wings. There are sufficient rooms to provide each of the crew with a separate apartment. The dining table is placed on the broad verandah, and here the men meet for their daily repasts, which are sent over from an adjoining hotel in huge hampers.

NOT ON ONION DIET.

It was announced not long ago in one of the London papers that the Harvard crew was on a strict diet of onions and water. I inquired about this from one of the men.

"Nothing of the sort," was the reply, "we have almost anything we like to eat—except pastries and fat-forming stuff. The 'onion diet' rumor came about from one of the crew who had wearied of constant questions from newspaper men, and considered that the best way out of it was to give as simple a menu as he could think of. Onions and water struck him as being fairly simple.

"We are not permitted to smoke, of course; and we have been forbidden the use of alcholics of any kind. Otherwise, we are allowed considerable latitude. For instance, for breakfast we have oatmeal, meat, if wanted, though none of us cares for it in hot weather, coffee, milk and toast. For dinner," he continued, "we are allowed soup, fish, meat, vegetables, but no sweet stuff."

Life in the bungalow proceeds very methodically. The men rise about 7:30, and, before breakfast, each is required by the trainer, James Wray, the Australian sculler, who has coached Harvard for two years, to take a brisk walk. The grounds surrounding the bungalow and the adjoining hotel are amply provided with well-graded walks, and here the men take the morning spin, coming in for breakfast with a good appetite. After breakfast there is a short rest, and then the men go down to the boat-landing, some distance away, in their chartered launch, the "Rapide." This is a small motor-boat, which is exceptionally good for race work, as it makes no wash, and may follow fairly close without detriment to oarsmanship.

At the landing stage, they get out their "shell" amid admiring crowds of snap-shotters and others. The English people have been much impressed with the largeness of frame of the American boys. Each member of the crew is fully six feet tall, and one—Gordon Glass—is six feet, four inches. He is a young giant, and sits next to Capt. Oliver Dwight Filley, stroke. In strong contrast to the size of the rest of the crew is the coxswain, M. B. Blagden, who does not appear to be more than half the size of the others. Blagden, "the little cox"—as he is called—gives his orders with military directness, and they are obeyed with admirable precision.

Most of the work engaged in by the men so far has been of a more or less pioneer kind. They have been, so to speak, "taking soundings"—finding out the places in the river which are likely to give them trouble in the forthcoming race, and getting used to the idiosyncrasies of the stream. Already they have acquired great knowledge of "the water," and know almost as much about it as the Cambridge crew. When they go to Putney in a short time—to take up their quarters before the race—there will be very little of the river with which they are not acquainted.

After their spin on the river in the morning, they return and have a good rest before luncheon, which is taken about 1. The mid-day meal is a light one—salads, cold meats and plain vegetables—as they do not dine until their day's work is over. The middle of the day—during the hot weather—has been given to doing the "dolce-far-niente" act; the men "lie about," play a few unexciting games of cards, read novels and generally rest, before their afternoon "spin." Some of them those gallantly inclined—take some of their lady friends "punting" on the river. On the occasion on which the writer visited the crew, Capt. Filley was thus engaged—after he had posed in the group photograph which accompanies this article. Speaking of ladies, the Harvard men are immensely popular in Bourne End and the neighborhood. When they have any spare time, they are frequently seen engaged in croquet, tennis and other games at various houses where they have the entrée. Though the English home is not, as a rule, open to the stranger, it seems that an exception has been made on this occasion in favor of Harvard. Private yachting parties compete with each other in honoring Harvard guests. Most of the homes along the river front are open to them, as well as a number of house-boats.

GENUINE INTEREST AROUSED.

Few sporting events in modern times have aroused so genuine an interest in England as the forthcoming race. Englishmen seem to recognize in the present Harvard crew a typical American sporting team—not of hired mercenaries, as on the last occasion of an international rowing race; but men drafted from the genuine student class, who, whether they win or lose, will be at least representative of the best American tradition. It is possibly the genuineness of the present Harvard crew is at the bottom of all the cordiality with which they have been received. The recent message from the Prince of Wales is also, doubtless, an expression of this sentiment.

As for the men themselves, they seem highly delighted with their reception.

"Nothing could be more pleasant than our stay at Bourne End," said Capt. Filley, in the course of an interview. "Every one seems to have laid themselves out to make us feel at home. I understand there has been some statement circulated to the effect that we are not being fairly dealt with by Cambridge as to the course; but I would like to deny this, emphatically. The conditions with reference to our side are absolutely fair; and we have not uttered a single complaint of any kind, in fact, we have not had any occasion to do so."

OARSMEN READY TO RACE.

Both Crews Are in Shape for the Big Event Tomorrow and English Are Betting Favorites.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PUTNEY, (Eng.) Sept. 6.—The universal interest taken in the international races is evidenced by the crowds which daily throng the river banks eagerly awaiting the appearance of the crews and keep close watch on the Harvard and Cambridge headquarters so as not to lose the pleasure of witnessing any work done by the oarsmen. The serious practice is finished. The crews today did a few starts and returned to their respective boathouses. The local experts see practically nothing to choose between the eights so far as stamina is concerned. Both crews appear to be trained to the hour and many people consider that the race has resolved itself into a battle of styles.

Each crew appears to be made up of past masters of their different styles of rowing, and should Harvard, with the American style, win the race, the confidence of the British in their style, will receive a rude shock. Odds of 11 to 5, are being laid on Cambridge, but judging from the time tests they ought to be the other way.

VIM TAKES THIRD RACE.

Beats Out the Auk Through an Accident.

Tilly VI Recovers Herself and Finishes Second.

Ownership of the Cup May Be Decided Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARBLEHEAD (Mass.) Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] America once more scored today in the third race for the Roosevelt Cup, the Vim, owned by Commodore T. L. Park, winning her second victory of the series. Through some accident, the Auk, which gave the Vim a hot contest all over the course, withdrew when within one and one-half miles of the finish. It is possible that the umpires may have to consider the protest of Tilly VI, which was last yesterday. It led the German fleet throughout the day, and won for the Germans the first time in the series, profiting by the withdrawal of the Auk and coming up then into second place. The Caramba was third; Wannsee fourth and Glückauf fifth.

The race today was sailed over a triangular course in a moderate southwest breeze, and the feature was the contest between the Vim and the Auk, each of whom had a leg on the cup. These two boats were on practically even terms until an accident occurred, which threw out the Auk. Should the Vim win tomorrow, Commodore Park will obtain permanent possession of the Roosevelt Cup.

It is now suggested that after the series is completed and before the Germans leave, that a race be arranged for all six yachts, with the German and Americans crews changed.

SUTTON GIRL FINALLY LOST.

Mrs. Ethel Bruce Beaten by Hazel Hotchkiss.

Winner to Meet Miss Dobbins Next Monday.

Men's Singles Today Between Long and Bundy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of Berkeley has the distinction of being the first player outside of the Sutton family to defeat a Sutton in tournament play in some years. In the semi-final round of the women's Coast championship tournament in singles today, she disposed of Mrs. Bruce, who was Miss Ethel Sutton. The match was played on the courts of the Hotel Rafael, and was replete with exciting rallies. Miss Hotchkiss played a remarkable game. She drove with the strength of a man, and her volleying was little short of marvelous. Time after time she ended a long rally with a well-directed volley down the side line. In the first set Mrs. Bruce played high-class tennis, and it looked for a time as though she might win the set, but Miss Hotchkiss proved steadier, and finally won out by a 9-7 score. There was nothing to the second set. Miss Hotchkiss went right into the lead and the final outcome was never in doubt. She drove, chopped and volleyed, and her opponent was on the run continually. Mrs. Bruce got but one game in the set. As a result of her victory, Miss Hotchkiss is now in the final round of the tournament, where she will meet Miss Dobbins of Southern California next Monday morning. The latter is considered one of the best players in the southern part of the state, and a fast match should result when the two come together.

Miss Dobbins disposed of Miss Ethel Ratcliffe of Berkeley in the other semi-final match. She won in straight sets, but the final outcome of each was in doubt until the last point had been won. The score was 6-4, 7-5.

MIXED DOUBLES PLAY.

Play started today in the mixed doubles. Some good names were entered, and a number of close matches resulted. Miss Golda Myer and George Janes and Miss Ethel Ratcliffe and Fletcher Elliott figured in the best match of the day. The former team won after three close sets. Janes played his usual brilliant hard-hitting game, and he was ably assisted by Miss Myer, who did some splendid driving from the back court. The first set went to deuce, and was won by Miss Myer and Janes, 8-6. Miss Ratcliffe and Elliott won the second, 6-3, and Miss Myer and Janes the third, 6-2. Miss Dobbins and A. E. Bell won a close three-set match from Miss Hotchkiss and Foley. The former team lost the first set, 4-6, but won the second and third, 7-5, 6-4.

Miss Garland and N. Browne beat Miss Seymour and Herbert Schmidt, 6-4, 6-4, and Mrs. Bruce and R. T. Crawford beat Mrs. Seymour and F. Davis, 6-4.

The final match of the men's singles will be played tomorrow morning. It will be between Melville Long of the California Tennis Club and Tom Bundy of Southern California. Both have played well during the tournament, and it seems a toss-up between them.

DICK DUNNIGAN HANDICAPPED.

Single Scull-Gig Race Will Be Uneven, Owing to Difference in Size of Boats.

Dick Dunnigan, the Los Angeles Athletic Club's representative in the San Diego single scull-gig race on Admission Day, writes friends in the local club that he will be somewhat handicapped in the size of the gig used by his opponent, Harry Slocum. Dunnigan's gig is twenty pounds lighter than Slocum's, but the latter will use enough ballast to make up the difference. The better lines of the San Diego boat may give some advantage. Dunnigan is optimistic and says he believes he will win despite any possible difference in the scull-gigs. There is a report that Slocum's gig is a little longer than Dunnigan's, which also would give an advantage.

Los Angeles rowing enthusiasts are preparing to make the trip to San Diego to root for their favorite. They will wear the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and will do their best to outroot the members of the San Diego Rowing Club, under whose colors Slocum rows. It is said three special loads of Angeleños will make the trip.

Coach J. E. Franklin will go to San Diego Saturday night to inspect the course and conditions. He wants to be on hand to coach his protégé and to look out for any tricks of the game which might be sprung on him. He has taught Dunnigan all the latter knows about rowing and hopes to develop him into a first-class sculler. Later on he will try Dunnigan out in the scull-shell.

Harry Dunnigan, James Routzahn and Percy P. Swain, who are to race in the scull-gigs for a gold medal offered by W. W. King of Naples, during the Native Sons' and Daughters' picnic at that place, Monday, are training for that event and should put up a good contest. Each of the young men is learning the fine points, and they are evenly matched. So far, Ray Dunnigan, brother of Dick, who races in San Diego, has a shade on form in training and has the call for the race. The three gigs are equal in size, about twenty feet long and twenty-four inches wide, thus insuring equal conditions for each contestant. Dick Dunnigan's gig is a mate to these. The race is over a mile-and-a-half course with turn.

GLOVE-BOXING DANGEROUS.

Well-Known Trainer Says That Bare Knuckles Do Not Do so Much Damage.

"More men have been injured seriously in finish fights when boxing gloves were used than when the combats fought with bare knuckles," said DeWitt Van Court, physical instructor for the Los Angeles Athletic Club, yesterday afternoon. When he heard the rumor that Battling Nelson was dead from the effects of the severe beating administered by Joe Gans, he would not surprise me in the least to learn that Nelson suffered a fatal injury. He certainly sustained severe punishment. When boxers have their hands protected by gloves they can deliver a blow with all their might, and they would not do were it necessary to look out for their knuckles. Were it not for this protection, they would avoid swinging matters, and they would be mighty slow to see that their punches landed squarely, with the result that Borland and N. Browne beat Seymour and Herbert Schmidt, and Mrs. Bruce and R. T. Hill beat Mrs. Seymour and F. Long 6-4.

A final match of the men's singles will be played tomorrow morning. It is to be between Melville Long of the Pasadena Tennis Club and Tom Bundy of Southern California. Both have played well during the tournament, and promise a toss-up between them.

FOX DUNNIGAN HANDICAPPED.

Big Scull-Gig Race Will Be Uneven, Owing to Difference in Size of Boats.

Fox Dunnigan, the Los Angeles Athletic Club's representative in the San Diego single scull-gig race on Labor Day, writes friends in the city that he will be somewhat handicapped in the size of the gig used by his opponent, Harry Slocum. Dunnigan's gig is twenty pounds lighter than Slocum's, but the latter will use enough ballast to make up the difference. The better lines of the San Diego boat may give some advantage, but Dunnigan is optimistic and says he believes he will win despite any possible difference in the scull-gigs. J. E. Franklin will go to San Diego Saturday night to inspect the course and conditions. He intends to be on hand to coach his protege and to look out for any tricks of rivals which might be sprung on him. He has taught Dunnigan all the secrets about rowing and hopes to develop him into a first-class sculler before he will try Dunnigan in the scull-shell.

GLOVE-BOXING DANGEROUS.

Fitzsimmons Trainer Says That Bare Knuckles Do Not Do so Much Damage.

"More men have been injured seriously in finish fights when boxing gloves were used than when the combat was fought with bare knuckles," declared Van Court, physical instructor for the Los Angeles Athletic Club, yesterday afternoon, when he heard the rumor that Battling Nelson had from the effects of the severe beating administered by Joe Gans. "I would not be surprised me in the least to learn that Nelson suffered internally. He certainly sustained a severe punishment. When boxers have their hands protected by gloves they can deliver a blow with all their might, which they would not do were it necessary to look out for their knuckles. Were it not for this protection they would avoid swinging blows, and they would be mighty careful to see that their punches landed properly, with the result that they would not strike as many or as hard blows.

"The blow delivered through a light-weight boxing glove lands heavily, and, although it may leave no external mark, the effects sink deep. The knuckle-boxer will slash his opponent's face to ribbons and produce a gory-looking sight, but most of his blows will not go deep."

Van Court is not in favor of finish fights. "Twenty rounds are enough to show which man is the better," he says. "I should not have cared to see the Nelson-Gans fight. I have no thirst for gore. Then, again, I believe a boxer should have a punch, so that he may be able to finish the work his cleverness is carrying on. I would not go across the street to see Abe Attell fight because he has not the finishing punch and fails to deliver effective blows."

Although Van Court has developed and trained some of the greatest fighters who ever lived, he never sought to develop a boxer to become a professional. "All the boxers I have trained were amateurs at first, and the reason I did not keep them in that class is because I could not hold them. You cannot blame a man if he takes up professional fighting when he can earn many times the amount of money he could in any other calling. Take Jimmy Britt, for instance.

"He was keeping books for his father at $75 a month when he learned the boxing game. Had he remained perched on the high stool, probably he would be making no more than a good living now, but as it is he is worth $100,000, earned in the fighting business. Although I never advise a man to become a professional, I cannot blame him if he does so when he has the ability to make good."

Van Court just now is developing a fine class of amateurs at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Many of them are prominent business and professional men. Others are sons of fine families.

TROUBLE IN AMATEUR BALL.

AFFAIRS IN GRIEFER TOWN ARE SADLY FUDDLED.

"Official Team" of San Diego Does Not Play in the Only Available Ball Park and Men Are Sore Over Division of Money—Examiner Team Jumps Its God Father.

There is rather an exciting row on in the Southern California baseball league over just who is who in San Diego, and with the little dispute over the correct standing of the teams and the fact that the players heretofore known as the Examiners have jumped the yellow sheet and named themselves the Morans, it can easily be imagined that there is sufficient doing in semi-professional ball circles to keep the amateur fans awake.

The cause of the woe down in Griefer Town is due to the fact that one of the sports named Vallin has a ball team that is recognized by the southern league as a regular team of the league, while another sport named Palmer has possession of the only real baseball park in the town. As a natural consequence when a league team goes down from here it generally plays in the real ball grounds and plays Palmer's team and not the team recognized by the league, but it is understood that some of the "official" team's men are mixed in with the Palmer team in order to make a game.

This is not just exactly what the doctor ordered, but it is a dose that the fans down there take in order to get something into their systems that looks like real baseball. The last time one of the local teams played in Griefer Town they received a bigger "cut" than the San Diego players were handed and then there was more grief but they were told that it was up to them to find what became of the money they took in. Manager Vallin of the "official" team was here this week and stated that he has a ball park in sight and expects to be playing his own team in it within two weeks.

The local members of the league regret that there is a dispute down south, for they unite in saying that San Diego is as good, if not better than Los Angeles in the number of paying fans that turn out to see Sunday ball games.

Another cause of complaint in the league concerns the Santa Fé Railroad. Notwithstanding the fact that when one of the local ball teams goes to San Diego with from twelve to fifteen men, the road will not make even a small reduction from the regular rates but does make a reduction on the late train Saturday night. It is said that the "day" train makes the run in three or four hours and the "night" train takes six or seven hours for the trip, and while a reduction is made for the latter, one is obliged to pay out good money for a sleeping car berth, or sit up all night. It is not improbable that San Diego will be dropped from the league on account of the refusal of the railroad company to make a reduction in the fare on the Sunday morning train. The ball players speak of the Santa Fe as a "pretty cheap outfit."

TEAM CHANGES NAME.

The team that was once the "Examiners" has quit the paper of that name because the "hot air" paper, as the players call it, never gave them the support a winning team should have and tried to take all the credit for the team's trip to Old Mexico, when, as a matter of fact, the players went on their own hook and paid their own expenses. The team will hereafter be known as the Morans.

ANOTHER FOR MARIE.

California Mare Takes Two Heats Easily, but Is Beaten in the Third by Wentworth.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARTFORD (Ct.) Sept. 6.—Only three horses started in the free-for-all trot in the grand circuit at Charter Oaks Park today, Sweet Marie winning the first two heats in fine style, but being forced to trot second to Wentworth in the third. The sterling mare broke twice in the final heat and was beaten a head. Angiola, the winner of last year's $10,000 stake, brought up the rear. Sweet Marie was the favorite. Results:

The 2:16 pace, three heats, purse $1000: Bonnie Steinway won three straight heats in 2:09¼, 2:09½, 2:09¾.

Free-for-all trot, three heats, purse $1500: Sweet Marie won the first and second heats in 2:12½, 2:05½. Wentworth won the third heat in 2:06.

The 2:12 pace, three heats, purse $1000: Owasso won three straight heats in 2:11½, 2:11¾, 2:10.

Theater for Joe Gans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gans and his brother-in-law, Bob Turner, arrived here this afternoon. It is the present intention of Gans to rest a week before leaving for the East, where he will play ten weeks at $1000 a week. Gans's right hand is still badly swollen. Gans says he will give Britt the next chance, but will arrange terms later.

NELSON'S ILLNESS A FAKE.

Yellow Paper's Pipe Dream Proves a Nightmare—Bat Goes Fishing and Gans to 'Frisco.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Sept. 6.—The report that Battling Nelson was dangerously ill and was likely to die as a result of the beating received at the hands of Gans, Monday, is so far from true that Nelson left Goldfield this morning for Truckee for a fishing trip. Aside from some few nasal and internal hemorrhages Nelson was not severely hurt. His face was beaten up as a natural consequence of frequent collisions with Gans's fist, but nothing more serious. He left this morning without any blare of trumpets. Nolan and his wife left this morning for Chicago. Siler, the referee will start for San Francisco tomorrow morning.

FOR SALE— Houses.

FOR SALE—BY THE OWNER.
I am compelled to sell my eight-room home at 2212 Juliet st. I built this house for my own permanent home and everything about it is first-class—the rooms are all large and conveniently arranged throughout, many cosy nooks and corners—abundance of closets and pantries—and everything that goes to make a house a real home. Large porch across the front of the house—hand-carved front door, winding stairway. One feature to which I paid special attention is a combination writing desk and eight-day clock. The dining-room has handsome buffet, old gold mantel and is a large, light, cheerful room. Bedrooms are attractively finished—have plenty of closet room—handsome wardrobes extending to ceiling, with plenty of drawers, hat boxes, etc. Dressing room, which connects the two front bedrooms, is a feature which will please every one. Floors upstairs are of rock maple—double oak floors downstairs. For a good, immediate buyer, I will sell this home for fully one thousand dollars less than its value. This is a bona fide proposition and it will pay you to call and see me, any afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at 2212 JULIET ST.

MARE SUFFERS TUMOR-LADEN.

S.P.C.A. Officers Discover Disgusting Case.

Warrant Sought for Owner, Phillip A. O'Brien.

After Tragedy Follows Comedy of Mockingbird.

With a hideous fibroid tumor on her shoulder and a forefoot almost rotted away, a poor old bay mare belonging to Phillip A. O'Brien, a contractor, was discovered by officers of the Humane Society yesterday. Mercifully the beast was put out of her misery as soon as possible, and the officers hurried to swear out a warrant for O'Brien's arrest.

With another rack of bones, an old gray horse, the mare has been confined for two weeks in corral at No. 2117 East Seventh street. During that time neither horse apparently had received any care whatsoever. Neither had they had food nor water, as far as can be learned. They dragged out a suffering existence, from which a death by starvation would soon have released them.

Bay mare belonging to Contractor Phillip A. O'Brien, killed by humane officers yesterday. The horse had on one shoulder a large fly-covered tumor, caused by a galling yoke, and one foot was cut to the bone by strings used to hold a bandage, which had not been touched for two weeks at least. During the same period the horse had apparently neither food nor water, except what it could pick up.

The gray was in fair condition except for the emaciation and weakness incident to two weeks' starvation. But the bay mare was a sight to turn the stomach. Criminal indifference and carelessness had caused her condition, which brutal neglect had intensified. A galling yoke had started a tumor on her left shoulder, which had been left to the flies for a putrid banquet. It might have been treated with some success weeks ago, but the veterinary surgeon who condemned the horse said that it was impossible to do anything for the afflicted beast now. She had ringbone, and an attempt had been made to cure it. The attempt consisted in blistering the foot and putting on a bandage, tightly tied with strings. No further care was given. The bandage rotted and worked into the festering sores, and the strings cut their way to the bone. The result was a bleeding, festering mass.

Frank Mitchell and N. W. Zimmer, the two officers who were on the case, said that they had never seen such a disgusting one.

FOUND BY FIREMEN.

The fire laddies at the house on the corner of East Seventh and Santa Fé discovered the condition of the horses. They noticed that no one was caring for the horses, and say that for two weeks they saw no one enter the corral. Finally, they became suspicious that things were not right and investigated. The horses were eating offal and nosing the dry bottoms of some water tubs when they felt strong enough to wander about.

A man climbed the high fence and found that there were several bales of hay fenced off, so that the horses could gaze at them and not reach them, although they had scraped their necks in the futile endeavor. He promptly tore down the fence and invited the horses to have a free feed, and then filled the tubs. The horses wandered wearily to the water first, and then nibbled at the feed. The man called up the humane officers.

Wednesday night Mr. Mitchell and Dr. Whittlesey investigated, and Dr. Whittlesey condemned the mare. The horse can recover, if fed properly, and he was not condemned. Some one, said to be a son of O'Brien's, heard that the officers were on the trail, and he came down in the evening and removed the gray horse, where, no one seems to know. A man who saw him take the horse away says that the beast fell three times before he could get on his feet and be led away.

Whoever took the gray away evidently did not dare to remove the mare.

CAN'T FIND O'BRIEN.

Meanwhile Officer Zimmer made an effort to find O'Brien, in which he was not successful. O'Brien has been at work in Pasadena, and the officer went there, but could not find his man.

Yesterday afternoon the officers went down to the corral, and made another attempt to find O'Brien. He was not to be found, and the officers entered the corral by tearing off the lock on the door. The horse was again examined, photographs were taken as evidence, and then the poor beast was mercifully relieved by a single well-directed revolver bullet through the brain. In the corral were further evidences of the mare's suffering. The narrow door into a shed was smeared with blood where she had squeezed through in an endeavor to rid herself of the thousands of flies which clustered on the raw tumor in the sun, and refused to leave their festering feast even when the doctor tried to make his examination.

There are many men in the vicinity of the corral that know horses—the fire boys and employer of the ice and cold-storage plant. Mr. O'Brien can lay to his heart the lucky solace that he was not present when his horse was killed. The language of the men was profane and sincere. They would like to see a man "go up" who would use a horse that way.

O'Brien has been at Pasadena for three weeks, and his wife was the only one at his home, No. 1315 Buena Vista street. She stated to Officer Zimmer that some boys were supposed to be caring for the horses.

COMEDY AFTER TRAGEDY.

Comedy followed tragedy. The officers went on a search for the gray horse that had been removed. They didn't find him, but while going down a row of houses inhabited by Mexicans, Zimmer heard a melancholy 'Cheep, cheep." He stopped to investigate. A family of Mexicans had a mocking bird in a little cage. There is a fine of $25 per bird for keeping mockers in captivity, so Zimmer looked up the lady of the house. She no speeke Englees, and a youth volunteered ot interpret. He had caught the mocker, which added to his importance. He was the center of interest to a large circle of Mex bambinos.

The situation was explained. The lady stolidly acquiesced, and Zimmer let the bird loose. Alas, it was too young to care for itself. The lady shrieked "Gato, gato!" which showed she had a good heart. She didn't want the family cat to have a free feed. So Zimmer chased the little birdie down, and departed with it in his hand, to be turned over to an aviary. Silence reigned in the street for an instant, and then seventeen Mexican babies set up a concerted howl for the loss of their pet. The officers stolidly pursued their way, and the shrieks of outraged childhood mounted into the dusty air.

But they didn't find the horse.

HAS MONEY ENOUGH.

So Thought Wealthy Brother, and Girard Huiskamp Is Cut Off from Share of Estate.

Girard Huiskamp of No. 1203 Ingraham street, brother of Henry Christian Huiskamp, a wealthy shoe manufacturer of St. Louis who died recently, will not share as a beneficiary of the will. According to a dispatch from St. Louis, received by The Times at midnight, the Los Angeles man is not mentioned in the will.

There seems to be no reason for disinheriting Huiskamp other than that the veteran shoe dealer believed his brother had enough of this world's goods. Another brother, said to be wealthy, is also purposely cut off from any share.

The estate is valued at $350,000. Luke Huiskamp of Santa Barbara and John Huiskamp of Keokuk, Iowa, each receive $10,000. There are many bequests to kinsmen, and one-fourth is left in trust for the testator's widow. According to a statement made by Mrs. Huida Werth, sister-in-law of the dead Huiskamp, and who will receive $10,000 by the terms of the will, the two brothers are not mentioned merely because the St. Louis man was convinced they did not need any of his money.

WING SHOTS POUR IN.

Many Noted Shotgun Experts Are in the City for the Tourney That Begins Today.

A dove or a duck or almost any old kind of a bird would have a hard time getting down Spring street this week for the Great White Way is lined with wing shots from all parts of the country that would be able to stand on their heads and make life a sad mistake for any bird that ever flew. These men have gathered here for the big interstate shoot to be held at the grounds of the Los Angeles Gun Club on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and every train brings in a few more good ones.

Secretary-manager Elmer Shaner predicts a great shoot for he says the local grounds are all that could be desired and if the weather conditions are right ,the experts who will face the traps will do the rest in the way of breaking the asphaltum saucers. The men who arrived yesterday were Heikes and Marshal, the eastern experts; Holling and Hoyt of San Francisco and Gus Knight. There was a mid-week practice shoot Wednesday and there will be another informal one today.

The first day's shoot begins tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and the handicap committee is as follows: Elmer Shaner, B. Waters, C. M. Powers, W. D. Townsend and L. B. Fleming. All local men will be handicapped according to their best recent performances.

TREMENDOUS SCORING.

More than 85,000 points were turned in yesterday, including 28,000 coupons, some of which are not entered in the scores this morning owing to the utter impossibility of counting in time for publication, those which arrived in the late mails. All will be duly entered as quicky as they can be tallied up.

BANNER BEARERS.

Mansie Kim is the banner bearer for large scores this morning, more than 8500 points having been turned in for her. The coupons alone which reached the office for this bright Chinese girl numbered 2482.

Bertha Smith ranked second in large scores totalling 5758, and Ignatius Parker was close behind her with 5589 to his credit. Other heavy scorers were Edna Wagner, 4276; Vivian Bassett, 4255; Earl Robinson, 3383; Esther Zuber, 3322; Merle Prewitt, 3245; Veda Snow, 3146; Mary LaLanne, 2835; Grace Allen, 2786; Minnie Ponedel, 2178; Joanna Cameron, 1964; Jennie Bloom, William Bolstad, Estella Green and Frank Wiggins each in excess of 1200.

Merle Prewitt received almost 3000 coupons alone and Esther Zuber over 2500. Mary LaLanne received from various sources over 2700 of the little slips, and Earl Robinson over 2800.

SAN BERDOO SECOND.

Bertha Smith, the San Bernardino county representative rises into the second place in the score again this morning, superseding Vivian Bassett, the Pasadena native daughter who has held that second perch for several days now. The race is so close that less than a thousand points separate the two this morning.

PARKER'S LONG LEAP.

Ignatius Parker takes a long leap of three rounds this morning and lands safely on the tenth rung of the ladder. He is developing great strength in these last days of the race. Keep your eye on Ignatius. He's a winner.

HERE'S ANOTHER.

Mansie Kim takes another jump this morning and arrives on the twelfth perch. By reason of these two high jumpers Orestes Orfila is crowded down to the fateful thirteenth row and Fannie Wolff is forced to give up the twelfth perch and drop to the fourteenth.

Edna Wagner goes up a row and is developing unexpected power in the final heat. Mary LaLanne, too, jumps up one row into twenty-fourth place, and Estella Green advances a couple of rows, while Harry Wood goes up one.

WHO WILL WIN?

Subscriptions extending over two and three years are a common thing now and it is these that send the scores leaping by thousands and make havoc in the score. No one can possibly foretell the final result until the last coupon is counted and the last subscription is credited. It may be that some contestant who now stands half way down the ladder will suddenly leap into prominence and gain the top by one mighty stride.

ARIZONA'S WAY.

Great things are looked for from Arizona—that Territory that never does things by halves and is so loyal to her own. From Benson yesterday came the following note from the Castaneda Bros., proprietors of the Virginia Hotel at that place:

"Under separate cover we send 173 coupons which you will please credit to Orestes's score. Some more votes will soon follow and we expect to land him among the upper ten. Arizona has a way of doing things and it certainly will not disappoint you.

"Yours truly,

"CARLOS AND ALPHONSO CASTANEDA."

A Los Angeles looker-on writes: "I think this scholarship contest is a grand idea, and wish more papers would follow your example, and perhaps in time they will. A Friend of the Contestants of The Times."

SHE HAS FRIENDS.

A great deal of interest is manifested in Joanna Cameron, that brave little soul who has struggled along without sisters or brothers to lend a hand toward helping her as many of the other contestants have had. Letters galore, containing coupons, are coming to the office by every mail for this little daughter of a dead Mason. Joanna has high hopes now of winning that business college scholarship she is after.

A veteran from the Soldiers' Home writes Joanna: "I send you a few coupons to help you along. Had I been here sooner, or had pension day come quicker, I might have helped you more. I am in hopes that you will come out all right (inside the money line) anyway. As you are my namesake, I am glad to be able to help you, even though it is only a little.

"Respectfully, your namesake,

"ALEX CAMERON."

LEADERS REMEMBERED.

Coupons poured in for Merle Prewitt to the number of 3000, sent by scores of friends from all over Southern California. Evidently all the Smiths in this part of the country are alive to the interests of the San Bernardino county candidate, and Vivian Bassett received by every mail big bunches of coupons. One lady came to headquarters and left 1000 coupons and several subscriptions in favor of the Pride of Pasadena. From a Riverside gentleman came the message: "I trust these coupons will help her land in first place, and that in doing so may crown all future efforts with success."

A Los Angeles gentleman writes the following appreciative letter to Esther Zuber, who is leading the Los Angeles delegates:

"My Dear Hustling Little Miss ——: Agreeable to promise made you one day in The Times business office, I send you inclosed the bunch of coupons, and congratulate you on the noble race you have made. Trusting that when the returns are all in you may be very close to the top, and hoping the reception of the coupons gives as much pleasure as the sending, I am

"Yours respectfully, ——."

NEXT YEAR.

Mary LaLanne was simply showered with coupons and good wishes all day long. "If Mary does not get what she wishes this year, I hope she will enter again next year," writes an Ontario gentlemen. A Boyle Heights lady writes: "I have taken a great interest in the scholarship contestants and I have watched the paper every day. I would like to help every one trying for a scholarship but that is not easy to do. I have taken an interest in Mary's work, so I thought I would help her to get what she is aiming for. I am a Boyle Heights friend and there is not one from here in the contest. I expect to start Boyle Heights going next year.

William Bolstad is arousing a good deal of interest among lovers of boys. A mother writes: "Enclosed find 60 coupons for William Bolstad. I have never seen him but have taken a great interest in him as have my two children. They ask each morning as soon as they awaken: 'Where is our boy today? In which row?' With best wishes for all the contestants who have worked so faithfully.

"Yours truly,

"MRS. M. D. GILL.

Investigations are almost unbelievable,

THE BROWNSBERGER EVENING SCHOOL

Offers opportunity to those who, engaged in business during the day, have no time to give to study only after business hours.

The four teachers employed in this department do not teach in the day school, and are therefore free to give their best work to the evening students.

In the shorthand department there are over one hundred typewriters, neostyle, memeograph, letter-press, tabulator, etc. The beginner's typewriting room is fifty feet square, and is well filled during evening sessions with young people who are being trained in the work of the business office. There is also an additional typewriting room for the advanced pupils. All English branches are taught here, in fact, everything taught in business colleges and all grade work, to the eighth, inclusive.

The penmanship work is conducted by one of the best-known penmen in the city, who has made penmanship his sole business for ten years.

Advanced banking work is a special feature of the book-keeping department.

In this evening school clerks may study shorthand and typewriting and go back to the offices where they are employed at better wages and better work. Young men engaged in railroading and employed by large corporations may improve themselves in penmanship and English and in all branches in which they are deficient and so put themselves early in the line of promotion.

Brownsberger, beautifully situated and easy of access, offers unusual attractions, both in school and home life to those who seek its advantages. It is open all the year. The evening sessions are held Mondays' Wednesdays and Fridays from 7 to 9. Strict individual work is the rule. Nos. 953-5-7 West Seventh street.

The Prize Schumann Piano

NOW ON VIEW IN THE WINDOW OF THE

BARLETT MUSIC CO.

231-233-235 S. Broadway

Opposite City Hall

As the close of the contest approaches the interest in the beautiful Schumann piano increases, and the friends of the high contestants are coming in great numbers to the Bartlett Music Company store to look at the instrument. The score shows a very close run between Merle Prewitt, Vivian Bassett and Bertha Smith. It would appear that the race for the piano, however, is between these three young ladies, and it would seem that the prize is well worth a little extra exertion, and a few yearly subscriptions might turn the score in favor of one of the leading contestants, and certainly it is not often that such a beautiful Schumann piano can be obtained with such a little amount of work. The time is short; the reward is great. Who wins?

DIAMONDS

Quoting prices on diamonds as an advertisement is unsatisfactory alike to the dealer and the reader. The dealer can give no clear idea of what he is offering for the money—nor can the reader form any conception. It is a fact that the channels through which our diamonds are obtained enable us to undersell other dealers and still make a profit for ourselves. You can verify this statement by comparison of prices and qualities.

Our diamonds are carefully examined by Mr. Cohn personally—his expert judgment passed on their quality. They are then priced and placed on sale. As a result no misstatement, no misrepresentation is ever made in our establishment concerning diamonds, however large or small the stone may be. Our window displays will give you some idea of the immensity of our diamond stock. We invite you to visit the store. You cannot realize what genuine bargains are here, until you see them for yourself.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

B'nai B'rith Dedication.

Dedicatory exercises for the reopening of Temple B'nai B'rith, which has been closed for renovation, will be held this evening. A sermon on "The American Jew and His Task" will be delivered by Rabbi Hecht.

Hostess Has Hober Haled.

Frank L. Hober was arrested yesterday in Central Park on charge of defrauding an inn keeper. The complaint had been issued for several days and was turned over to the park officer. According to the police, Mrs. Elise J. Bower is the complaining witness.

Members' Annual.

The Members' Annual of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has just been issued. It is a neat booklet of over 100 pages, and contains a wealth of information about the Chamber and its various enterprises. Valuable statistics of Los Angeles city are presented in succinct form so that they may be readily grasped by a busy reader.

Gasoline Tank Blows Up.

The explosion of a large gasoline tank at the rear of a grocery at No. 529 East First street owned by S. Kojima, set fire to a shed yesterday. The Japanese working in the store formed a bucket brigade and extinguished the flames on the adjoining outhouses and kept the fire in check until the department arrived. The damage was about $100, covered by insurance.

Artist Faculty Member.

Will Larrymore Smedley, an artist of note, has accepted a professorship in the Los Angeles School of Art and Design, and will arrive in Los Angeles about October 1. Mr. Smedley's home is in New York, and he is a member of the Society of Art and Illustrators of that city, as well as of several other like organizations. He has been educated in the sciences, and his specialty is figure portraiture and still-life work.

Federal Building Subcontracts.

J. M. Dugan of the firm of Dugan & Bringham, who have been awarded the contract for the new Federal building, left last night for the East, where he will consult large contracting firms relative to awarding subcontracts for the new structure. Mr. Dugan said that no subcontracts have been let, and that the Dugan-Bringham Company is doing the excavating and will put in the rougher concrete work on the foundations.

Union Truckman in Battle.

Labor-union blood ran high when F. R. Miller and Louis Deifs, truckmen, argued according to totem ethics as to who should get the job of moving the Record, a little evening newspaper. But city ordinances don't stand for the method the union truckmen used to settle the mooted question. They fought at Spring and First streets while women screamed. A patrolman took both to the Central Station, where they were charged with disturbing the peace.

For Brooklyn Heights.

The King's Highway Improvement Association met last night at Brooklyn and Echandia streets. A communication was read from Postmaster Flint, saying he would lend his aid to establish a branch postoffice on Brooklyn Heights. The association has also, after several efforts, succeeded in having the sidewalk on the First-street bridge condemned by the City Engineer, who also condemned the east approach of the bridge as unsafe.

Pittsburgh Man Purchases.

E. H. Antone of Pittsburgh, who is heavily interested in the American Bridge Company, and who has operated extensively in Los Angeles realty, has shown his continued faith in this city by an investment made yesterday, through the agency of Black Bros. He has purchased of John J. Thornton the vacant lot at the northwest corner of Seventh and Flower streets, 62½x115 feet, and will hold the property as an investment. The consideration was $93,750, being at the rate of $1500 per front foot.

Woodward's Condition Encouraging.

The condition of Robert Woodward, who has been at the Good Samaritan Hospital three days suffering from a bullet wound accidentally inflicted Monday morning, continued to improve yesterday, and the physicians feel encouraged by the boy's remarkable display of endurance. The bullet still remains lodged somewhere in the vicinity of the spinal column, and as soon as the young man gets back sufficient strength to warrant, another effort will be made to remove it, as his only hope of ultimate recovery must depend upon that.

Los Angeles-Iowa Branch.

At a meeting of former Iowa residents of Los Angeles branch of the Southern California Association was organized. There was a large attendance, and considerable enthusiasm shown. The object is the promotion of a closer union of the people from Iowa. J. J. Steadman of Council Bluffs was elected honorary president; J. H. McCord, Des Moines, president; Charles Yale, Glenwood, vice-president; Josiah Fisher, Sigourney, vice-president; H. P. Densel, Marshalltown, vice-president; T. N. Newell, Des Moines, vice-president; F. H. Nichols, Des Moines, secretary; J. A. McCahill, treasurer.

Auto Injures Boy Bicyclist.

John Batcheller, aged 14, of No. 1243 Fedora street, was seriously bruised about the body yesterday afternoon, when the bicycle he was riding collided with a runabout motor near Seventh and Figueroa streets. Witnesses say that James McAllister of No. 1824 West Sixth street, the chauffeur, was confused or might have prevented the accident. While young Batcheller lay tangled in the ruins of his wheel several boys followed McAllister and cried to him to stop. McAllister finally stopped his auto and went to the lad's side, and after examining him took him to the Receiving Hospital. McAllister may be prosecuted because there was no number on the auto.

Work of Humane Society.

Dearborn Humane Officer, and Virginia Heap, deputy.

TWO MEN FACE CHARGE.

Dan Cota of No. 917 East Seventh street and Erwin Farley of No. 1522 Griffin avenue, were arrested last night on a charge of disturbing the peace. According to the police, Farley, Cota and the latter's wife raised a disturbance in the Eureka Saloon on Main street. Both men were released on bail.

So said Jacob Meyer, president of the Tempered Ductile Metals Company, as he concluded an impassioned harangue to a meeting of about 100 stockholders of the company in the hall at No. 814 South Main street last night. He was an excited man.

W. A. Alderson, who followed him, began his exposition of the company's affairs by saying: "As long as Holley and Meyer are in control of this company, you will lose every dollar you have put in." Thereafter, as there has been in the past, there was war between the two. At some particularly incisive remark of Alderson's Meyer would arise and yell: "It's f-a-a-a-lse!" in a voice broken to falsetto by excitement and much shouting.

Altogether there was much excitement at the meeting, and foundation for slander suits galore. In every form but the direct, the lie was passed a score of times.

The trouble that has been brewing in the various companies for which the General Securities Company is fiscal agent has apparently come to a head in the case of the Tempered Ductile Metals Company. There have been several meetings of the stockholders, and two suits have been filed in connection with the company's affairs.

CALLS IT TREACHERY.

The officers of the company, who have been charged with mismanagement of its affairs, tampering with the stock and several other things of like nature, sent out a call for a meeting of the stockholders today. Several of the stockholders thought that they could have a freer meeting outside of the offices of the company, and called a meeting for last night. The officers did not appreciate that; indeed, Meyer referred to it as treachery. Robert E. Paulsen was selected chairman and H. D. Schultz secretary.

The officers of the company had been asked to be present and make any statement they cared to, and answer questions if they would. George W. Bishop, treasurer of the General Securities Company and a director of the metals company, was the first to make a statement. He endeavored to straighten out the financial relations of the two companies, and succeeded in keeping his temper, if he did not make the relations perfectly clear.

GOOD VERBAL FENCING.

Attorney J. W. Kemp, representing some of the stockholders, questioned him for some time in an endeavor to get various transactions straightened out. The result was good fencing between the two and little information.

Then Jacob Meyer, who, with William V. Holley, is the principal officer of the General Securities Company and the various companies for which that acts as fiscal agents, took the floor. He had been anxiously breaking in before, and now had a full sweep.

Meyer made a glorious exhibition of himself. His speech was histronic and vitrolic, and he lost control of himself and his voice a half dozen times. He attacked W. A. Alderson, former secretary and director of the metals company, and several other stockholders, saying that they had conspired to ruin him. He flatly accused Alderson of attempting to blackmail him into paying $10,000, of having had made a duplicate seal of the company, and of keeping a duplicate stock book. He also accused Alderson of selling stock alleged to be Alderson's private property, and of putting the money in his pocket. To an outsider this seems defensible, but Meyer dwelt on it as an act of treachery, as it forced down the price of stock in the open market.

"In this merciless slaughter of stock, with degrading and betraying men bucking you, what can an honest firm do?" Meyer asked.

BRANDED AS BUZZARDS.

Meyer also attacked very bitterly the men sending out the notice of the meeting and stated that they had come into the offices of the securities company without warning—"swooped down on us like a flock of buzzards," were his words.

After Meyer had made the remarks about his honor, there was a vigorous effort at applause made by his supporters. One man in particular clapped violently, and soon afterwards disappeared. Meyer bowed and thanked the audience.

Attorney Kemp attempted to ask Meyer some questions after the speech was over, but Meyer said he was not a criminal to be cross-examined, and refused to answer any.

Then W. A. Alderson took the floor, and entered into a close examination of the company's affairs. He had a bundle of papers, and supported many of his arguments with quoattions from letters and agreements. His manner was in great distinction to that of Meyer. He was cold, analytical, and as dispassionate as possible, though several times his voice was raised in anger as he defended himself from the charge made by Meyer.

He made several telling points, which were applauded. One of these was a statement made by Meyer that 100,000 shares of the stock had been sold, which Alderson stated he had in Meyer's handwriting. Attorney Kemp had some time before painfully extracted from Bishop that a little over 50,000 shares had been sold.

GO OVER SAME GROUND.

With some interruption from Meyer the same ground was gone over that has been already detailed in The Times—the formation of the metals company, its being financed by the securities company, the various contracts that were made with Dr. Vaughn, etc.

Alderson stated at one time that when a certain payment was due Dr. Vaughn, Meyer threw a roll of bills at him which was supposed to contain $750, and that when Alderson counted it there was only $350 there. Alderson challenged Meyer to deny this, and Meyer arose, denying part of the statement, but saying nothing about the rest. There was another passage of arms later over the same matter.

When Alderson finished his arraignment of Meyer and Holley, Meyer asked him a series of questions, all of which Alderson answered.

Tom Fitch, the silver-tongued, was present, and made a statement concerning the transaction of the 50,000 shares of stock, which has already been told of in The Times. He said that in his opinion, although it had been ratified by the directors, it was not legal, and that no court would uphold it.

WAR ON THE SLUMS NOW TO BE PRESSED.

Housing Commission Preparing to Renew Efforts for Betterment of the Shocking Conditions in Crowded Peon Quarters—Bad Situation.

THERE'S a renewed crusade against the crowded slums of Los Angeles to be undertaken almost immediately. The Housing Commission, appointed by the Mayor six months ago to investigate conditions in these filthy places and make recommendations toward remedying the evils, is to ask the City Council to take immediate action.

The conditions found by the Housing Commission in the course of its investigations are almost unbelievable, but a look into the particularly obnoxious districts shows that the worst has never been told. Times reporters and photographers went over the ground yesterday.

Filth and degradation have year by year been spreading in and pervading the Aliso-Utah-street section. Within the very shadow of the finest homes on Boyle Heights, just out of the vision of the tourists and suburbanites who daily pass by them in the Pasadena cars, the conditions have been daily growing to be more and more of a disgrace and a menace to the city.

The disgusting and unsanitary conditions in the peon settlements along the eastern side of the Los Angeles River, recently investigated by the Housing Commission, will almost seem incredible to people who are accustomed to looking upon Los Angeles as a city without slums. They are an evidence of the rapid growth of the city, showing it has boomed so fast that it has been impossible to properly direct all of the lines along which it has developed. The evils that have lain in the vicinity of Aliso and Utah streets, undisturbed and unknown to the mass of people, are indisputably as bad as those that exist in the famous slums of any other great American city. They have been allowed to continue to follow practically their own course without provisions being made to regulate or ameliorate them on the part of the bodies possessing the civic power to do so. Los Angeles has been so intent upon building her beautiful homes that she let her slums breed pestilence and crime almost without a word of protest.

GOOD WOMEN TAKE HOLD.

A few tender-hearted women have from time to time ventured into these neglected habitations of vice and sickness, but their feeble, though well-directed ministrations, could do little more than give temporary relief. From time to time efforts were made by these to get relief from the proper authorities, but the City Fathers never got to it. One of the most beautiful instances of woman's forethought and inspiration is shown in the work accomplished by the Women's Civic Federation. These women, unable to do all that their hearts prompted, unsupported and even discouraged by those whose duty it is to avert such blemishes upon the city's fair face and name, went bravely to work. What they did was this: They instituted a competition among the people crowded like cattle in the bare sheds on Utah street. They offered prizes to the peon family that should keep its garden in the best condition. There had been no gardens before; there was scarce room for them now; but the ladies of the federation found a way and a place. The distributed the seeds of all the green plants, and now the sides of the shanties, the paths and alleyways are covered with bean vines, sunflower plants, and big green leaves that glisten in the sunlight, and seem brighter and more beautiful because of all their squalid and miserable surroundings.

INSULTED BY SPOOK.

Not so beautiful to contemplate is the instance that accompanied the initiation of the movement now to be renewed for a betterment of the conditions. The measure providing for the appointment of the Housing Commission had been introduced into the City Council, and Dr. Coffey had risen upon the floor of the meeting and offered his professional services free of charge to the city in case of its adoption. The answer that this public-spirited offer met with was an outburst from one of the Councilmen who arose and declared that the whole thing was merely an attempt on the part of a few rich people to insult and make light of the poverty and misery of the poor of the city, and that he would urge upon his constituents in his own ward to do anything and everything within their means to defeat the objects of the commission. "If a single individual of that commission dares to enter private premises," he said, "I will advise the owners to use a revolver on him." Spook Howton, the "recall" freak from the Sixth Ward, is the Councilman to whom this insane speech is to be credited.

Finally, however, the commission was appointed, Dr. Coffey being given to understand that Howton represented the "recall" and not the Sixth Ward, so that the slur cast upon his proffered services could in no wise be looked upon as emanating from a duly qualified representative of his fellow-citizens.

The Housing Commission, as it now stands, consists of Dr. Coffey, chairman; Miss Mary A. Vieder, Elizabeth L. Kenney, Rev. William Horace Day, and Architect G. E. Bergstrom. Up to the commencement of Dr. Coffey's serious illness, which has incapacitated him for all work for the past two months, meetings were held twice a week, and several important lines of work were under way when they were suddenly stopped. Two measures in particular the commission was advocating, the first being an additional privy clause to the building ordinance, and the second a measure providing for the prevention of overcrowded conditions in the slums. The first of these plans had gone through its first stage of official maltreatment before Dr. Coffey was taken sick, having been returned to the commission with the reply that it should be embodied in the plumbing ordinance instead of the building ordinance. This saved the officials from further need of stalling, as Dr. Coffey was taken sick before the desired committee of the Council saw fit to meet.

SHAMEFUL CROWDING.

The two districts investigated by the men employed by the Housing Commission lie close together near the east bank of the river, almost directly opposite the gas works. As the Pasadena cars start up the hill beyond the river, the suburbanites notice on their left an unsuspicious looking corner lot, fenced with many-colored billboards, two tiers high, and backed with the thick, dark foliage of eucalyptus trees, ... extends back 100 feet, and there is nothing in its commonplace exterior to attract the gaze of the traveler for a second time. Nothing is there to suggest that within that small space, and behind those fences, about a hundred human beings are allowed to make their habitations amid conditions of filth and immorality unspeakable. Only once in a while, perhaps, when the breeze is blowing in the right direction, there will come a small still voice that even the deaf can hear, and once in a while little brown specimens of dwarfed humanity will appear in nature's garments just without the small opening in the billboards that serves as an entrance, and give the passengers a fleeting glance of a kind

LARGE SALE ON SEVENTH.

Corner at Olive Street Brings Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. Twenty-Fold Increase.

The activity in Seventh-street property, due to rumors of big developments along that street, has continued unabated. Yesterday a sale of considerable importance was consummated, whereby another corner, that on Seventh and Olive, has been transferred to new owners.

The lot is the southeast corner, with a frontage of 52 feet and a depth of 133. The price paid for it was $155,000, $2980 a front foot. In addition to the land, this price includes a two-story brick building, about fifteen years old. L. Breedlove was the purchaser and August Schmidt the grantor. The sale was made through W. B. Merwin and R. A. Rowan.

The property was purchased sixteen years ago by Mr. Schmidt for $5000, and the building cost him $15,000. The value of the land has increased almost twenty-fold since he bought it.

POLICE SEEK QUACK DENTIST.

Woman Declares He Swindled Her by Filling Ten Teeth With Cheap Cement.

Lightning tooth filling by a stranger, who carried his dentistry instruments in his pocket, brought Mrs. R. E. Hixon to the Police Station with a tale of deceit yesterday. The police want to find a man representing himself as Dr. Mayer of Mayer & Haslett, Mason building. It is believed he has been swindling many in the residence districts.

Mrs. Hixon says the man called on her Wednesday. He said he was Dr. Mayer, and described the firm. He was a pleasant talking man, and he told her he would fill her teeth with porcelain—latest thing and all that. He would do it reasonably.

Mrs. Hixon had him fill ten teeth. It took about half an hour or so. He collected $10. He said he would come back and finish the job—and collect the rest of the amount due. He did not come back. And the fillings turned out to be some sort of cheap cement, probably plaster of Paris.

Investigation by the police showed that no such firm as Mayer & Haslett has offices in the Mason building. The tooth filler is described as smooth-faced, about 5 feet 11 inches in height, 25 years of age, weighs about 160 pounds, and has a scar across the bridge of his nose.

CLUB WOMEN WILL MEET.

General Federation's Executive Committee to Convene in Saratoga in Two Weeks.

The Executive Committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will meet at the Carlsbad Hotel, Saratoga, N. Y., from the 20th to 22nd insts. Inclusive. At this meeting several important matters will be considered and among other things the place for the meeting of the next biennial will be determined upon.

In the race for this meeting, which will be held in May or June, 1908, are Little Rock, Ark.; Niagara Falls, New York City, which desires the women to meet at Atlantic City, and Jamestown, where the exposition will be held. The council will meet in 1907 and the place for this meeting will also be determined at this time.

Mrs. Cowles, in her capacity of a State officer of the federation, has received about $900 to be turned over to the relief of women and children in San Francisco. The money will go through the proper channels immediately. Much more than this amount had previously been contributed by women's clubs of other States to the San Francisco Relief Committee.

SEE THUGS ROB AGED MAN.

Husband and Wife Witness Hold-up and Sound Alarm, but Police Search Is Futile.

Two highwaymen robbed an aged man at the west end of the Macy-street bridge about 7:30 o'clock last evening, the hold-up being witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. John Samonda of No. 540 Gliardo street. Samonda sounded an alarm, but the footpads escaped and their victim disappeared before the arrival of the detectives. Samonda and his wife were walking along Macy street a short distance behind the old man. As the trio neared the west end of the bridge, two men, taken to be Mexicans, leaped from behind big wooden girders of the bridge and began to search the old man. Samonda was too frightened to speak at first, but at last caught hold of his wife's arm and ran to a near-by house, where he telephoned to the police

CHILD OF NINE ON LONG TRIP.

Crosses Whole Continent to See the Sights.

Nervy Lad Has Troubles, but "Gets There."

Attracted to San Francisco by Fire Reports.

Possessed of a consuming desire to reach San Francisco and see the ruin wrought by earthquake and fire, Frank Ramsay, a diminutive youngster of 9 years, whose home is in New York City, has worked his way entirely across the continent in the face of hardship which would have discouraged many three times his years. He left the Arcade Station yesterday afternoon on the 4:15 o'clock train for the north, and expects to reach his destination today.

According to the story told by the youngster, he has worked as a "newsie" in Gotham, and at the time of the San Francisco disaster read every word, and was especially interested in the descriptions of the great fire. He was at once filled with a desire to see the havoc and desolation in the flame-swept city and on Thursday, April 19, left New York to make his way to California.

The lad had only enough money to take him a short distance, and he had to work his way out of the Empire State. He went to Buffalo and sold papers on the streets there, but could not make money enough to purchase a ticket to the next town. Becoming discouraged he was about to give up the undertaking when he met a trainman to whom he told his story. In the caboose of a freight he began the first part of the journey, which resulted in his reaching Kansas City. There he met a serious obstacle, falling into the hands of the police.

Little Ramsay was returned to Buffalo instead of his home. Hard as it was to retrace his steps, he nevertheless took the entire journey back to his native State, but no sooner had he arrived than he began at once to make plans for another "try" for the West.

His slight knowledge of railroads helped him, and soon he was taken in by the crew of a freight train and again carried in state in the caboose. From crew to crew the little tourist was passed along, but again he met with signal failure. After going only

FRANK RAMSAY.

500 miles he was bundled back, this time to New York.

THIRD TIME SUCCESS.

For the third time he left New York and profiting by former experiences, he went right through and arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, having journeyed all the way as the guest of the train crews. His story became known to "brakies" and conductors, and, according to the lad, after coming to Los Angeles, these large-hearted men made up a purse and purchased him a ticket which should land him in San Francisco this morning.

The boy says he never had a father or mother and "jest lived anywhere." The "charities" had him for some time, he said, but as he straightened up his little body he declared he "could make his own livin'." He has thoroughly demonstrated the fact that he is able to care for himself. Though but a child, he has lived so close to the throbbing heart of the metropolis of the United States that he is old in a certain knowledge, and his large blue eyes tell their story of an understanding far beyond his years.

While the juvenile continent-trotter was talking to a Times reporter a sweet-faced deaconess, whose business it is to care for the needy, and whose special work is meeting trains with the hope of aiding any one in distress, approached. The lad eyed the woman nervously and said: "Gee, I got to move on. She's got her eye on me a' ready and I don't want to get pinched." Asked what he feared, he said he did not want to go to any home, but to San Francisco.

"She'd take me to some home and treat me fine, but I jest can't stand for anything like that. I got to get to 'Frisco."

Asked how he expected to live after he reaches his destination, he said: "Oh, the fellers will look out for me. Gee, their eyes will pop when I tell them where I've come from."

There seemed to be no reason whatever for turning the boy over to the authorities, and though it is certain that he could have been held, Frank Ramsay would have become a problem for the police.

Versed in the vernacular of the street and having a fearlessness which should carry him over every obstacle and which has resulted in his accomplishing an unusual journey, the tiny "newsie" is undoubtedly a boy who will "get there."

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Inspector of Public Works Hanley yesterday secured the indorsement of the Board of Public Works to his plan for compelling house-movers to keep the streets clear.

William Schmees who was refused a wholesale liquor license on Central avenue, and who was once defeated in an effort to force the police board to grant it, filed a second suit yesterday.

Within a few days the Board of Supervisors will fix the tax rate for the year, and if the compilation of figures prepared by the County Auditor are accepted, the levy will not exceed $1.

The charge of assault against Joe Lehin, husband of a gypsy queen, was dismissed yesterday by the District Attorney. Lehin may sue the queen's parents to recover the $1700 dowry he paid them before the wedding.

Justice Rose rendered a decision yesterday, discharging Charles Schreck, a restaurateur, charged with selling liquor on Sunday. The City Prosecutor's office will appeal from the decision to the higher court and will try to secure numerous convictions.

W. H. Garball, who gained some notoriety as a Coroner's juryman in the Freedman case, was again fined yesterday for drunkenness. Later in the day he was charged with embezzling cigars.

AT THE CITY HALL.

HOUSE-MOVERS MUST MOVE ON.

INSPECTOR HANLEY TIRES OF BLOCKADED STREETS.

Proposed Widening of Eighth Must Not Obstruct Building Operations. Defeated Applicant for Liquor License Files Second Suit—Displacing of Sweepers Considered.

James Hanley, Inspector of Public Works, is after the house movers with the intention of making them get a move on. It has been the habit of contractors to move a house on the street and then let it stand while they go and pull out another one, they figuring in this way to keep their men busy and get as many contracts as possible.

The result has been to blockade streets for days at a time, and all efforts to mend the matter seem to have been unavailing. The city ordinance requires that the work shall be done under inspectors authorized by the street department, at a salary of $3 a day, the salary to be paid by the contractor whose job the inspector is overseeing, during the time he is engaged.

The contractors have been accustomed to pay only for the days when the house was actually being moved, and while it stands in the street they have considered that the inspector was not working. Superintendent Hanley now proposes to make the movers work continuously at a house, once they move it into the street, in order to clear the street as soon as possible, and to bring this about will enforce a rule that the inspector must be paid for every day, from the time the house is put in the street until it is taken out again. He secured the indorsement of the Board of Public Works to this plan yesterday and he thinks it will be sufficient inducement to the contractors to get the old buildings out of the way as speedily as possible.

HOTEL PERMIT GRANTED.

EIGHTH-STREET WIDENING.

Robert Marsh & Co. yesterday consulted the City Attorney to secure his aid in compelling Building Superintendent Bacchus to issue a permit for the construction of a building on Eighth street.

They have the plans drawn and wish to immediately commence work on a handsome seven-story hotel between Hill and Olive. When they applied for the permit they were refused, on the ground that proceedings have been instituted for the widening of Eighth street and are now in the hands of the Board of Public Works. The proposal is to widen the street by cutting five feet from the property line on each side of the street, but it is yet a mooted question as to whether the plan can be carried through successfully.

The Marshes have made provision for this by arranging to set their hotel five feet back of the property line, but the bay windows from the third story up will still overhang the street two feet, which is contrary to the city building ordinance.

The City Attorney, through Chief Deputy Hewitt, rendered an opinion that inasmuch as the ground is still private property, the permit could not be refused, and instructed the superintendent to issue it.

SCHMEES'S NEW TACK.

STILL SEEKS A LICENSE.

If legal proceedings continue at the present rate against the Police Commission, it will be necessary to have a special deputy in the office of the City Attorney to look after this particular branch of legal business.

During the early part of June the commission granted the application of William N. Schmees for a wholesale liquor license at Twenty-seventh street and Central avenue, but it raised such a howl in the neighborhood that at the following meeting it was decided to reconsider the action, meantime giving the protestants a chance to be heard. At this meeting the application was denied.

Schmees at once sued out a writ of mandate to compel the City Clerk to issue the permit, in accordance with the first action of the commission. The Superior Court ruled against him and sustained the commission in the right to recall an order for the issuance of a permit, after the granting of a petition.

Yesterday Schmees went to it again, and, through his attorney, I. B. Dockweiler, filed another suit with notice to the City Attorney, in which Mayor McAleer and the individual members of the Police Commission are named as defendants. In this suit he seeks a review of the entire proceedings before the commission, with the object of compelling the issuance of the permit. The defendants are cited to appear in Department Nine of the Superior Court this morning before Judge Gibbs.

COST OF SWEEPING.

HANLEY GIVES FIGURES.

The Board of Public Works is canvassing the advisability of substituting pneumatic sweepers to displace the old rotary sweepers, which still do the work under Contractor Howard in the outlying paved districts. The two pneumatic sweepers, used in the business section of the city, swept last month a total of 4,769,647 yards, at a total cost of $1333.48, while Contractor Howard swept with his mule outfits, 12,000,000 yards, at a cost to the city of $1960. So far as cost is concerned, the difference is in favor of the old system, but the dust and imperfect work is the source of constant complaint. Inspector Hanley said, in speaking to the board of the matter:

"I admit the difference in cost is considerably in favor of Howard, but the pneumatics sweep with some sort of satisfaction, while the others do not."

It has been a common belief since the appearance on the streets of the pneumatic sweepers, that they consume the sweeping, but this is a mistake. They operate exactly on the principle of a carpet-sweeper, the brushes being turned by an engine, and are dumped at the end of each run at the extreme points to which they operate. Inspector Hanley was feeling very comfortable yesterday over the report he was able to make from his department. Every fund with the exception of the street-sprinkling fund, shows a good balance to its credit, but the latter always runs behind in the summer months and catches up in the winter.

CEMENT TESTS.

PRIVATE CHEMISTS COMPLAIN.

Complaint has been made by private chemits and assayers that their business was being hurt by the work of Maj. Robinet, who tests cement for the city in the basement of the City Hall. This official is supposed to test cement used by the city, when ordered by the City Engineer to do so, but the men who make complaint say that privats contractors and buyers of cement are going to the City Hall and securing tests of their cement, free of charge, to the injury of what has in the past been the source of considerable income to the chemists.

Maj. Robinet was asked about it yesterday, and he stated that he only made tests of cement when ordered to do so by the City Engineer, "or at least," he added, "that is the rule."

CITY HALL BRIEFS.

BIG CHECK FOR TAXES.

Representatives of the Santa Fé Railway called on the Board of Public Works yesterday and had a conference with reference to the adjustment of matters concerning the spur tracks on Mill street and Stephenson avenue, but no adjustment was arrived at.

The Glassell estate, after litigation extending over four years, yesterday paid into the City Treasurer $1335.15, due the city for personal property taxes assessed during the administration of Ben Ward as City Assessor. The unprofitableness of the litigation to the estate is shown by the fact that the penalty for failure to pay on time, interest on the debt, and costs incurred by the city in litigation, more than doubled the original sum. The check to the city was for $2739.84.

The Board of Public Works yesterday ordered 1000 barrels of crude oil for the use of the city, at 55 cents per barrel. The order was divided between the Harris Oil Company and the Parker Oil Company, one-half to each. The city still holds contracts for 500 barrels at 50 cents per barrel, but the law of supply and demand has increased the price, and no bids were submitted at so low a price.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

TAX RATE MAY BE ONE DOLLAR.

COUNTY AUDITOR'S STATEMENT READY FOR SUPERVISORS.

Board Will Fix Levy for the Year Within Next Several Days—Extra Tithe Will Probably Be Levied in City to Pay Interest on School Bonds and for Sinking Fund.

Under the law, the Board of Supervisors, will, within the next several days, fix the tax levy for the year, and if the prepared statement of the County Auditor is accepted the tax rate will be an even dollar.

The State rate is .476 and the county rate at .524 will make the $1 rate, exclusive of a special rate made necessary by the issuance of $520,000 bonds for Los Angeles city schools, and the $260,000 Los Angeles City High School bonds. That tax, however, will fall only upon taxpayers in the Los Angeles school district, which includes only two small strips of county territory adjoining the southwestern city boundary.

As made up by County Auditor Dow the rate will be made up as follows: General fund, .14; salary fund, .10; hospital fund, .06; common schools, .21; exposition fund, .004; county bonds, 1887, .003; county bonds, 1890, .007; total, .524, which added to the State rate brings the amount up to the amount stated.

The interest on the Los Angeles school bonds falls due on January 1, and so while taxes are payable in two parts, money has to be provided for this single payment in a lump sum. This special tax rate is placed at .04, and will produce into the county treasury about $68,000.

The value of the county's property amounts to $299,204,088, not including the railroad values which reach to $6,098,907, or a gross amount of $305,302,995. But for purposes of taxation certain deductions have to be made under the law. First of all come the regent's mortgages, which are not subject to taxation, and which amount to $768,665, thus leaving a sum of $304,534,330. From this sum a further deduction of 5 per cent. has to be made to provide for delinquent taxes, and will make the respectable aggregate of $14,921,771. Thus the net value of of county for purposes of general taxation amounts to $289,612,559.

There is one exception to this general rule, however, for in taxation for common school purposes, the regent's mortgages are deducted and then 15 per cent. of the remaining total. Thus for the school tax the total value of the county is only $259,769,017.

The work incident to the school bond issue, as well as the general increase in the county valuations, has placed County Auditor Dow in a quandry. He was the one county official whose grant for extra work was not increased by the last Legislature, and now the regular sum apportioned is wholly insufficient for office needs. It was by a mere oversight that his office was omitted by the Legislature, and ordinarily any such deficit is made up by a county official applying to the Board of Supervisors for such extra help as may be absolutely necessary. Last year, Mr. Dow kept within the limit and had a surplus at the year end of $43.50, but this year there are six additional tax rolls each of 300 pages, and the school bonds have to be entered up into eighteen rolls at considerable cost of time and money.

Yesterday when a demand was presented to the Supervisors for a small amount—less than $50—it was not exactly turned down, but was passed to the District Attorney. It is understood that Capt. Fredericks will O. K. the demand, but this way of meeting emergency demands is promising to cause some friction when the full flush of work begins in the auditor's office. As a matter of narrow technical law no office is entitled to more than the apportionment granted by the Legislature, but the District Attorney has more than once stated that it is not contemplated that any official is to be compelled either to let necessary work lapse for want of the money to have it done, or pay the deficit out of his own pocket.

At times in most of the county offices the office staff has worked for weeks together until midnight in order to keep matters straight, and that without any extra pay; but so far as may be the heads of departments are content if their subordinates will give faithful service during the regular hours of an ordinary day. In the meantime County Auditor Dow is wondering whether he is expected to pay for extra help out of his own pocket, or require his office staff to work until midnight for several weeks while getting the rolls ready for the County Tax Collector this year.

GYPSY HUSBAND FREE.

ASSAULT CHARGE FAILS.

Deputy District-Attorney Donnell yesterday dismissed the charge of assault that had been preferred against Joe Lehin by the mother of Lena Thompson, the gypsy girl who has been the pet of the tribe in their encampment at Eastlake Park.

While that action has made the girl and her husband happy, it has raised more trouble, and it will require a civil suit to straighten the kinks out. Maj. Donnell is inclined to believe the story of the girl, supported as it is by several members of the tribe, in which she claims that her father and mother have married her off three times; and that inasmuch as she loves this last husband, she wants to stay with him. Her parents, however, have found in their pretty young daughter a source of large profit, and being unable to get the girl away from her husband peaceably, trumped up the criminal charge in order to attain the same end.

Last Sunday Joe Lehin took out a marriage license and married the girl according to the American plan, but under gypsy rule the marriage had taken place some time before. According to the girl's account, she was first married off at Buenos Ayres, the parents of her husband giving her parents a sum of $700. But in a short time she was switched back under the wing of her father and mother again, and this branch of the tribe came to this country. At Chicago, Lena was again married off, this time $1000 dowry being paid over by the family of the husband, and again was she recovered back by her parents. Yesterday the mother of Joe Lehin and several other gypsies waited upon Maj. Donnell, asking for help in recovering the $1700 dowry that had been paid over to Lena's father and mother, and which, it is claimed, they have appropriated to their own use. The mother of Lena was advised that she didn't have a good cause for action, but that Lena could begin suit against her parents to compel them to disgorge the money.

TRANSIT COMPANY WINS.

NO DAMAGES TO WOMAN.

A jury in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday returned a verdict in favor of the Los Angeles Railway Company in the suit brought against the corporation by S. C. Shepard and Mrs. Louie Shepard to recover $20,000 as damages for injuries sustained by Mrs. Shepard when she was alighting from a car on May 15.

The verdict resulted from the belief of the jurymen that the plaintiffs had failed to make out a case. The testimony showed that Mrs. Shepard intended to get off the car at Twenty-fifth street and Maple avenue, but she failed to attract the attention of the conductor and was carried on to Twenty-eighth street, where the accident happened.

Mrs. Shepard contended that she did not try to alight until the car had stopped. Her hands were full of packages and so she could not take hold of the guard rail in getting off, which she did by facing at right angles to the car just as if descending a stairway. While in the act of stepping to the ground she claimed that the car jerked forward, and she was thrown down, breaking her leg at the left hip.

The evidence offered by the Los Angeles Railway Company negatived Mrs. Shepard's story somewhat, and as it happened there was only one other passenger on the car, an employé of the street railway company.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES; MISCELLANEOUS.

SUNDBERG DIVORCE. Marie Sundberg married Gustave Sundberg in Chicago in March, 1904, and within a month or two she was compelled to leave him. In August of the same year they made up, but in two weeks the husband again began his cruel treatment. In October of the same year he persuaded her to come to Los Angeles, and paid no further attention to her until she began the divorce action. Then he came to California to try to persuade her to dismiss the suit. She refused to do so and he returned east. Sundberg is well-to-do and is well established in Chicago.

MARIN'S LONG TERM. Because L. Marin stole some clothing and some soap from a room that he burglarized, and also because he had a prior conviction of grand larceny against him, Judge James yesterday sentenced him to six years at San Quentin. The defendant is a Mexican and pleaded guilty. The grand larceny charge was for stealing a bicycle for which he served a year in the penitentiary.

KILLED THE DOGS. C. F. Beutel of Prospect Park, is mourning the untimely fate of his two dogs, and yesterday he swore out a complaint against R. J. Toby, whom he charges with beating the animals to death. Beutel claims his dogs were quiet, well behaved and playful animals without intent to do injury to anyone.

ONEONTA COLLISION. A. N. Adams yesterday began suit against the Pacific-Electric Railway Company, to recover $10,000 as damages for injuries claimed to have been sustained in the collision that took place on July 28 between an electric car and a freight train. The car was run across the railway track just as the train was about to pass. Adams alleges that in the collision he received a severe shock to his nervous system, had one of his ribs fractured, suffered a puncture of the left lung, and had his right arm broken.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

WAR ON SUNDAY "RESTAURANTS."

CITY PROSECUTOR TO CARRY CASES TO HIGHER COURT.

Discharge of Proprietor of Turner Hall Causes Determination to Begin Active Crusade to Secure Convictions—Testimony Shows That Intent of Law Is Violated.

Assistant City Prosecutor Guy Eddie will carry the question of "restaurant" Sunday liquor selling to the district court. He took exception to Judge Rose's decision yesterday discharging Charles Schreck, proprietor of Turner Hall on Main street. The prosecution will file an appeal from the decision.

Schreck was charged by Officer W. M. Ingram with illegal liquor selling. While the evidence in the case showed that Turner Hall is a restaurant, the important point was brought out that the service of food there is made subsidiary to the sale of liquor. The intent of the law is that the exact contrary shall be the case.

The place has a restaurant license and the testimony showed that Schreck is using the restaurant license for the sale of liquor—in other words, making a Sunday saloon out of the place.

The city prosecutor's office will make a determined effort in the district court to convict Schreck. If this should be done the police will be able to close up many restaurants which make a specialty of selling liquor on Sundays with food as a side issue.

Garball Drunk Again.

W. H. Garball, under suspended sentence for drunkenness, was lucky enough to get off with a $5 fine in Judge Rose's court yesterday on that same charge. Three hours after he had left the courtroom a man came for a complaint against Garball on the charge of embezzling some cigars about a year ago. Garball was one of the jurymen who exonerated Charles Freedman from responsibility for the death of Francisco Martinez. Garball served time in the city jail, and says that during that time he became acquainted with Freedman.

Oviatt Will Appeal.

H. W. Oviatt of the Lyric Theater was fined $50 in Judge Rose's Court yesterday for employing child labor. This ended the Hazel Salmon case in the inferior court. Oviatt will appeal to the district court. Hazel Salmon is the child whose story was given in The Times yesterday.

Walsh Bound Over.

On the charge of assult with a deadly weapon W. H. Walsh was held over to the district court yesterday by Judge Rose. Walsh could not give $500 bail demanded and went to jail.

Respite for Mrs Schreck.

Mrs. Aurelia Schreck will not be given a preliminary examination until October on the charge of aiding toward the murder of her husband. This delay is owing to the vacation of Assistant District Attorney Fleming. The case will be postponed today until some time next month.

Gypsies Pay Fines.

Five dollars each was the fine paid in Judge Rose's court by the eleven Gypsies who were arrested for fighting over the possession of their queen on Sunday.

DEATH CALLS EDITOR HEINTZ.

Proprietor of the "Rural Californian" Dies After Many Years of Busy Life.

C. H. Heintz, for eighteen years proprietor and editor of the Rural Californian, died Wednesday afternoon at his residence, No. 2345 Scarff street, from a complication of diseases, which resulted in heart failure. He had resided in this city for twenty years, and became well known through his efforts to adjust the laws bearing on the reclamation of desert lands. His writings were published widely, and he made several trips to Washington with a view of bringing his methods more prominently before Congress. Much of his time was taken with this work while in Southern California and many years of his life were spent with planning to add a greater area of farming land to Arizona and Southern California.

Mr. Heintz was born in Denmark in 1848, and before coming to the United States took much interest in the political life of his country. He leaves a widow and eight children.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the family residence. Rev. Lewis Morris, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, will officiate.

At The Hague, the international conference on tuberculosis was opened yesterday with a good attendance, in the presence of Prince Henry of The Netherlands. French Foreign Minister Bourgeois was appointed president of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

We can sell you this stock while it lasts very reasonable. In fact, we consider that it is cheaper today in proportion than it was one year ago. There is not much more of this stock left. When the company made up its books the 1st of January, 1906, they had only 29,000 shares left on its books. We do not think that it will take long to dispose of this. Our method of disposing of this stock gives the party with small means an equal chance. Remember that as soon as you make your first payment, from that day you have the benefits of all advances. Detectives Zeigler and Hosick, the officers, have secured much information against the prisoners. The records of the Broadway Department store identified considerable goods. The store is among the number alleged to have been robbed of goods by the Ellsworth woman, the little girl being sent to divert the attention of clerks while merchandise was stolen.

Further cross-questioning of the prisoners found the child the representative of the family. Failing to buy anything incriminating parents. They did the confessing without any betrayal from the child's lips.

Ellsworth and his wife will be arraigned in the Police Court today on charges of grand larceny. In the recovered loot are the following articles: Two large suit cases, 1 hand grip, 1 pair boy's shoes, 1 gold band ring, 1 village shoe, 1 ink stand, marble, surmounted by brass eagle and thermometer; 5 lady's hand bags, 1 Japanese ash tray, 12 books, Shakespeare's works; Life of McKinley, Union and Reunion, Religious Knowledge, Sunlight and Shadow, Life of Frances E. Willard, Plain Facts, Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, From Manger to Throne, Century Encyclopedia; miscellaneous assortment fine clothing—1 10-yard suit pattern, 6 abalone-shell ink wells, 1 gold bracelet set with diamonds, 1 gold watch, 1 Japanese kimono, 1 razor strop, 1 complete set Whittier's historical series.

WOMAN'S ALARM NABS BURGLAR.

BOLD DAYLIGHT HOUSE ROBBER TAKEN AT SCENE OF CRIME.

Matron Sees Him Enter Residence With Skeleton Key and at Once Notifies the Police—Prisoner Confesses to Other Offenses and Shows Where He Sold Loot.

Prompt action on the part of Mrs. O. A. Chamberlain, of No. 358 East Thirty-third street, resulted in the capture of Louis Bechtel, a daring daylight burglar yesterday afternoon. Bechtel confessed to other crimes than that which brough his downfall. He is less than 20 years of age; but he had gone through the home of George W. Taylor, at No. 359 East Thirty-third street, coolly and systematically.

Mrs. Chamberlain looked from her front window across the street toward the Taylor home. She knew the family was away; and when she saw a young man climbing the front steps she expected to see him knock, wait and then leave. He did not. On the contrary the young man produced a skeleton key. Mrs. Chamberlain saw him stoop to fit this in the lock. In a moment he had entered the house, and so carelessly that it was slow in impressing itself on her that the young man was a thief.

Then Mrs. Chamberlain acted. Patrolmen Burney and Brooks of the University sub-station, live in the neighborhood. She sent word to the former. He got Brooks. The two officers hurried to the Taylor home.

As the patrolmen reached the yard, Bechtel left the house by the front door. They overtook him on the sidewalk. He looked into their faces as they seized him and showed no loss of composure. Investigation showed that the daylight burglar had gone through the house from top to bottom, ransacking bureau drawers, in an effort to find money. He had taken nothing.

At the sub-station Bechtel admitted that he had committed burglary two days ago in Pasadena. In his loot was a cornet. He showed the officers where he had sold it.

FUGITIVE SLAYER TAKEN HERE.

Negro Murderer of Shreveport Is Captured on Street Car in This City.

Sylvester Session, a negro, wanted in Shreveport, La., for the murder of Miss Jane Thompson, colored, was captured on a Pasadena car in this city yesterday by Patrolman Stevens, a negro.

The fugitive has been going under the name of Griffith. While Stevens was on the car Sessions boarded it and the patrolman at once recognized him from the pictures sent out by the Shreveport police after Session had fled from the scene of the murder.

Stevens was in plain clothes. He walked across the car and asked pleasantly: "Is this Mr. Griffith?"

"Yes, that's me," said Session.

"How d'you do, anyhow," and Stevens extended his hand. Griffith grasped it. At the same moment Stevens with his left hand slipped handcuffs on the fugitive's wrist.

"Why, why, why what-a-a-t'yo' all tryin' t'do?" stammered the prisoner. Stevens told him and together they went to the Central Police Station.

Session later admitted that he had done the killing. In his account of the woman's death Session said he had gone to visit her. He had laid down a revolver on a washstand. In a scuffle with the woman while he was taking up the weapon it was discharged. The Shreveport authorities were notified of the capture.

ARRESTED AS WIFE-BEATER.

Felix Ritch was arrested at his home on Budlong avenue yesterday by officers from the University Station on the charge of beating his wife. The police say that the warrant was issued on the application of Mrs. Ritch and that the prisoner has been mixed up in family troubles for some time.

CONVENTION CLOSES.

Enthusiastic Rally of Young People of Los Angeles Presbytery Comes as Climax to Meetings.

The convention of young people's societies of the Los Angeles Presbytery, which has been in session in the Second United Presbyterian Church corner of Washington and Santee streets for two days, closed last night with an enthusiastic rally. The meetings have been well attended and the gathering was the largest held in the history of the societies.

The all-day meetings were opened yesterday morning with a praise service which was followed at 9:40 o'clock by messages from the societies of Southern California. There were young men's and young women's bible classes during the morning.

The afternoon was devoted to the reports from committees and to the election of officers. Mrs. H. G. Dean of Los Angeles was chosen president, Miss C. Smart of Santa Ana, first vice-president; E. F. Gray of Los Angeles, corresponding secretary; Miss Olive Kelso of Pasadena, recording secretary; M. Lynn of Redlands, treasurer.

IN TOILS AS A LIBELER.

Charles Sievers, of No. 123 Workman street, was arrested by a county officer at his home last evening, on a charge of sending libelous matter through the United States mails. The officer showed an envelope supposed to be identical with those sent through the mails on which is printed "Humboldt Brewing Company Exposed." It was at the instigation of the Federal authorities that Sievers was taken into custody.

SEEKS ARREST OF LANDLORD.

Mrs. A. Harasewitz of No. 1006 East Seventh street, called at the Central Station last evening and applied to the police for the arrest of her landlord. She alleged that as soon as her husband paid the rent they were ejected from the house together with their goods. The police explained that they could take no action in the matter without a warrant.

It Stands Supreme

In Natural Scenic and Commercial Advantages

Nature made it the most attractive sea front on the Coast. Two lofty mountain ranges tower north and south of it. It faces the placid waters of the channel, protected by the islands of Anacapa, Santa Cruz and Santa Rosa. It feels no stormy weather. It has no undertow. Boating, bathing and fishing are safe and pleasant pastimes. The climate is equable, being cool compared with other sections, in summer, and mild in winter. As a resort, with abundance of pure water spouting from an artesian well right on the ocean front, it possesses advantages found nowhere else. As a commercial port it has been known for years for its importance. It is possessed of a fine freight pier at which the largest steamers load and unload. It has seven immense freight warehouses. The Bakersfield & Ventura Railway makes it its terminus. The road penetrates the rich and fertile San Joaquin Valley. On the south the new electric line now building, the Santa Monica, Malibu & Ormond, makes Ormond Beach the chief attraction of a beautiful seacoast route from Santa Monica. Its resort and commercial features will be pushed to the utmost with added railway facilities. Commercially it will become the San Pedro of Ventura county. As a resort it will attract visitors from every section. As an investment it will repeat the money-making days of Long Beach, Ocean Park, Santa Monica and others.

As far as "Black" Hayes is concerned, it must be said that it never did look very bright for him.

Mining stocks in Goldfield are reported falling. Fellows who lost on the prize fight needed the money.

Walter Parker will return from Santa Cruz in time to at least take a look in at the city convention.

It is reported that the Hayes brothers have returned to San José with the suspicion that Ruef was in the cellar.

Accidents will happen, of course, but the convention took good care that Pardee did not happen a second time.

There seems to be a rivalry between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hearst as to who can score the greatest number of lickings.

The State Republican ticket looks straight and clean. The convention could have gone farther and fared worse.

Mayor Schmitz seems to have cut the same figure at Santa Cruz that a brickbat would if it were fired into a fog bank.

Candidate Gillett has a good face, and when he is elected Governor, we hope he will do a great many things to save it.

The signs are thickening that Mr. Bryan will be compelled to form a new party to stand for the platform he is originating.

Mr. Gillett comes from the Humboldt forests, but he will not be compelled to take to the woods after the votes are counted.

There is a great light breaking over San Francisco, and, in the illumination, the face of Patrick Calhoun is plainly discernible.

When the roll was called in the convention there may have been delegates who said "Porter" who felt more like saying beer.

That new political party in Russia called the "Peaceful Regenerationists" must be a close second to the Salvation Army in this country.

A few more men with backbones like Patrick Calhoun's and even strike-cursed San Francisco will be able to draw a free breath.

When Mr. Bryan visits Panama he will have another chance to see what the Republican party has done for the progress of the nation and the world.

Mr. Jerome says the nation is not in need of new laws. It's a fact, and we would all be better off for awhile if we dispensed with the lawmakers, too.

The boys who are out for what's in it doubtless regard Hearst's League as simply offering additional opportunities to get another pull at Hearst's leg.

Secretary Taft took no chances with the truth when he said that Democrats in Congress are no help to the President. They are not even a help to themselves.

Up to date there are twenty-seven different factions reported as parts of the Social Democratic party in Russia. This is just 11,283 short of the number of factions in the Democratic party of this country.

A Milwaukee photographer says it is harder to take a good photograph than to make a good painting. He has evidently been trying to make Milwaukee girls look the way they would like to look.

The unterrified Democracy of Los Angeles county will go to Sacramento on Saturday next a unit for Nathan Cole for Governor. If Cole receives the nomination he will cut the Republican majority in this town down to about 28,000.

If we understand Japan correctly, she desires, in the fewest words possible, to convey the information that what Great Britain does not know about keeping up a war establishment would fill a big book.

Banker Stensland was really headed for Russia, where he hoped to lose himself in the riots. He will probably stand a good chance to lose himself in a riot when he reaches Chicago where his former depositors can catch sight of him.

Banker P. O. Stensland was seen in London on August 10, and "had plenty of money." If he had been seen in Chicago, where 15,000 depositors stormed the wrecked bank, he would have been "plucked" with even less mercy than he showed to the victims of his treachery.

WHO FOR MAYOR?

Somewhat critical is the Mayoralty situation in Los Angeles at this hour, and the conditions call for the exercise of discretion as well as the other and lesser parts of valor. A common enemy, an ever active and vigilant enemy, is on the alert day and night, anxious to wrest the control of Los Angeles from the civic influences to which her prosperity is due and her future may be most safely committed.

It is known that the majority of the Non-Partisan committee would place W. J. Washburn in nomination for Mayor. Mr. Washburn would make an excellent Mayor. He has served and is serving with distinction as president of the School Board, president of the Chamber of Commerce and in other public capacities. He is a public-spirited citizen as well as a successful man of affairs, who has given generously of his time and talents to advance the welfare of his fellow-men. He has done yeoman's work for the great Owens River water enterprise, for a free harbor and for the consolidation of city and county governments. He is progressive and aggressive, and all the time very much alive, with a moral fiber of the best.

Looming up as the favorite candidate in the Republican organization is Dr. Walter Lindley, a strong man, a brilliant man, a man of great achievements and of unblemished repute, who would command a large following outside of party lines and would be a Mayor to be proud of. Dr. Lindley has been one of the great upbuilders of Los Angeles and Southern California and has lent a helping hand whenever the call came. He is thoroughly in sympathy with all the grand plans for progress and development which our people have at heart.

It should be said that neither of these gentlemen is a self-announced or self-seeking candidate. Each has consented to be considered, even, with the utmost reluctance and only from a sense of civic duty. It has been only after the most earnest persuasion that Dr. Lindley or Mr. Washburn has harbored the idea of possibly making the necessary sacrifice. One thing is certain—it is a very encouraging symptom when two such citizens evince a willingness to serve the city in such a trying and racking office as that of Mayor. Seldom have citizens of their calibre consented to take on such a load of trouble if called to it.

Now it would be a misfortune if each of these gentlemen should formally enter the lists, one on a Non-Partisan and the other on the regular Republican ticket. The result would be a division of the sane and high-minded voters of the city, the voters with true ideals—presenting a chance for some agitator or demagogue to get a plurality over either of the two deserving candidates or by some accident to slip into office. With the army of civic patriotism hopelessly divided against itself, there would be the best opportunity in the world for the faddists, socialists, walking delegates, boozelites and discontented ones of all breeds and shades of yellowness to make common cause, rally around a demagogic leader like Schmitz and capture the city, with loot as their all-possessing motive. This is just what happened in San Francisco, and bitter is the penalty her citizens have paid.

Here is the peril. Will those who are shaping our political affairs in Los Angeles have the wisdom and the tact to avert it? Both of the gentlemen we have named should not be nominated for Mayor. With a united support either can win. If both go before the people, both are likely to lose. As The Times has repeatedly declared, there should be a union of the forces of genuine reform with the elements of political strength. The Republicans make up the great, dominating, majority force in Los Angeles, and nine out of ten Republicans are in sincere sympathy with the purposes of the Non-Partisans. Under these circumstances, why should there be any pulling apart? Why should there not be a getting-together? Would it be the part of prudence to present a weak, broken front to the spoils-hungry and insidious foe seeking to put bail and chain on the city's industries? Or would it be good hard sense to bring all the friends of good government and industrial freedom into one solid and invincible phalanx behind one leader whom all can enthusiastically and confidently follow?

The real issue is not factional—it is not "machine or anti-machine." The real issue is whether Roosevelt ideas or the Schmitz-Ruef-McCarthy propaganda shall control the destinies of Los Angeles.

During the street-car strike in San Francisco the people of that town enjoyed the experience of having their legs stretched, and the Carmen's Union came within an ace of having its neck stretched.

A STRONG TICKET.

Regard for the interests of the State and political wisdom were shown by the Republican Convention at Santa Cruz in choosing J. N. Gillett as the party's candidate for Governor. Mr. Gillett's record in the State Legislature and in Congress proves his ability and his fitness for the office of Governor, and in all respects he has the strength required of a leader of the party. The convention could not have made a more judicious choice.

The nominee is a native of Wisconsin, but a citizen of California since 1884. He has had long experience in the public service, having been City Attorney of Eureka for six years, a State Senator, and member of Congress since 1902. In places of public trust he has shown himself able, energetic and in every way worthy of confidence, and his popularity is based upon public recognition of his service and his character.

Warren R. Porter, nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, is a native Californian and one of the best-known business men in the State. His name adds strength to the ticket, and his nomination reflects credit on the judgment and political sagacity of the convention.

No stronger commendation of the convention's work could be given than the simple statement of fact that the ticket would be equally good either end foremost.

EXCLUSION OF JAPANESE.

The Republican State convention at Santa Cruz marred an otherwise excellent platform by the insertion of a plank favoring the exclusion of the Japanese from this country, in common with the Chinese and other Asiatics.

The most charitable view to take of this pronunciamento is that it was wedged in the platform by some agitator and that it slipped through without having received the careful scrutiny of the sensible and conservative elements of the convention. That it does not represent the sentiments of the Republican party in the State at large, or of the people of California, is certain. And for very good reasons.

In the first place, California needs the Japanese. She needs them in the fields, on the ranches, in the orchards and in the households of the commonwealth throughout its whole length and breadth. At this very hour the ranchers, farmers and orchardists of the State could make good use of 50,000 more Japanese laborers than are now available. As many more would be welcome in other branches of industry, in the factories, mills and shops and on the railroads. They are needed to a great extent to perform work that white men no longer care to do, and which there are not the white men here to do, anyway.

In the second place, the utterances of the convention serve as a gratuitous and unwise insult to a friendly nation with which we are at peace and with which we desire to do business. The Japanese are sensitive and proud. It would not be surprising if they paid California back in the same coin and with interest. Millions of dollars of the trade of Japan comes annually to California. The Japanese can easily divert that trade into other channels, and would certainly do so if they were convinced of the existence of a hostile sentiment against them here.

If the exclusion plank was inserted in the platform merely as a political sop to certain agitators of the labor unions, it was a cheap piece of buncombe unworthy of the Republican party. That there will be no Japanese exclusion everybody knows who knows anything. And the California delegation in the next Congress will not be found advocating such a measure, notwithstanding the silly play made by this convention.

With the harvest fields of the Golden State crying for help that isn't in sight, what could the delegates at Santa Cruz have been thinking of to allow themselves to go on record in favor of excluding the useful Japanese? They must have been woolgathering.

A DEMONSTRATION.

The message of congratulation which the Citizens' Alliance of Los Angeles sends to President Calhoun of the United Railroads is a graceful and deserved recognition of the courageous stand taken by Mr. Calhoun for a just principle of industrial practice—a principle which unionists are quick to preach but slow to practice.

The Carmen's Union of San Francisco violated ith own constitution and bylaws in declaring a strike before offering to arbitrate the questions at issue. In addition it violated a solemn contract into which it had entered in apparent good faith. The unwavering attitude of President Calhoun virtually forced the members of the Carmen's Union to go back to work or remain in the position of outsiders, no longer in the service of the United Railroads, and therefore incompetent to enter into negotiations of any kind with the company.

President Calhoun's manly stand won for him a victory which will have a salutary effect in the city of San Francisco. It is a practical demonstration to the people of that union-cursed town that they need not submit to the despotism of leagued unions led by conscienceless scoundrels.

The successful fight made by Patrick Calhoun was the one thing needed to open the eyes and stiffen the backbones of employers of labor in San Francisco. Probably three-fourths of the people of that city feel, deep in their hearts, a sense of humiliation and disgust because of their subserviency, their supineness, their lack of spirit, in the face of innumerable wrongs laid upon them by the banded brigands of industry.

President Calhoun has torn a rift in the cloud of gloom, and has let in the sunlight. He has pointed the way. He has shown that "a solemn obligation cannot be violated at the command of labor leaders and agitators."

If employers in general would emulate the example of President Calhoun and of the united employers of Los Angeles, the power of the labor agitator and demagogue would soon be broken, and the whole industrial world would take a long step in the direction of true progress, justice, freedom and prosperity.

THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

The Umbrellaphant.

The Umbrellaphant is a curious beast—
He will make you aware he is by
Through a gentle reminder, or hinting, at least,
When he pokes a lean rib in your eye.
(He is much like you gun, or your new dinner suit—
When afar on your travels you roam
And are asked out to dine or are Jumped to shoot,
Then you find you have left them at home.)

The Umbrellaphant has a peace-breaking way
Of reposing in care of a friend
Who has called in a hurry some storm-threatened day,
And induced you, unwisely, to lend.
And, however, if he goes with you through the streets,
He will vanish with mystical speed
Ten minutes before it is raining in sheets.
And you realize then what you need.

The Umbrellaphant—Here's a curious fact
In regard to this curious thing—
Has a fashion of testing the manners and tact
Of all men from the slave to the king.
And a curious, curious, curious truth
That we shall not attempt to explain
Is that Umbrellaphants, from old age down to youth,
Must be raised, to be best, in the rain!

Balancing Up.

The husband is about to leave on a business trip. Giving his wife a hasty That night, having reached his destination, he sends her this telegram: kiss he starts for the door when he hears her burst into sobs.

"What's wrong?" he asks. "You're not sorry I'm going away, are you?"

"N—no—yes, I am. But I was just thinking how seldom you kiss me now. When we were first married you kissed me at least a thousand times a year. These past two years you have forgotten almost every day to kiss me good-by when you left for the office."

"Tut, tut," says the husband, kissing her once more and hurrying out. "Don't be foolish."

But on the train he begins to think about it, and concludes that after all perhaps he has not been as attentive as he might have been.

"She is a good wife," he says, "I must make amends."

"Arrived safely. Outlook good. Send you three thousand kisses in full of account."

Quick Study.

"Hello," we say to our enthusiastic young friend who has announced his intention of working with the laboring men and entering into the life of the downtrodden. "Hello! Thought you had taken a job as hod carrier and were going to stick at it until you knew by actual experience what it means to lug a hod up and down a ladder day in and day out."

"Well," he replies, rubbing his shoulder, "I—er—you see, I did take the job, and I learned all about it in four trips up and down the ladder."

The Last Straw.

There were two men. One of them was a fat man—one of the sort of fat men who always looked comfortable though warm, in hot weather. The other was one of these wasted, skinny, hopeless-eyed men who always look as though their inner works had been removed and they had been stuffed with despair for the summer. There was plenty of perspiration on the fat man, but he let it trickle down his face and now and then mopped it off with a gurgling gasp that might have expressed satisfaction, and very possibly did. From time to time the thin, unhappy man would swab a soaked handkerchief across his own face, leaving it redder, and his eyes sadder, than before.

"Gosh, but she's hot!" said the fat man, confidentially t othe thin man.

For a momen there was a baleful glitter in the eyes of the thin man, but he swabbed his face and was silent.

"She's a gettin' hotter all the time," remarked the fat man, almost cheerily.

He gave himself up to unalloyed enjoyment of the heat, and looked with what seemed to be envy upon his thin brother, who sat there in all the seething rage of one whose garments hang limply upon him and whose neck shrivels every time it touches his collar.

"Is she hot enough for you?" inquired the fat man, pausing with his handkerchief at the back of his neck. The thermometer jumped two degrees, but the thin man said nothing.

"Lots o' jokes written about that, ain't there?" asked the fat man. "Just the same, it comes natural for a man to ask it. Sort o' makes him forget the heat. I wish't I'd melt down to about your size. Ha, ha."

The thin man narrowed his eyelids and peered at the fat one. But the fat man had taken off his hat and was baring his brow to the fitful breeze of hot air which staggered down the street.

"Even the wind's hot," sighed the fat man. "By cracky! I'd like to be one o' those fellers tryin' to find the North Pole. How'd that be, hey?"

The thin man twitched uneasily on his chair, and his fingers shut and opened nervously.

"Thousand an' one rules for keepin' cool," continued the fat man, "but I never found one o' them that didn't make me get all het up tryin' to follow it. Best way to do is to sit still an' let the mercury poke a hole in the end o' the tube an' go as high as it blame pleases, just like me an' you is doin'. Ain't that so?"

The thin man began chewing his wispy mustache. The fat man took out a fresh handkerchief, mopped his brow, his bald spot, his cheeks, his throat, his chin, and then with an "Ah-h-h!" of comfort mopped the back of his neck.

"Somebody ought to stick a fork in me an' see if I ain't about done," he chuckled, his fat sides shaking and his double chins quivering. The thin man preserved his aspect of brooding gloominess.

The fat man lighted a cigar and puffed meditatively for a while, then observed, as though the fact had just struck him:

"By ginger; she's hot!"

The thin man nervously dabbed his handkerchief over his fafe, and the fat man began again:

"Say, how'd you like to be out in the country along about now?"

The thin man hitched himself to a cool spot in his chair and again there came into his eyes a purple gleam.

"Back on the old farm, huh?" grinned the fat man, letting the words float out with the smoke of his cigar. "Back on the old farm, under the shade of the big old harvest apple tree about half-way between the house and the barnyard fence." He shut his eyes and babbled on:

"Under the shade of that old tree! Um-m-m! Grass about a foot high, and cool! Just coaxin' you to lie down in it. An' every now an' then a whiff o' clover comin' in on the breeze!"

The thin man was leaning forward, licking his sweat-flecked lips in the manner of a tiger approaching its prey, but the fat man's eyes were closed and he murmured on:

"An' how'd you like to lay there, until bimeby you'd get up an' stretch yourself, an' saunter off down the hill to the branch, where there was a springhouse, an' the inside o' the springhouse was dark, an' cool, an' coo-oo-ool!"

The thin man was crouching over now, but the fat man went on unheeding:

"An'd you'd slip into the springhouse, an' away back in a dark corner, you'd find the churn, its sides drippin', an' you'd take the big tin dipper an' get it full o' buttermilk, an'—O ouch! Take him off, somebody!"

But the thin man had jammed his fist five times in the fat man's eyes and was stalking down street.

Landlord (to struggling and impecunious artist:) Look here, I can see that I shall have to wait a very long time for my rent. I'll be generous. I'll make you a present of half the sum you owe me.

Artist: Sir, your magnanimity calls for a reply. You abandon half the rent. I'll abandon the other half.—[Rire.

M. Adrien Hebrard, the director of the Tempes, is one of the best men in Paris to tell a story. He should be heard to be appreciated. The other day some one was referring to the pelican of the fable, who tore its body open and fed its young on its inside. Hebrard soon interrupted the conversation with a hint that the fable was being wrongly quoted.

"For the first few days," he said, "the pelican family managed very well. But at the end of the first week the elder of the young pelicans got tired of the menu. He could stand it no longer, so said to the older bird: 'Look here, this has got to stop. Tripe at every meal every day. I vote for a change.' "—[Cri de Paris.

The Summer South Wind.

From the first hint of faint auroral light
In the tall maples cincturing our lawn
The south wind fluted softly, nor was gone
When the all-amber noon was at its height;
And still when day dusked slowly into night,
The melody, antiphonal of dawn,
Deepened in timber, nor was it withdrawn
When storm's dark mantel shut the stars from sight.

Stronger it grew in volume like the vast
Plunge and recoil of the unplumbed seas—
The mighty diapason of the main;
Nor did it cease its murmur till at last
Quelled into quietude by long degrees
Through the incessant reasoning of the rain.

It shall live splendid till the stars shall cease;
The world shall rate thee at thy truest worth;
Toil on and be at peace!

THE HISTORY OF TARIFF REVISION.

[Written for The Times by Walter J. Ballard.]

The economic history of the United States tells very clearly and unmistakably that tariff revision downward has always resulted in a lessening of prosperity, and vice-versa. A brief reference to our various tariffs and various revisions will make this plain to the average reader.

Our first protective tariff law was signed by President Washington on July 4, 1789. It was called our "Second Declaration of Independence." And so it proved, independence from hard times. Promptly it restored our national credit and filled our national treasury just as the present protective tariff of 1897 (note the coincident reversal of figures.)

This tariff continued till the war of 1812 when Congress revised it upward by 100 per cent to stand good till one year after the close of the war. Under this upward revision the prosperity of the country was the greatest ever known up to that time. The war closed in 1815 and the tariff in question would have expired in 1816. It was then Congress made a great mistake. It revised the tariff downward (just as the tariff revisionists of today want to do) and a severe panic immediately followed, and hard times strenuously prevailed for seven years. Said Congressman McCleary, of Minnesota, in the House on June 25, last, "It took Henry Clay and other leaders of thought more than five years to get the nation educated up to the point where the people understood that a protective tariff which does not protect is a delusion and a snare. Then it was determined to 'revise upward' again." It was "revision upward" in 1824 and 1828, and prosperity resulted. Speaking in 1831, Henry Clay said:

"If one desires to find the seven years of greatest adversity in this country, since the adoption of our Constitution, let him examine the seven years before 1824. If one seeks the years of our greatest prosperity they are the seven years following the passage of the (tariff) act of 1824." The North with its free labor benefitted most, and the South with its slave labor became jealous. Opposition in the South against the protective tariff developed.

This resulted in another "revision downward" in 1832 and 1833, followed, as usual, by hard times, just as in 1894-1896. England, in 1832, had removed her duty on raw cotton, and the South no longer felt the need of the Northern cotton mills. Then a cyclonic wave of demand for a "tariff for revenue only" swept over the South. South Carolina threatened to secede if the existing tariff was enforced. But, there being surplus revenue, the tariff was "revised downward" in 1832, but it was still protective on competing articles. This did not satisfy the South, and in 1833 the tariff was further "revised downward" beginning January 1, 1836. Then came hard times again and the panic of 1837.

These hard times continued till 1842, when there was another "revision upward." The election in 1840, of William Henry Harrison, a pronounced protectionist, foreshadowed this necessary change. This revision raised the average duties from 16½ per cent to 25 per cent. The result, as usual, was a restoration of prosperity until 1846.

"Revision downward" followed in 1846 with mixed results. It was in that year that England renewed her duty on food products under the Cobden cry of "Free Trade" (so-called.) This gave the farmers of the North free entry into British markets and they joined the planters of the South in a cry of "tariff for revenue only." The Walker tariff of 1846, somewhat along that line resulted. This tariff, however, had almost no free list, and the law was intentionally not adequately protective. It was neither fish, flesh, fowl nor good red herring." That the usual disastrous results of hard times did not at once follow this "revision downward" was due to several peculiar circumstances, though when it came (panic of 1857) it was worse than ever. Concurrent with the adoption of the Walker tariff came our war with Mexico. This was followed by the famine in Ireland in 1847-8, and by revolutions in Europe, all serious-ly curtailing production in the countries affected, and creating an abnormal demand for American products. Then, in '49, came the discovery of gold in California, followed by a similar discovery in Australia. The Crimean war of 1854-56 ensued. All these events encouraged production and prosperity in the United States. The tariff revisionist newspapers of today are saying: "Why not revise? The two-year period of the Walker low-tariff of 1846, was the most prosperous this country ever saw." But they carefully omit all reference to England's 1846 adoption of free-trade in food products, and the other foreign demand — creating events already enumerated, none of which events, nor corresponding ones, are before us today. Comparing 1846-56 with 1906, is utterly unfair and illogical.

By 1857 the Crimean war was over and the other demand-creating events had spent their force. Then we had to produce and make for ourselves mainly. Another "revision downward" was foolishly put through, and again came the usual low tariff hard times and the frightful financial catastrophe of 1857. Practically all the country went bankrupt in that year, just as a very alarming portion of it did in '94 (low tariff also.) Duties were put down to 15¼ per cent. These troubles ran till 1860, when Abraham Lincoln's election platform stated the principles of the protective tariff in most decided terms.

Our second "war tariff," a protective one with higher duties, was passed at the first session of Congress after Lincoln's election in 1860. James Buchanan signed it two days before his term as President expired. Several other "revisions upward" followed in the next few years.

It was about 1870 when a clamor arose for "reduction of war taxes," consequently tariff reductions were made in 1871, 1872 and 1873. These were followed, as usual, by hard times and the panic of 1873. These hard times remained till there was another "revision upward."

This came in 1875 and as usual, prosperity again resumed her beneficent sway, just as in 1896, immediately following William McKinley's election on the present protective platform, the despair and disaster of Cleveland and the Wilson-Gorman, 665 amendments, low tariff years were dispelled. By the 1875 "revision upward" confidence was restored, enterprise was renewed, people sold freely and bought freely, government receipts were large, the public debt was cut down and enough gold was gathered into the Treasury to resume specie payments on January 1, 1879.

Upon what appeared to be a popular demand a "tariff commission" was appointed in 1882, and in 1883 the tariff was slightly "revised downward," the chief sufferer being wool. The wool industry was struck a blow from which it did not recover till the McKinley tariff was adopted. In 1857 Mr. Cleveland proposed to revise the tariff along the lines of "for revenue only." The Republican platform of 1888 for "revenue plus protection" won out, carrying both the Presidency and the Congress.

On October 1, 1890, the McKinley tariff law was passed, "to reduce the (surplus) revenue and equalize duties on imports." Raw sugar was put on the free list. That was the first "revision downward" in the McKinley law. The usual result of "revision downward" at once followed. The winter following the passage of the McKinley tariff of 1890 we had hard times all over the country. As a consequence the election of 1890 gave the Democratic party an overwhelming majority in the House. The failure of Baring Bros., the great English bankers, and depression all over the world, gave the full half McKinley tariff of 1890 a very bad start.

"But the McKinley law," said Congressman McCleary, "was not scientifically constructed, the rates of duty were so in accord with sound protective principles, grading the rates according to the amount and cost of labor involved, that the country promptly recovered, and the years 1891 and 1892 were very prosperous ones. The tin plate and woolen industries were soundly established in this country."

But in 1892 Grover Cleveland was chosen President on a platform of "tariff for revenue only." The protective tariff policy was apparently repudiated by the people. A Democratic House was also elected, as well as changes as a Democratic Senate, but the fear of disaster among business men was like crying fire in a crowded hall. Factories began curtailing production, throwing thousands of men out of employment. Importers reduced imports, particularly those bearing high rates of duty. The election by Cleveland's election we had a tariff reduction, through four years of "revision downward." In August, 1894, came "revision downward" in the Wilson-Gorman tariff act, which the Democratic President refused to sign, claiming that it was an act of infidy and dishonor." This act reduced duties by law and the hard times continued, again illustrating that "tariff reduction brings hard times."

"Revision upward" in 1897 saw prosperity again began to "permeate our business" directly William McKinley, the foremost advocate of protection, after Clay and Blaine, was elected President. And the world knew that "revision upward" would speedily follow. Closed factories reopened, men got work, new factories began building, banks and merchants stopped failing and so on, from Wednesday in November, 1896, to still it did not take a great reduction of two per cent, in fact the Dingley tariff, with its duties ranged a system of protection, was less than 2 per cent higher on many duties than did the Wilson-Gorman badly arranged non-protective tariff. Our average rate of duty is now only about 24 per cent, just above the danger line, as revealed and verified by a century of experience. Some of our rates are high but that is necessary to carry out the principle of protection which calls for tariff rates equal to at least the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, plus its scientific arrangement of duties. As said the able speaker now quoted in presentation, "of duty in harmony with sound protective principles, with a large 'free list,' of non-competing articles, with low rates on articles requiring little skill or labor in production, gradually increasing high duties on articles requiring skill in their production many promotive of high skill—the present Dingley protective and revenue tariff law excels every other tariff law ever enacted."

Right there it is that every business man, every wage-earner, every investor, every well-wisher of his country, and every true Republican can "stand pat."

SOCIALISTS HAVE POWER.

Radical as many of these measur seem, the Socialists have gone int the project with all the earnestnes they possess, and say they will con tinue to fight for them, even if the are defeated, when, in due time, the come up for consideration in th Council and in the Legislature. Ou of forty-six members in the Council the Socialists have twelve members and hold the balance of power, while in the Legislature they have five members, more than is represented in any other State in the Union. Of about 65,000 votes that are cast at elections in Milwaukee, the Socialists have from 15,000 to 18,000, so that the movement they have launched is one that by no means can be ignored. The campaign from one end of the year to the other, and in this city are counted as the sharpest organizers of any of the political parties.

The plan for condemning the public utilities, which included the gas, the telephone, the street railway and electric lighting plants, is now pending before the Council. The scheme is being fathered by the Socialists, but they may get some support from the other parties. The resolution provides that the City Attorney draft bills giving the city power to begin condemnation proceedings. The bill will then be taken to the Legislature, which will be asked to enact a law giving the municipality power to proceed.

Among the corporations affected are the Milwaukee Gaslight Company, the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company, and the Wisconsin Telephone Company. The gas company is owned by New York, Philadelphia and Boston capital, and is the same interests as that which controls the Detroit properties. The street railway, which also operates the electric lighting plant, is owned by the North American Company, which also operates the St. Louis and Cincinnati systems. The telephone company is controlled by Boston interests and is a part of the Bell system.

"ORMSBY QUADS" FIND HOME.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago's most famous children, the "Ormsby quads," after four years of pillar-to-post existence, found refuge today in the Juvenile Home. In an inspection of the city police stations, Mayor Dunne came upon the little ones—Teddy Roosevelt, Willie Randolph Hearst, John Studebaker and Allen Roosevelt Ormsby—in the gloomy stockyards station, where they had landed with two brothers and a sister, following an eviction from their basement home. The Mayor gave each little Ormsby a shining coin and ordered them sent to the home.
It is four years since Father Ormsby departed simultaneously with the arrival of the quads. Starvation, trials of three evictions from their home and the stare of hundreds in museums and at summer gardens has been the lot of the quads and their sister and brothers, constituting the remnants of a family of fourteen accumulated by the Ormsbys within a few years.
Mrs. Ormsby followed the children to the home and told Matron McNulty their names, adding to the list seven who are dead. Mrs. McNulty fanned herself faintly. "Lord help us," she cried, "don't tell me there are any more."

TOTEM LOSES LAST FRIEND.

"Done Once for All," Says Contractor Haupt.

Jobs Now All Filled and Jawsmiths Rattled.

Carpenters' Union Meeting a Sorry Affair.

Paul Haupt, one of the large, strong contractors of Los Angeles and to whom the impotent totemites of the city have heretofore pointed as "their man," has turned squarely against the labor-union jawsmiths and stated yesterday that from now on he will do all of his contracting business on the basis of the open shop. He comes out squarely.

This announcement was like a bomb in the rapidly-thinning ranks of the totemites, and a hasty meeting of the enfeebled Carpenters' Union was called in the headquarters on San Pedro street.

The truth was made known and a dreadful yowl went up from the handful of walking delegates and a few of their dupes who were present.

The last straw upon which they pinned their foolish expectancy to tie the hands of the contractors and stop the industrial wheels of Los Angeles had been snatched from them, and they were left floundering in the mire of their own creation.

Last night Mr. Haupt made the statement that he done once for all with the union bosses.

FINDS THEM IMPOSSIBLE.

"I have tried to be a friend of these fellows, but have found it to be impossible. I have granted them conditions that were bad business, but had a belief that the organization meant well.

"But these demands they make upon the contractors now are beyond all reason. I found that I was almost unable to continue my business if I would accede to their foolish requests.

"I have given this matter due thought, and also considered the position my fellow-contractors would be placed in by my acceding to the demands. I have arrived at the firm and lasting decision that once for all I was through with dealing with a union organization. Hereafter I will employ free workingmen, and every man who works for me will be given a square deal, and no questions asked as to whether he does or does not belong to a union organization.

"I am erecting one building at Seventh and Broadway, and only six of my men out of a total of 200 quit work when I gave out my determination to make a stand for the open shop. The places of these deserters were filled within an hour and my work is going on as usual."

IT CLEARS THE FIELD.

The decision of Mr. Haupt clears the field of any pro-union contractor in Los Angeles, and, in fact, deals a death blow to the weak structure the totemites call their organization.

As long as one large and influential contractor stood out for them they had a basis to work from, but with this support gone, and the ranks of the "free workingmen contractors" augmented by his addition, the last feeble hope of ever tying the hands of the contractors of this city vanished.

At the carpenters' meeting yesterday, which was an informal one, owing to its hasty calling, it was disclosed that the Carpenters' Union had intended primarily to make the present "strike" against Carl Leonardt, as the largest contractor in Los Angeles, and had hoped to use Haupt as a club to force Leonardt into line.

One big man arose to his feet and said:

"If our own members can take the jobs we quit, I am going out and get work whether it is union or non-union," and out he stalked, looking for a job. He ought to find it.

"PINHEAD'S" PROMISE.

In a futile attempt to stay the ebbing tide of their members, the jawsmith bosses, who "earn" their living by stirring up such trouble and keeping it going, read a letter from that infamous union leader, "Pinhead" McCarthy of San Francisco, in which he promised rainbow-colored benefits from the San Francisco unions for the aid of the Los Angeles totemites. The communication fell flat, as too many similar ones, containing only empty promises, had been received.

The poor dupes who had listened to the siren promises of the overpaid walking delegate, and had quit their good jobs, sat about the little dingy hall and gave but listless attention to the proceedings. They were consumed with the desire to get back to work and wages, and this morning will probably see the majority of the "strikers" looking for any old kind of jobs.

ABOUT LAST JOB FILLED.

Practically the last vacant job for carpenters in Los Angeles was filled yesterday by Secretary John R. Kline of the Builders' Exchange. The small number of men who obeyed the edict of the walking delegates to go on a strike made the matter comparatively easy, and there was not a call made upon Secretary Kline for men that was not immediately met.

The totemites endeavored to interfere to a certain extent with giving workingmen jobs, and one loud-mouthed kicker went to Secretary Kline's office, and after asking for work, and finding that it was an open-shop proposition, blurted out that he would not work, and hurried out after a man who had but a few moments prior accepted a situation and gone to meet the contractor.

He overtook the man in the lobby of the Stimson building, and began a harangue against the open shop. His talk had no effect. Several contractors came up and he slipped out of sight.

FOR A GOOD STAND.

CALHOUN CONGRATULATED.

F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the Citizens' Alliance of Los Angeles, yesterday sent a telegram to Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads Company of San Francisco, offering the commendation of Los Angeles business men on his bold and admirable stand for the right against the Carmen's Union. This is the text of the message sent:

We congratulate you and the people of San Francisco on the just and fearless fight you have made for American principles. By your manly stand you have demonstrated that labor unions are bound to observe contracts, as well as employers, and that solemn obligations cannot be violated by them at the command of leaders and agitators. San Francisco owes you a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid, and should never be forgotten. We have mourned with San Francisco in the hours of her sorrow, and we now rejoice with her over the great victory attained.

INSURANCE of HEALTH

CROWN

CORK

The Schlitz label means health insurance.

It is our assurance to you that the beer in the bottle is the purest and most healthful brewed.

When you ask for Schlitz do not be imposed upon with a cheap inferior beer. If the label is washed off insist on seeing that the cork or crown is branded Schlitz.

An impure beer cannot be healthful.

Schlitz is brewed under conditions of absolute cleanliness from barley selected by one of our partners —the yeast is our own cultivation—the hops come largely from Bohemia—water is brought from rock 1,400 feet underground. The beer is even cooled in filtered air.

So Schlitz is pure and healthful and has a flavor all its own.

Beer that makes one bilious is unhealthful.

Schlitz is held in storage for months to age so that it cannot cause biliousness.

Getting only Schlitz insures health.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

OLD-TIME friends have been vieing with each other in showering social courtesies on Mrs. Sepulveda, wife of ex-Judge Sepulveda, formerly of this city and now of the City of Mexico. Mrs. Sepulveda, with her pretty daughter, Miss Conchita, are staying at the Hotel Lankershim, and each day has been made pleasant with social duties since their arrival. Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Albert Solano entertained them at dinner, and yesterday Miss Bernard of No. 845 Lake street gave a luncheon for Miss Conchita Sepulveda.

MRS. Y. SEPULVEDA,
Ex-Judge Sepulveda of the City of Mexico, and her young daughter.

one of the gayest ideas is the maypole, which is to be of electric lights. Each ribbon will bear hundreds of tiny sparkling bulbs, which will be wound in the evening. There are to be Russian dancers in costume and those who serve will wear the fetching peasant costume of that country.

Mrs. Farquhar has chosen as her assistants Mmes. Roy Jones, J. D. Hooker, Irving Ingraham, J. S. Tanner, Earnest Quinan, H. B. Goodwin, H. M. Gorham, H. W. Maberry, B. O. Bruce, Schuyler Cole, C. L. Southern Beauty Here.

Mrs. Zeno Clardy of El Paso, Tex., with her beautiful young daughter, Miss Josephine Clardy, are spending a few months in Los Angeles. They were at the Hotel Alexandria, but have taken a house at No. 1222 Westlake avenue. Miss Clardy is rated one of the most beautiful girls in Texas. She is a tall brunette with exquisite coloring and Gibsonesque figure. She is studying voice culture with Signor Buzzi, as she is possessed of a sweet and sympathetic voice, with which the master expects to do much.

Visit Friesners.

Mrs. Gilliland and Miss Gaylord of Riverside are expected here the first of next week to be the guests of Mrs. William Friesner of South Figueroa street.

Connard Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connard celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary on Monday evening at their home in Hollywood.

As this was a wooden wedding, the invitations were unique affairs burnt in rosewood and the guests came dressed to represent different books.

Mrs. G. H. Barnes received the first prize for guessing the most books represented. Later a book guessing contest was had and first honors in this fell to Mrs. J. Barry, while Mrs. Wilkinson received the second prize. Mrs. C. W. Smith had composed six yards of poetry for the occasion, and as it was unrolled and read gifts of woodenware were brought forth from a marvelous "wonder box." Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. George H. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilkerson, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lawrence Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barry and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Bourne.

Mrs. Duane Touring.

Mrs. John Frank Duane of West Sixth street, has been entertaining her cousins, Judge and Mrs. Edward Colburn of Salt Lake City. They left a few days ago for their home, Mrs. Duane accompanying them on their private car. They will visit Denver later, and other cities, before Mrs. Duane returns.

Others who are there are: Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel P. Myrick, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Drake, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Hicks.

The home was attractively decked with bright golden coreopsis and ferns. The guest prize, a handsome cut-glass dish fell to Mrs. Frank McDonald and the club prizes, one for honors and the other for points, both fell to Miss Helen Bushnell, and were hand-painted china pieces.

Other guests were: Mmes. W. J. Corbett and John Ormsby of Tucson, Ariz., and Frank McDonald, John Myers and Drian Fennell of this city. Club members present were: Mmes. James Emerson Gee, Stewart Macfarlane, A. J. Prosser, Hammond, Dudley, Schreiber, Fitzgerald, Wiley Rouse, Harrison, Jones, Smith, Hanst, Will Sterns, Fisher and Misses Arabelle Lindsay and Helen Bushnell.

Flause-Chinery.

On Sunday at No. 2831 Council street, a novel wedding was solemnized, Miss Priscilla May Chinery becoming the bride of John Flause, with Rev. F. A. Field officiating. Beneath this wedding lies a pretty romance, in which the Scotch and English traditions are interwoven. The groom, who is an Englishman and a cabinet maker, lost his fine set of English tools in the disaster of San Francisco, and everything belonging to him, and the bride a bonnie Scotch lassie, lost every bit of her dainty trousseau. A few months in Los Angeles served to start them out, and so the delayed wedding took place, and the homes in Scotland and England prayed for the blessings of God upon it. The bride was gowned in fawn colored silk, with hat and gloves to match and carried white flowers. Mrs. E. Hawkins served the wedding breakfast. After a Catalina trip they will be at home to their friends at No. 417 West Fourth street.

Notes and Personals.

Misses Cynthia Fay and Lina Johnson are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harwood at Ocean Park, who are also entertaining Misses Leola Allen and Carrie Bogart.

Mrs. E. H. Fretz, formerly of Los Angeles, has returned from a two years' stay in Japan and is spending a few weeks at the home of Gen. and Mrs. John L. Beveridge of Hollywood. She will remain in Southern California until next June.

Mr. and Mrs. Roth Hamilton have returned with their family after a delightful summer outing at Terminal Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Spear of Verdugo road have sold their home and will leave by steamer for an extended northern trip.

Members of Robert E. Lee Chapter, U.D.C., of which Mrs. B. F. Church is president, held their first meeting of the season in Symphony Hall yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonald of No. 2646 La Salle avenue left on Wednesday for a few weeks' visit in San Francisco.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kent and daughter, Miss Nellie Kent, of Cincinnati, O., are at the Alexandria. Mr. Kent owns large distilleries in Louisville, Ky.

Charles J. Delano, one of the large ranchmen of the vicinity of Fort Worth, Tex., is among the guests at the Angelus.

F. F. Fremeyer, who is connected with a large oil company of Cincinnati, is at the Angelus.

ENGINEERS FOR THE COLLISION.

J. E. Stencer, one of the "nerviest" engine-drivers on the Salt Lake Railroad, will handle one of the locomotives in the collision at Agricultural Park Monday afternoon. P. M. Raymond will be at the throttle of the other. Both are classed among the most courageous engineers on the Pacific Slope, and they declare they will shove the two locomotives up to their highest speeds before they jump for their lives just a few seconds before the crash.

Stencer has had nearly twenty years' experience. Raymond is now hauling the Overland Express on its last lap from the Needles to Los Angeles.

BEHIND THE BILLBOARDS.

There are about a dozen shacks lined up on both sides of the interior of this inclosure, the rest of the space that is not used for breathing purposes being occupied by dog kennels and chicken coops. Frequently the little brown-bodied babies get lost, and when the parents come to get them at dusk, weep on being compelled to leave the comparative coziness and comfort of the dog house. They are fond, also, of taking baths in the cesspools that are easier to find than to avoid on the premises. There is one toilet at the farther end, and this is unconnected with the sewer. A woman died there in child-birth at the dusk of a sunny afternoon not long ago, and these people, thoroughly inured to death through the horror of their life, gathered about her door to watch her last struggle.

Their hospitality is their curse, as well as their virtue, for, in addition to the number of regular dwellers in the place, there is generally a large number of transients to fill the "spare room." Under ordinary conditions there are four or five peons living regularly in each hut, and twenty to thirty transients bring the average much higher.

SECOND DISTRICT.

The second peon district lies along the west side of Utah street, which extends south in a curved line from Aliso, parallel to the river bed. This section is the larger of the two. It consists of ten forty-foot lots, averaging 160 feet in depth, and covering about an acre and a half. In this area dwell about 350, of whom 117 are little children. They live in little ground-floor shacks, built of the sides of old coal-oil cans and box-wood. They live like dogs, but it is too much trouble to enforce the city ordinance that prohibits the building of ground-floor habitations, although the cesspools sometimes find their way into the houses and beneath the beds the peons sleep in. There are no sewer connections for the entire district. There is no provision for drainage, and cesspools are many. Another ordinance that is violated indiscriminately is the one that forbids the careless dumping of water, and the denizens add to the unhealthy condition by pouring the water that they wash in, or use for other cleansing purposes, out of the nearest door or window, with no regard whatever for the fact that water flows down hill, and that it creates disease when left to stagnate.

AND THE CHILDREN.

The bright green things that have found their way into this hell of foul smell and fouler sights seem to be the only sign and emblem that hope has left for better things. It is not hard to see what prompted the hearts of the women who are responsible for their being there, for the little half-naked forms that play there during the day, breathing the foul air by night as well, left almost entirely to their own resources, furnish a picture that would touch any mother's heart. They sit there and eye you suspiciously, and if you show a due amount of interest, or pay the slightest attention to them they will stop sucking their little fingers or chewing on a discarded piece of watermelon rind, and murmur furtively: "Damethintho, Señor," in a way that moves all visitors except the peddler who sells the pictures of the Virgin Mary and the saints from house to house.

Those who succeed in attaining the age of 5—and many there be who fail therein—are generally put to work tending the infants and keeping them from yielding to the attacks of the flies and crying all through the day. The coolest places on hot days, and the ones most sought in this occupation, are beneath the flooring of such houses as have floors, and it is no uncommon sight to see little Manuel, aged 3, sitting with little Manuela, who is having a lovely time cutting her first tooth, in his lap and trying to console her by droning a plaintive, sweet-toned lullaby in soft lisping Spanish.

In one "house," the measurements of which are 12x16, ground floor, were found living eight persons—mother and father, a daughter of 18, and five children. These people lived within these narrow limits, ate, cooked washed (when they washed at all) there, and slept there through all conditions of weather. It would be hard to find in the most desperately crowded slums in the world worse conditions, and the efforts of the Housing Commission are bent toward alleviating them in every possible way, and against all circumstances and influences that may arise to prevent.

CALL MONEY STILL HIGHER.

Treasury Order to Facilitate Gold Imports Does Not Immediately Relieve the Situation.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—An opening call loan rate of 20 per cent. at the Stock Exchange showed less relief from the money stringency than was hoped for among stock operators as the result of the Treasury Department's order to facilitate gold imports. As the measure is made effective only for next Monday, it does not offer means for an immediate addition to bank resources.

The assurance of future facilities, however, was expected to induce a greater freedom in extending credits. Stocks opened higher, stimulated by the news of the treasury order, but were affected by realizing sales and by the high rate maintained for money.

Bankers interested in Secretary Shaw's gold importation order made inquiries at the subtreasury today as to whether or not the order applied to importations of gold from Australia. In the absence of definite instructions, the inquiries were referred to the Treasury Department at Washington.

SECRETARY SHAW EXPLAINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—In answer to an inquiry today, Secretary Shaw said, in explanation of his offer yesterday to facilitate gold imports, that it would apply to gold imported from Australia or any other point. The importers, however, from far distant countries will be required to file with the Treasury Department evidence of the fact of that purchase, giving the date that the gold would be shipped.

You must know truthfully where you will get the best treatment, where you will get the quickest and the most certain relief—with them it is a vital question. They want to know who has the reputation for curing. In this connection it is well known. In truth, an indisputable fact, that the Broadway Physicians and Surgeons Association's reputation as skilled, reliable specialists is unquestioned and thoroughly established. Their reliability, fair dealing, skill and progressiveness is fully acknowledged, and that reputation is built on merit. Any sick person visiting us will at once understand why we have such an immense practice, why we succeed where others fail. They recognize that they are consulting physicians who are educated men, not pretenders. They find us ready and anxious to introduce them to hundreds of cured patients right here in Los Angeles; the experience we claim is genuine; we court investigation of ourselves, our work, our success, and the truth of all we claim.

After taking one month's treatment at your Association am cured from a very bad case of catarrh, deafness and stricture of the lacrymal ducts. The ducts were closed to the extent that the tears flooded down my cheeks constantly, causing me great annoyance and injuring my eyesight. My hearing also was rapidly being destroyed. It is a great wonder to me how I could possibly receive such benefit in so short a time. Your association has done exactly as it promised by me, and I will gladly recommend you to any one.

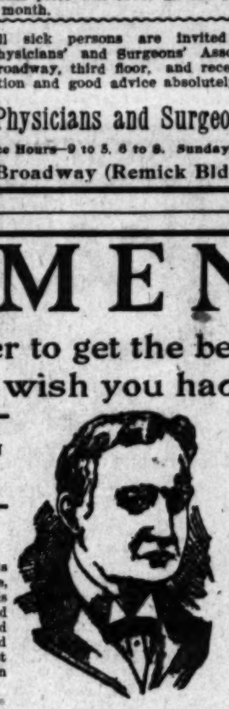
A TREATMENT WITH MERIT IN EVERY APPLICATION.



NOT AS OTHERS TREAT— NOT SECRET METHODS.

Varicocele
4 to 6 Days.

My treatment effects a permanent cure, normal circulation is quickly restored, and the parts involved rendered strong and healthy. It is a most effective and certain treatment.

Functional Decline; Called Weakness By Some.

My method of treating this condition is a very effective means, whereby functional activity may be restored without resorting to drastic stimulants, which derange the functions of the stomach. I remove the EXACT CAUSE responsible for the disorder.

I Have Restored Hundreds to Health.

I have cured them when others had pronounced them incurable. My examinations bring you face to face with the exact condition. I will carefully diagnose your trouble and give you my opinion free. You can use your own judgment about the treatment, and you are under no obligation whatever.

Stricture
10 to 15 Days.

I have devoted years of special attention to the formation and eradication of urethral obstruction. Experience of the right kind is absolutely necessary to cure. My treatment softens and relaxes the membrane, and the formation is completely destroyed.

Contracted Disease.

To but partially cure this condition is worse than no treatment at all. Chronic complications are sure to follow. Insist upon a thorough and complete eradication of every particle of infection and be sure your cure is complete, that no evil after effects will occur, as an inflammation of prostatic disorder. Fully one-half of all bladder troubles, prostatic irritation or prostatic disorder, are due to badly treated and partially cured disorders.

We want you to know that, you who can't believe it, and we want you to have our book in which we describe how we learned that strength was only electricity, and how we learned to restore it; also we want to tell you the names of some men who will tell you that when they came to us they were physical wrecks, and are now among the finest specimens of physical manhood.

We can do just as much for women as for men. We have thousands of letters from grateful women who had spent years and money trying to get relief from drugs and who came to us as a last resort and are cured now.

Why should you be suffering when you know that your friends and neighbors are being cured? Why, the money you spend for drugs in a few months if invested in our treatment will assure you health and happiness for life. Don't you believe it? Then send for this book with the proof that we can give you, and you will be convinced.

Don't wait a minute. Send for this book now. If you will inclose this coupon we will send it sealed, free, and will give you the names of your own neighbors who are cured. We will tell you whether we can cure you or not if you will tell us your troubles. Call, if possible, for free consultation.

Gov. Chamberlain of Oregon Is Elected President.

Concessions to Philippines on Sugar Voted Down.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOISE (Idaho) Sept. 6.—The fourth National Irrigation Congress held its conference this evening after voting to hold the next congress at Sacramento, Cal., and electing as president of the fifteenth congress Gov. George E. Chamberlain of Oregon. The enthusiasm of the Californians over Sacramento's victory was the most pronounced because of the narrow margin by which the victory was won. The attractions of the Jamestown exposition had been cleverly presented and on the first ballot for the convention city, Jamestown was in the lead, Sacramento won out on the second ballot.

Governor Chamberlain was the unanimous choice of the congress for president and when he was escorted to the platform and expressed his appreciation of the high honor accorded him by the representatives of thirty States, he was given a tremendous ovation.

There was some evidence of discord in connection with the election of secretary. D. H. Anderson, a Chicago publicist, was the choice of the Nominating Committee. His published utterances in criticism of the Federal Reclamation Service were urged against him, but the convention indorsed the selection.

The shouters for "a hundred millions more for irrigation" came before the congress with a minority report from the Committee on Resolutions, declaring that the national congress should issue a bond issue to raise such a sum. After a spirited debate, the majority report was voted down.

FIRST IRRIGATION WORKS.

A special train which left Boise over the Oregon Short Line late tonight carried a large number of delegates to the congress who will spend two days visiting the irrigation projects of southern Idaho. The great dam at Minidoka, the Shoshone Falls, the Twin Falls irrigation tract and the Minidoka project will be visited.

Frederick Kauppenberg, a delegate from Pennsylvania, and a member of the State Board of Agriculture of that State, spoke in praise of what he had seen of the irrigated States of the West and declared that henceforth he would be an advocate of all possible legislation and aid for the reclamation of arid lands.

Senator Gould of Colorado delivered a strong argument against further concessions to Philippine sugar. He urged that the sugar beet raisers of the Irrigated States be not forced into closer competition with the cheap labor of the Philippines.

A delegate protested against the action of the congress being given over to the discussion of the tariff. The State of Washington, who had

Mr. Gould insisted that the tariff issue was inseparable from the growing of sugar beets.

The Committee on Credentials reported an attendance of 1135 delegates, representing thirty States.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Committee on Permanent Organization recommended the election of the following officers to direct the affairs of the fifteenth annual congress: President, Gov. George C. Chamberlain of Oregon; first vice-president, Henry Smith of Salt Lake; second vice-president, H. B. Maxson of Reno, Nev.; third vice-president, George W. Barstow of Texas; secretary, D. H. Anderson, Chicago. The report of the committee was adopted.

Then followed an hour of oratory, the several States which were asking for the next congress putting forth their cleverest orators to urge their claims. Col. John P. Irish presented the claims of Sacramento, C. R. Reeves of Ely, Nev., spoke for Reno; R. E. Twitchell of New Mexico and Z. L. Cobb of El Paso urged the congress to go to Las Vegas, N. M.; Mayor Becker of Milwaukee telegraphed an invitation to come there; H. St. John Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition, expressed his State's desire to have the next congress participate in the celebration of old Virginia's birthday, and L. R. Freeman of North Yakima, Wash., also urged the advantages of meeting at Jamestown.

On the first ballot the vote was: Jamestown, 111; Sacramento, 108; Reno, 70; Las Vegas, 69. No city having a majority, a second ballot was ordered. Previous to this ballot, Reno withdrew in favor of Sacramento and Las Vegas in favor of Jamestown. The final result was: Sacramento, 207; Jamestown, 155.

RESOLUTIONS PRESENTED.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions, as presented to the congress, expresses the hope that the governmental irrigation works under construction and in contemplation will be pushed to an early completion; heartily approves the efficient and thorough work of the Reclamation Service and expresses the fullest confidence in the honesty and ability of the service; indorses and commends the earnest and efficient work of the National Weather Bureau; commends the work of the Federal Agricultural Department in its irrigation and drainage investigations; recommends that the Irrigation Congress authorize its president to appoint a committee of five members to carry on a campaign of publicity in relation to irrigation, this committee to be authorized to employ a secretary at a salary of $250 a month; pledges earnest support of the Federal forest service in its efforts to maintain and improve the country's watersheds; favors the passage, with certain amendments, of Senate Bill No. 4624, relating to the relinquishment of reservoir sites, with the privilege of selecting lieu lands; expresses the opinion that government enterprise for reclamation should not unnecessarily interfere with prior private enterprises; indorses the Federal Department of Agriculture's experiments in dry farming in the semi-arid region; recommends the enactment of a Federal law prescribing penalties for unlawful interference with Federal head gates and other irrigation works.

UPHOLD PHILIPPINE DUTY.

The committee recommends the following resolution in relation to the tariff on sugar from the Philippines:

"Inasmuch as the sugar-beet industry in irrigated America returns to our farmers an annual revenue of over twenty millions, and, as the production at home of the sugar we now import from the tropics would afford our farmers an additional annual market for nearly $100,000,000 of beets, and as it has been urged that the United States Congress further stimulate the sugar industry of the Philippine Islands to produce all or a portion of the sugar we of arid America had hoped to produce.

"Therefore, we protest against any further legislative concessions in favor of Philippine sugar, and urge that legislative agitation and attacks on the sugar production of this country cease, that this great industry of arid America may be fully developed."

A minority report was presented by Oregon and Utah representatives on the committee, voicing a demand that the Federal government authorize the issuance of 2 per cent. bonds running twenty years to enable the reclamation service to finance and carry out "all practicable irrigation projects in the United States." By a decisive vote the congress voted to table the minority report.

Frank C. Gowdy of Denver moved to strike out the resolution urging Congress to extend to the Federal courts jurisdiction over water rights on interstate streams. It was the old fight of Colorado and Kansas over the Arkansas River. The Kansas delegation favored the committee resolution. Dr. Elwood Mead of the reclamation service moved as a substitute that the president appoint a committee of five to investigate the questions at issue and report to the next congress. This was agreed to. The report of the Resolutions Committee as thus amended was adopted, and the chairman named as the committee Elwood Mead and Morris Bien of the reclamation service, Frank Freeman of California, Ira Inglehart of Washington and J. H. Lewis of Oregon.

As the Committee on Publicity for the ensuing year Gov. Mead named Prof. Fortier of California, and Messrs. Hurd of Arizona, Reeves of Nevada, Gowdy of Colorado and Ray of Montana.

MUTUAL DENIES REBATING.

Complaint from Texas of Crooked Insurance Methods Referred to Ex-President Cleveland.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—George T. Dexter, second vice-president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company made this statement yesterday relative to charges contained in two letters sent by men in San Antonio, Tex., to the International Policy Holders' Committee:

"The statement that the Mutual Life agents in Texas were rebating was first brought to our attention through a communication to the president through a discharged and disgruntled employé of our San Antonio office. Specific charges were made and the names of the policy holders alleged to have received a rebate were furnished. An investigation was immediately started and we have a written statement from every one of the policy holders we have so far been able to reach, denying the charge. The complainant has been informed of the fact and asked to furnish proof of his claim. We are ready to take summary action in this or any other case where proof is produced that agents of this company are violating or have violated our instructions prohibiting rebating. Our instructions are explicit, and agents will be dismissed whenever the offence is proved."

RUSH TO GET CASINO FUNDS.

BIG PULL IN PASADENA FOR PURCHASING SITE.

Subscription Committee Issues Call for Meeting of Those Interested in the Venture—Backers of Enterprise Explain That the Project Is Not Merely for Convention Hall.

Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Sept. 6.—The time in which the money for the purchase of the Reed property on West Colorado street for the purpose of erecting a convention hall and casino, can be raised is rapidly approaching an end, and Chairman McCament of the Subscription Committee has issued a call for a meeting tomorrow night, asking that all interested in the venture attend. The meeting will be called to order at 7:30 o'clock in the Board of Trade rooms, and plans for raising the balance of the money required will be discussed.

There is yet $5600 to be raised before it will be possible to purchase the property, and this money will have to be pledged by Monday next, if it is to do any good. It is impossible for the members of the committee to get out and canvass the ground, as they would like to do, and they trust that residents of Pasadena, who have not yet affixed their names to the subscription list, will do so before the last day of grace expires.

There has been a considerable amount of misunderstanding concerning the object of the convention hall, and many people have not supported it as heartily as they might have had they understood the matter better. The members of the Subscription Committee, as well as all of the members of the Board of Trade, are laboring to correct the wrong impression, and put the matter before the public in the right light.

In an interview with a Times reporter this evening, J. O. McCament said: "I am very sorry that the project was ever referred to as the convention hall. It has given a wholly erroneous impression, and has undoubtedly handicapped the committee extensively in its endeavor to secure subscriptions. People ask what sense there is in building a convention hall to cost a large sum of money, when maybe one, or at the most, two, big conventions are held here in the course of a year. We have had this trouble to contend with from the start, and I am glad of the opportunity to set the citizens of Pasadena right in the matter.

"The proposed hall will, of course, be available for conventions, and will be used for that purpose, but this is not the only nor the highest aim of the undertaking. What we want is an amusement park and casino, a place where visitors as well as residents of Pasadena can congregate for relaxation and amusement. There is practically no end to the possibilities of an institution of this sort. We would probably maintain a permanent exhibit of products of this section, similar to the one maintained by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and this feature alone would be a great attraction to visitors.

"Then think how a park filled with orange, lemon and olive trees would be appreciated. Many of the people who come to California for the first time have never seen oranges or lemons growing. The orange groves of California have been held out to them as one of the sights of the State. There is no reason why we should not have those trees in the grounds of the convention hall. They would be not only ornamental, but would be highly appreciated by visitors. A park, filled with the semi-tropic plants and shrubs which grow here in such profusion, would soon attain a national reputation, and would be a great advertisement for Pasadena. If citizens of Pasadena could only realize the great possibilities which the project holds out to them they would support the scheme heartily.

"We have but a few days more in which to raise the money, and we shall be unable to get around and call upon people personally, but we hope that they will come to us and volunteer their assistance. If the citizens who have not subscribed will come forward within the next few days, and add their names to our list, we shall be able to buy the site, which we want, and shall then be in a position to erect a casino which will be a credit not only to Pasadena, but to entire California."

C. D. Daggett, chairman of the general committee, who has been one of the foremost movers in the convention hall and casino project, expressed himself strongly when approached concerning the matter. He stated that, in his opinion, the convention hall feature should not be counted as being of the greatest importance by any means; in fact, he considers it a secondary matter.

"What we need is a high-class amusement park," said Mr. Daggett. "There are a great many people that come here and we should have some way of amusing them without their going to Los Angeles. Suppose that the entire plant represented an outlay of $150,000. It would easily be worth that every year. It would keep people here longer, for there is no doubt that many are attracted elsewhere because of the lack of suitable amusement to offer them. This does not apply to our millionaire visitors but to the large, substantial, middle class who come here in great numbers and from whom we derive some of our best citizens.

"One of the greatest needs of Pasadena is a common meeting place where tourists and our own citizens would naturally gather and cultivate each other's acquaintance. There is nothing that warms up the heart of the stranger like speedy acquaintance with others.

"If the pleasure park and casino resulted in locating only a few families each year in Pasadena who otherwise might go somewhere else it would be worth all it cost, because the upbuilding of the city is the chief object of all public enterprises."

ALLEGED WIFE BEATER.

George W. Hall, who hails from Redondo, was brought up before Justice Congdon this morning charged with having committed battery on the person of his wife. The complaint says that Hall amused himself by kicking his helpmeet downstairs and otherwise treating her in a manner not conducive to her peace of mind.

The alleged battery is said to have taken place at Redondo prior to the arrival of Mrs. Hall in Pasadena. The complaining witness states that she left her husband after the trouble and sought refuge with friends in this city. Hall followed her here and last night called upon her. Fearing that he might do her harm she called upon former Humane Officer Sherwin, who is also a special policeman, and asked protection. The officer put Hall under arrest and took him to the City Jail where he was locked up over night.

When brought up for trial Hall asked that a change of venue be granted in order that the case might be settled in Redondo, owing to the fact that the trouble occurred there, and that the witnesses were all residents of that city. The judge was perfectly willing to have the change made and set Saturday as the day upon which to consider the matter. In the meantime Hall's bonds were set at $250, and the man went to Redondo today in charge of an officer to try to raise the money.

SHAKESPEARE ANNUAL.

The Shakespeare Club annual for 1906-07 is out and will be placed in the hands of the club members within the next few days. The booklet gives the entire programme for the coming year's work as well as the several new features which will be taken up during this next season. An elaborate schedule has been laid out and the club will enter upon its labors with everything carefully mapped out.

The following officers will have charge of the club work during the coming year: Mrs. Mary A. Comans, president; Miss Susan H. Stickney, honorary vice-president; Mrs. Helen Elliott Bandini, first vice-president; Mrs. Ira Colby Goodrich, second vice-president; Miss Louise A. Crawford, recording secretary; Miss Elizabeth Adams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Carder, treasurer; Mrs. O. W. Bullock, auditor.

MOUNTING FOR OBSERVATORY.

The mounting for the big Mt. Wilson Observatory telescope has arrived and is ready to be put in place as soon as arrangements can be made for its installation. The work of widening the road up the mountain is now in progress and it probably will be completed by the time the rest of the apparatus arrives.

The rumor that an electric railroad would be run up the new road is declared to be without foundation by men who are in a position to know. One man, through whose land the road runs, states emphatically that no such road will be built.

"It would be impossible to construct such a road," he said, "for when we deeded the land for the construction of the trail we expressly stipulated that it was to be used for the purpose of transporting supplies to the observatory only. Any rumor that it will be turned into a public highway is without foundation entirely."

PASADENA BRIEFS.

A permit was taken out today by H. E. Huntington for the erection of a dwelling house at Oak Knoll. The permit places the value of the building at $35,000 and stipulates that it shall be of the finest form of construction throughout. The house will be in the Moorish style of architecture and will be a handsome addition to the list of fine residences that are being built in the newly annexed district.

There appears to be more trouble in sight for the postal authorities in regard to the location of the postoffice. It seems when the owners of the building at present occupied by the postoffice offered to enlarge it they failed to take into consideration the man who occupies the store adjoining that used by the Federal offices. He is said to hold a lease on the portion which he occupies and it is now thought that he will not be willing to give it up unless he receives a substantial remuneration.

WILSON GETS RESPITE.

Preliminary Hearing of Alleged Murderer in Long Beach Is Deferred.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 6.—The preliminary hearing of W. T. Wilson, charged with the murder of Wallace B. Belden, set for this afternoon before Justice Downing, was by consent of the District Attorney continued until Saturday morning because of the inability of Attorney Earl Rogers, who is retained by the defense, to be present.

A new witness has been secured for the State, H. H. Hart, a Signal Hill rancher, whose attention was attracted to the sneaking, hiding movements of Wilson, as he walked along Second street en route to the corner where the slaying was committed. Hart's attention was drawn off Wilson for a moment and he did not see the first shot fired, but he did see Wilson walk around Belden's prostrate body and fire three shots into his victim.

SEASHORE NEWS POINTS.

The City Trustees last night purchased a hook and ladder truck, a chemical tank and 1100 feet of new hose. The old hook and ladder truck, a chemical wagon and hose cart will be sent to West Long Beach and a volunteer company is to be organized there.

A diver on the outer wharf attracted considerable attention today in his attempts to locate an anchor lost by the San Diego two weeks ago. He could find no trace of the iron and thinks the sand has covered it.

POMONA VALLEY ITEMS.

POMONA, Sept. 6.—The annual season of fumigating citrus trees has begun in this locality, where there is considerable work to be done. Shafer & Deck have sold their outfit to Mrs. C. T. Mills and it is being run by E. L. Smoot. Frank Mead has sold his interest in the Mead & Svensen outfit to the latter, and Mr. Svenson has started on his season's work. From present indications the coming orange crop will be a light one in most localities about here.

SPRINKLES GRIT IN DANCE HALL.

UNKNOWN MISCREANT INJURES VENICE PAVILION FLOOR.

Reward Offered for Person Who Scatters Pumice Stone on Polished Boards of Place on Windward Avenue—Attractions Being Arranged for Admission Day Celebration.

VENICE, Sept. 6.—Another attempt was made last night to do injury to the floor of the dancing pavilion on Windward avenue. About 9 o'clock the floor manager discovered that from some unknown source powdered pumice stone was being liberally sprinkled over the smooth surface of the floor.

Taken up by the feet of the merry dancers, the sharp substance cut the glossy surface into riddles. This is the second attempt of this kind made to damage the floor, and on amount of careful watching has succeeded in locating the culprit.

It is supposed the powder filters from the pocket of some male dancer, or from a perforated sack attached to the skirt of some woman.

Although a liberal reward is offered for information that might lead to the apprehension of the one committing the misdemeanor, no one has appeared to claim the reward.

ADMISSION DAY BILL.

A big bill is being arranged to draw the crowds to the beach and entertain them on the strand on Monday, Admission Day. There will be athletic sports, wrestling, fencing, high diving, swimming, diving and boat races. The new management of the Midway is taking a hand in the promotion of the attractions.

VIEWS ABOUT SEWAGE.

At a meeting held last night at Abbot Kinney's office, there was an expression of opinion on the sewer question. It was declared to be the concensus of opinion of those present that each of the bay cities should dispose of its own sewage, Santa Monica to run its sewage out through the Pier-avenue outfall, and Ocean Park to dispose of its own in the septic tank, as at present, until arrangements can be made to carry the sewage of the bay district into the Los Angeles outfall at Hyperion. Representatives of a large part of the property of the bay district were present.

WAR VETERANS ENTERTAINED.

About Two Hundred Delegates to the Annual Encampment Visit the Soldiers' Home.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Sept. 6.—About 200 delegates of the Southern California Veteran Association to the nineteenth encampment, now being held at Huntington eBach, visited the home this morning. Preceded by the home band, they marched to the parade ground, where they were received by Gov. La Grange and staff. The Governor in his address of welcome, bade the visitors consider the home their own for the day.

Commander C. P. Wilson of Pomona was in charge of the party, which, with the Los Angeles Veteran Fife and Drum Corps, passed in review before the home officers. At noon time dinner was enjoyed with the veterans in the main dining hall. The afternoon was spent in visiting among the veterans in barracks, and hospital, and in sight seeing about the camp.

MAY FUMIGATE STREET TREES.

City Council of Whittier Is Likely to Respond to the Complaints of Orchardists.

WHITTIER, Sept. 6.—"To fumigate or not to fumigate" is the question that the City Council members have put up to the Auditing Committee, with power to act as they see fit. The discussion, which is attracting much attention, arises from the scaly condition of street trees inside the city limits.

Ranchers whose properties are near these trees have complained to the Council members that their orchards are injured by the spread of the scale from these street trees to their citrus trees.

A. L. Knight, Alva Starbuck and A. J. Stevens appeared before the Council at its last meeting and made formal complaint concerning the matter, and asked that it be remedied.

PYTHIANS ENTERTAINED.

Members of the Long Beach Lodge, Knights of Pythias, arrived here in a special car last evening to take charge of the degree giving of the local knights. After the third degree had been conferred on Postmaster L. M. Baldwin, the knights adjourned to the banquet room, where a collation was served.

REDONDO AGAIN A WET TOWN.

The City Trustees Renew All the Old Licenses—Advertising Contract Awarded.

REDONDO, Sept. 6.—The last act but one of the wet and dry drama which has been enacted for the past six weeks culminated at a meeting of the Board of Trustees held last night, when all the saloons were granted a license under the new ordinance, which compells them to pay $300 per month. The original idea of the Trustees was to reduce the number of saloons from four to two and make the latter pay what the four had been paying. But the question as to who were to be the fortunate ones created so much diversion and trouble and adverse sentiment, even amon gthe townspeople, that the originators of the project, after fighting the new ordinance through, absented themselves and allowed the burden to rest upon those who were present.

When the applications for licenses came up, all applicants were granted a license and the town for the next thirty days at least will again be wet.

AWARD ADVERTISING CONTRACT

The Trustees awarded the contract for the official advertising for the fiscal year to the Redondo Reflex at 7½ cents per inch first insertion and 1 cent per inch subsequent insertions, as against the bid of the Redondo Breeze at 1s cents and 5 cents, respectively.

EAST WHITTIER NOTES.

EAST WHITTIER, Sept. 6.—The Tomato and Cabbage Growers' Association will hold its first public meeting on the evening of September 11, and the big assembly room in the East Whittier schoolhouse has been chosen as headquarters. The affair will be unique in the history of similar organizations in this section, as literary and social features will be combined with practical and helpful papers on timely subjects, by prominent ranchers.

Walnut ranchers of this section estimate that they will get fully as much cash out of their crop this year as last, in spite of the slight reduction in price per pound to be paid this season, as the trees are loaded with fine quality nuts. Some estimate this season's output at from 10 to 15 per cent. greater than in 1905.

SANTA MONICA PENCILINGS.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 6.—August was another lively month at the local postoffice, and if September keeps up the pace the quarter will be a record breaker. The August increase over the same month last year was over $167 and the quarter will exceed $3000.

The State law is to be invoked here in the future to prevent automobile drivers from running faster than ten miles an hour.

The local Prohibition Club is preparing for a rally at the City Hall on Tuesday, September 18.

A baseball game between the Santa Monica and Alhambra teams will be played here next Sunday.

The British ship Lucipara and the British steamer Elaine have discharged their cargoes and sailed for Seattle.

The Alta Santa Monica Company has let the contract for a $3275 residence on Fourth street in The Palisades. Mary F. Smith has also contracted for the building of a $4176 home in Brentwood Park.

CHURCH FOR LA HABRA.

LA HABRA, Sept. 6.—With the coming in and settling here of so many new families has come a demand for church expansion, and this has, in part at least, been met by the organization this week of the La Habra Baptist Church. The first service was held at the local church last Sunday, and the prospects are encouraging for the formation of a prosperous church body.

La Habra schools will begin on September 10, with a larger attendance than ever before.

Following a custom inaugurated several years ago, the district will pay for carrying the pupils to and from school each day, such a proceeding being made almost necessary by the size of the territory included in the district. John Launer has taken the contract to do this work the coming year.

OCEAN PARK RESIDENT DEAD.

OCEAN PARK, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Nancy K. Brooks died here last night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. N. C. Weir, 1301 Lake street. Mrs. Brooks, who was 91 years of age, had been a resident of this beach for ten years, and had been an invalid during the greater part of that time.

STOLYPIN LIFTS SLAV FINANCES.

BOURSE PROMPTLY RESPONDS TO PREMIER'S FIRM NOTE.

Government Programme, With Its Warning to Both Terrorists and Reactionists, All Absorbing Topic of Conversation in St Petersburg. Field Court-martials Cause Unrest.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 6.—The firm note struck by Premier Stolypin in the official communication embodying the whole government programme, published last night, with its warning to terrorists and revolutionists on one hand that crime must and will be suppressed at any cost; and to the reactionists, especially the court camarilla, on the other hand, that reforms can neither be abandoned nor deferred, met with prompt response on the Bourse today. Prices were not merely firm, but were very strong, without any symptoms of artificial support.

The Premier's note not only stopped the steady decline in government securities, but it also started a boom in bank shares and in industrial securities, generally, some of them gaining as much as five points, owing to the belief that the announcement of Stolypin is the prelude of better times.

The official note appeared today in the official Gazette and the semi-Russian press, but the attitude of the public has not yet developed, though the note is the all-absorbing topic of discussion. The course of the Premier is pre-condemned by the parties in pronounced opposition to the government, in whose sight all works of the ministry are evil.

The imperial decree authorizing the institution of field courts-martial throughout the empire is regarded with disquietude in most circles. While it is realized that it is a justifiable—and indeed a necessary—measure in dealing with mutinies, armed uprisings and conditions of terrorism and anarchy such as prevails in Poland, the Baltic provinces and the Caucasus, it is claimed that arbitrary and unscrupulous officials are likely to abuse the powers conferred upon them. The ukase excludes the services of ordinary judicial officers and it covers political crimes of any nature. It has already thrown a panic into the ranks of the contributors to the revolutionary press and drafters of incendiary proclamations to the army, navy, peasants, etc., who hitherto have had no worse punishment to fear than imprisonment or deportation.

WILL USE SIMPLE SPELLING.

List of Three Hundred Words Finds Strong Support Among Colleges of Country.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The Simplified Spelling Board, prior to August 1, 1906, had received the signatures of 524 college presidents, professors, instructors and officers who had agreed to use the 300 words as far as practicable in their correspondence.

This university influence is greatest in New York State, where more than 130 persons connected with universities and colleges have joined the movement; Illinois comes next with 120 such signatures; Massachusetts is third with 92, and California next, with 67.

CREWS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

SANDUSKY (O.) Sept. 6.—Nineteen men had a narrow escape from death last night when the steamer Homer Warren and her tow, the barge William Crosthwaite, collided in Lake Erie near Kelly's Island, and sank. Both vessels went down within a short time after the collision and the members of the crew were picked up by an upbound passing steamer which responded to the signals of distress. Both vessels were lumber carriers. The Homer Warren had a crew of twelve men and the Crosthwaite a crew of seven.

FLASHING FIRE TAKES LIVES.

The Harvey House at Needles Goes Up in Flames.

Spread Rapid; Exits Cut Off; Fifteen Hurt.

Heroic Efforts to Save Those in Building.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEEDLES, Sept. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most serious fires that have ever occurred in Needles completely destroyed the Harvey House and Santa Fé depot here this morning.

The dead are:

CONDUCTOR F. M. CARTER, Winslow, Ariz.

MISS PRISCILLA BASTIAN, a waitress in the Harvey House.

The injured:

CONDUCTOR D. A. HAWES, Los Angeles; badly burned about face and arms. He jumped from balcony.

J. S. LIEBENWOOD, whole upper part of body badly burned.

CONDUCTOR W. R. KING, arms and neck badly burned.

O. B. DAKEN, hands badly burned.

C. S. HARPER, hands, arms and head burned; very serious.

MARY BOUMAN, head waitress; horribly burned face, arms and upper part of body.

EUNICE COLE, badly burned.

KATE BOUMAN, burned about face and hands, serious.

MARY HART, serious burns about head.

ELEANOR HAMILTON, slight burn, badly bruised.

The injuries of the others were not of so serious a nature. Local surgeons attended to the injured, and the Santa Fé company at once made up a special train, and that left here about 9 a.m., carrying the victims to the Los Angeles hospital.

The fire started either in the baggage room or in the train porters' room, where lanterns, oil, etc., were stored. It was a wooden structure, and in an incredibly few seconds flames were bursting from all parts of the building. The entire outside seemed to be enveloped in flames before the halls and corridors, and it is due to this fact that so large a number were either burned or injured.

OTHER BUILDINGS MENACED.

The Santa Fé fire department was on the scene in less than two minutes after the blaze started, but even in that short time it was beyond control and it was found necessary to devote its entire strength to preventing the fire from spreading to the town.

Buildings over 200 feet from the depot were scorched, and plate-glass fronts were broken. The upstairs space was devoted to sleeping rooms under the Harvey House management, and occupied by guests of the hotel and employés. The whole management and employés on duty down stairs seemed to realize the situation with remarkable promptness, and the moment the first alarm was sounded they rushed upstairs to arouse the sleeping inmates and get them out. Those who were already awake had barely time to get out, but those who lingered to get shoes or clothing were nearly all burned or injured in some way.

Some were panic-stricken, and had it not been for the coolness of some of the guests and employés in systematically handling the situation, the death list would have been something fearful.

FLAMES BLOCK EXITS.

The side entrances were all in flames almost as soon as the alarm was sounded, and the only exits were then through the long dining-room and out by the laundry, or to jump to the hard pavement from the balcony and windows. Some, already badly burned, finding the hall in flames, were compelled to jump from the balcony and were injured in jumping.

Many acts of heroism were seen by the escaping victims. One man, already badly burned, turned back, picked up a fainting woman and carried her out. Another rushed back through smoke and flames to help an exhausted waitress out.

It is stated widely that Conductor Carter lost his life in the work of rescue, as he had not time to get out himself after he had helped others out.

It was stated at Santa Fé headquarters at 1 o'clock this morning that the train bearing the injured of the Needles fire would not reach this city till between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning.

The train was held for some time for a wreck to be cleared away in the Cajon Pass.

OYSTER BAY (L. I.) Sept. 6.—Raymond Patterson, Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, called on the President at Sagamore Hill today to bring his attention to the arrest and extradition of Paul O. Stensland, the Chicago banker, who is under arrest in Tangier. Mr. Patterson said he hoped to induce the President to use his influence to expedite Stensland's return to Chicago.

SHAW SAYS ATTACH FUNDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Receiver Fetzer of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, which was wrecked by Paul O. Stensland, now under arrest in Tangier, today received the following dispatch from Secretary of the Treasury Shaw in Washington: "Assistant Secretary of State consulted the Solicitor of the State Department concerning the $12,000 deposited by Stensland in the French bank at Tangier. The Solicitor sees no course open but for you to attach the funds according to law and according to the procedure controling judicial questions affecting the French bank at Tangier."

TWO DROWN IN COLLISION.

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 6.—The western liner Milwaukee collided with the steamer Nelson Mills in St. Clair River a short distance below St. Clair this afternoon. The Mills plunged to the bottom at once. James Babour of Sanilac, wheelsman on the Mills, and Mrs. T. J. Moore, wife of the engineer of the Mills, were drowned.

FRAT FIGHT BREAKS AFRESH.

SAN BERNARDINO STUDENTS WAR OVER COLORS.

Leaders of Different Factions Appear Before the School Board and Representative of Disfranchised Ones Asks What That Body Is Going to Do About It.

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 6.—Fraternity troubles have broken out afresh among the High School pupils. The opening of school, which is set for Monday, September 24, promises to witness more lively times among the pupils than have stirred those circles in numerous years.

The present fight is over school colors. One faction wishes to retain those which the school has had for years, while the other faction contends for a new combination. For the past week leaders of the new color faction have been quietly at work among the pupils expected to enroll for the fall term.

The fight grows directly out of the sentimental election for school officers, which closed the last term of school. At that time the leaders of one faction were disfranchised by Principal Forman for using shady methods in securing votes. The trouble caused the board to consider drastic measures to eradicate the frat evil from the school.

Last night the board held a session, at which the frat fight broke out. Cecil Phillips, one of the disfranchised pupils, appeared before the board with an inquiry as to how that body intended to treat him and his unfortunate fellows who fell under the ire of Principal Terman. Cecil Phillips represented the losing faction in the last school election.

He had no sooner been politely excused from injecting his troubles into the board proceedings than Leon Atwood, the leader of the victorious faction, seized the ear of Principal Murdock, the new principal of the High School, and held a long and whispered conversation, advising the professor of his frat troubles, and warning him against Phillips.

That the two leaders should thus confront the board was a genuine surprise and led to some severe remarks on the growth of the frat spirit. The board proposes to meet in special session next week, when a plan is to be agreed upon by which to eradicate the element from the school.

GRACE ROBBERY TO BROWN.

The local authorities believe that Jack Brown, serving a term in jail in Los Angeles for battery, is implicated in the brutal assault and robbery of Jesus Gonzales at Colton last night. This morning Constable Bagley and Frank Summers and two suspects, who admit having been with the assault was committed on Gonzales' was robbed, and disclosed the whereabouts of Deputy Sheriff Ralphs has communicated with the Los Angeles authorities and Brown, Gonzales had his skull fractured in two places and the sight of one eye destroyed.

ARMED MURDEROUS PLOT.

Antonio and E. Gomez are under arrest charged with assault with intent to murder a Mexican named Ramon, who alleges that because he had told the accused plotting the death of another man they determined to get rid of him, and in the assault Gomez allowed stabbed him twice in the stomach.

Ramon says he was sleeping in a wagon beside the road when he overheard the plotting. Guerro and Gomez learned that another man who owed them money and in their plotting decided first to beat him to death and then to place the body on the railroad track. Ramon was discovered in his sleep and was at once attacked. During the fight with the robbers the wounded victim escaped them. The prisoners are well supplied with money and declare they will make a fight in court. They say Ramon's story is false.

FREIGHT TRAIN IN WRECK.

A Santa Fe freight wreck occurred this morning in the east end of the Santa Fe freight yards between an incoming freight and a switch engine. The locomotive and sixteen cars were badly demolished and the track was torn up for a considerable distance.

There were several narrow escapes among the trainmen, several being slightly injured. The wreck tied up the line and prevented a special train of the injured from the Needles train getting through to Los Angeles. The Salt Lake had a bad freight wreck near Ore Grande, which will delay the Santa Fé special.

DEMOCRATS WILL FIGHT.

Campaign Promised—Farming Company Incorporated—Baseball Games Arranged.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 6.—According to Frank Gill, chairman of the Democratic County Committee and candidate for County Judge, the unterrified army of Democratic voters in this county intends to make a fight in the coming campaign. It is now proposed that the Democratic nominees will throw themselves into a campaign early in October will work in a body and make a complete canvass of the county. They propose to see every voter possible before election. There are no personal issues in the campaign, and on the one hand the Republicans have shown a decreased registration and the Democrats some heart. Sheriff Sherman is an independent candidate and the fight on this office will be a three-cornered one.

Assessor Dunmore, who is a half-hearted candidate Chairman Gill, is out of town on his vacation. Chairman Barker is at Banning, so that it is impossible to learn the Republican plans for the meeting next week of the Riverside County Executive Committee to shape up the campaign.

RIVERSIDE NOTES.

The Verde Farming Company was incorporated for $25,000 with its offices at Riverside and the directors: A. J. Stalder, F. R. Stalder, E. W. Smart, J. Hall, and E. J. Elsenger of Riverside.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES MEET.

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 6.—The trustees at the recent election here have organized and will soon have the municipal machinery moving regularly. John King has been elected president of the board. Arrangements have been made for room for a City Hall in the Pacific Electric building on Fifteenth street. Whether saloons shall be licensed to run, appears to be the question of greatest local interest.

School will begin in Newport Beach district next Monday, with Effie Nugent as principal and Marie Martin, assistant.

A. Hermes, who has been in business here for a number of years, was one of the fortunate participants in the government's recent drawing for public lands on the Shoshone Indian Reservation in Wyoming, and has gone to locate upon his new possessions.

The schooner Lottie Carson has left for Eureka, where a cargo of redwood lumber will be secured for the J. M. Griffith Company's yards in this county.

MRS. THEODOSIA B. SHEPHERD. of Ventura, who died yesterday.

her arrival here she immediately took up the outdoor life and turned her attention to flower culture.

By her indomitable will and her devotion to flowers she not only succeeded in prolonging her life for years, but also succeeded in building for herself the reputation of being an authority on flowers and their culture. In her famous public gardens here, which have been visited by tourists from all parts of the globe, she studied flower and plant life to such good effect that as time passed she succeeded in creating many rare and beautiful new flowers and shrubs, some of which have been sold for high prices. She has been termed "the Burbank of the South," and has been in the flower world what the northern wizard is to the world of fruit. Mrs. Shepherd leaves a husband, a son and two daughters. The funeral will be held Saturday morning. The body will be taken to Los Angeles for cremation, after which interment will be at Rosedale Cemetery in that city.

THOMAS ROWAN ACQUITTED.

Defendant in Larceny Case May Be Examined as to His Sanity.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 6.—Not guilty, by reason of insanity, was the verdict rendered this forenoon in Department Two of the Superior Court, in the case of Thomas E. Rowan, who was charged with grand larceny. The jury agreed upon a verdict at 10:20 o'clock last night, after being out nearly seven hours, but the announcement was not made in court until this morning.

After receiving the verdict, Judge Conklin remarked that while the jury had found the defendant not guilty on account of insanity, he was not of that opinion. Nevertheless, as the jury had reached the conclusion that Rowan was insane, he thought that, in justice to Rowan and his friends, he should not be allowed to again mingle with his fellow-men until the truth or falsity of the charge had been established. Rowan, he said, as one result of the trial, had the stigma of being insane, irresponsible and unreliable in everything.

After further remarks, Judge Conklin said that he would direct that a jury be impaneled immediately to try Rowan on the charge of insanity.

EAT POISONED POPCORN.

Two sons of Mrs. Heintzle, corner of Fourth and F streets, aged 6 and 11, had a narrow escape from death today from eating popcorn which they had picked up in a door yard. Two physicians worked over them several hours with stomach pumps. Analysis shows the corn to have been saturated with strychnine. The secret of the poisoning is that a popcorn vender, who keeps his cart in the yard when not on the street had used the poison on his popcorn to keep the rats from eating it.

VETERANS IN ENCAMPMENT.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 6.—Vice-Commander L. D. Phillips of San Diego, presided at the Wednesday evening session of the Veterans' Association in annual encampment here. The programme included addresses in a reminiscent vein by Comrades F. S. Haughawaut of Santa Ana, M. J. Daniels of Riverside, Samuel Merrill of Long Beach, and E. C. Seymour of San Bernardino. A report from the recent national encampment at Minneapolis was given by Mrs. Lizzie Bell Cross of Stanton Relief Corps, Los Angeles. Music was rendered between the addresses.

The Anthracite Peat Fuel Company has received a large engine and dynamo for its factory near Huntington Beach, and the manufacture of the fuel on a large scale will be commenced as soon as the machinery can be placed.

PRODUCTS SHOW, WHAT NAME?

SANTA ANA PUZZLED OVER ITS PARADE.

Commercial Bodies of the Orange County Seat Take Preliminary Steps Toward Arranging Attraction Intended to Draw Visitors to That City—Marshal After Speeders.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 6.—At last night's meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the proposition of holding the parade of products celebration again this year was discussed. A majority of the members of the board were in favor of it and a committee composed of Thomas McKeever, W. A. Huff and Ed. Tedford was appointed to confer with the committee appointed by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association some time ago, in regard to making arrangement for holding the carnival again this year.

There is no question but that the parade was a big advertisement for the town last year and whether the name of the celebration, which is objected to because it sounds sort of farmerish, is changed or not, it will be the means of bringing a lot of people to the town and that is what the business men and residents want.

The town has grown a great deal during the past year, the paving of Main street has been finished and there are plenty of other improvements which would be new to the visitors even who were here last year.

It is proposed to hold the carnival somewhat earlier this fall than last, some time in October. It was held last year on the 22nd of November. It is considered by many that it will be easier to get products at this time of the year, as there are more of them and the weather is more likely to be favorable.

The plans for the celebration are much the same as they were last year, the parade, which is to be the main feature of course, in the forenoon and the afternoon will be devoted to athletic sports of some kind, with perhaps a dance at one of the halls in the evening.

A general executive committee will be appointed with members from both the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, which will in turn put the details of getting up the affair in the hands of different sub committees.

Many, if not all of the farmers and orchardists and in fact nearly all the contributors to last year's parade are willing to donate some of their time, produce and expense to it again this season.

AFTER SPEEDING CAR MEN.

City Marshal Maxwell proposes to stop the violation of the ordinance regulating the speed of electric cars through the city and if possible without causing the arrest of any of the car crews. He proposes to first notify all the motormen running here that they are to regulate the speed of their cars to come within the stipulations of the ordinance and then if they are caught violating it, he will promptly arrest them. Mr. Maxwell notified a number of them today to that effect and furthermore warned them against running through the city at night without hoods over their headlights.

Both Night Watchman Murray and Baker know something about speed and have held stop watches a number of times. Mr. Murray has had considerable experience as a driver of fast harness horses and Mr. Baker has been an officer of the local driving club ever since it was first organized. They can both tell pretty close to how fast a car is going, and they propose to keep the cars inside the limit.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.

Hotel to Be Reopened—Officers Elected in Church Society—Interesting Personal Notes.

FULLERTON, Sept. 6.—Shortly before 7 o'clock this morning a young German named F. Retlich, about 18 years of age, employed on the ranch of C. C. Chapman, was dangerously wounded in the abdomen by the accidental discharge of a gun he was removing from a wagon. He was removed to the Fullerton Hospital and his brother was summoned. It is feared that he cannot recover.

FULLERTON NOTES.

R. T. Davies, local manager of the California Citrus Union, seems to have passed the crisis of his critical illness, and good hope of his recovery is entertained.

Arrangements are being made to reopen Hotel Reception, adjacent to the depot, under the management of O. R. Fuller, a well-known rancher of this vicinity. He will open up a livery in connection with it, and may start a stage line between Fullerton and the oil wells.

C. Paulson has just returned from Denmark with his daughter Elsie, who has been visiting relatives in that country for several years.

EXTERMINATING THISTLE.

Four Applicants for Saloon Licenses. Building Permits Granted—Road Projected.

CORONA, Sept. 6.—Supervisor Hamner this week started a vigorous onslaught on the Russian thistle where found infesting the county roads. It is now known that the thistle was first introduced into the county in alfalfa seed brought from Eastern States, where the weed abounds.

CIRCLE CITY CURVES.

At a meeting of the City Trustees last evening there were filed four applications for saloon licenses, from P. Provensal, J. H. Penprase, E. Tisnerat and W. C. Foster.

Lewis Henry Ware, a native of Ohio and resident of Moorpark, died Tuesday morning at his brother's home in this town, aged 45 years.

Mrs. Young, mother of Mrs. Frank Clapp, broke her right arm last evening, the same one having been but recently fractured.

G. W. Kellogg, F. M. Baird and L. L. Andrews have been appointed by the Board of Trade to make the trip to the mines on the opposite side of the Santa Ana Mountains and report if a road the entire distance would be feasible.

Dr. M. B. Huff is ill at Long Beach, the result of ptomaine poisoning.

BALBOA WORK IS ACTIVE.

BALBOA, Sept. 6.—Acres of shining sand are increasing daily here, where formerly the waters of the bay at high tide covered marsh and tules. The dredger is constantly adding to the available building space at the edge of the bay. Its contract at East Newport is about finished, but a considerable amount of work remains to be done for the Balboa company. One building is already begun on the newly-made territory.

Cement contractors have a large force of men engaged in laying sidewalks on all streets in the Balboa tract.

Fishing continues good. From the wharf large catches of yellowtail are being made, and boating parties in the bay are having success with yellowfin, croakers and calico bass.

The boathouse management is having ways constructed for hoisting boats.

ONE KILLED, ANOTHER TO TRY.

Inexperienced Balloonist Falls Two Hundred Feet to Death on Kansas Fair Grounds.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OSKALOOSA (Kan.) Sept. 6.—In full view of a crowd of 2000 spectators at the Jefferson county fair here, today, Jerry Turner, an inexperienced balloonist, fell 200 feet from a trapeze suspended from a parachute and was instantly killed. Turner, who was aged 26, was an employe of a street fair company, and his home was in Kansas City.

The balloon rose perhaps 3000 feet. The parachute descended slowly, Turner performing on a trapeze below. When 200 feet from the ground, while swinging with both hands, one was seen to loosen and he clung by the left hand, struggling to regain hold with his right hand, but his strength becoming exhausted, he fell, head downward, the fall breaking his neck, jaw, left arm, collar bone and both wrists.

Notwithstanding the accident, another performer has been engaged to make an ascension tomorrow at the fair.

FOUR GENERALS, 800 MEN.

Dominican Stronghold Falls When a Quartette of Military Geniuses Lay Siege to Dajabon.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CAPE HAYTIEN (Hayti) Sept. 6.—A messenger today brought details of the capture of Dajabon, Santo Domingo, by the Dominican insurgent generals, Guellito, Mauricio Jimines, Andres Navarro, and Miguelit Rives.

At the head of 800 men they arrived at Dajabon, which was defended only by a garrison of seventy government soldiers. The latter, seeing the impossibility of resisting, retired into the fort, and September 4 the town capitulated to the insurgent forces.

After the capture of Dajabon, Gen. Guellito divided his troops into two groups and sent one of them in the direction of Monte Cristi, on the north coast, and the other toward Guaybin, to prevent government reinforcements reaching Monte Cristi.

It is said that unless reinforcements reach Monte Cristi very shortly that post will certainly fall into the hands of the insurgents.

Exchange will hold no session Saturday, September 8, or Monday, September 10, Admission Day.

The receipts of produce as reported for yesterday's exchange were as follows: Eggs, 130 lbs.; potatoes, 6 sacks; onions, 6 sacks; local, 3474 lb sacks; sweet potatoes, none.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Yesterday morning's exchange session was well attended, but no sales were made and few changes took place in the prices. The general tone of the produce market was better yesterday than it has been for some time past. Nearly all of the dealers reported trade exceptionally good for this season of the year.

Eggs were featureless. A thorough canvass of the egg market failed to bring out any news of interest. One carload of Eastern fresh eggs came in. Receipts of local ranch eggs this week have been smaller than they were for the same time last week.

Arrivals of potatoes were only 6 sacks yesterday. Receipts of onions were 14 sacks. Potatoes are firming up in the North.

Supplies of fruit were a little below the average, and several of the varieties had a tendency towards firmness. Peaches were quoted at 65@1.00.

Crawford Clingstone peaches are arriving at 1.25@2.00. Belledeur apples were reduced to 1.50@1.75. Kelsey plums were in plentiful. One berry jobber stated that he was receiving between 600 and 800 cases of strawberries each day. The vegetable market was inclined to be dull on account of the overproduction of tomatoes, eggplant and cucumbers. Eggplant was a drag on the market at 1 cent per pound.

Stocks of young poultry were all quoted weaker yesterday on account of the oversupply.

Small fish was equal to requirements; the demand was good, and all kinds were well cleaned up at the end of the day.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The stock market today showed some stimulating effect from the order of the treasury department, permitting deposit of government funds with national banks against engagements of gold for import. The effect was moderate, partly owing to the selling to realize profits by those who bought stocks on the confident assumption, yesterday, that action was imminent by the secretary of the treasury for the relief of the money market, and partly owing to the fact that call money did not show the expected relaxation as a result of the new facilities, but was shown to any selling pressure, and prices were sustained by the strength of some speculative leaders by the close. No doubt is felt among bankers that a considerable interior movement of gold will follow. Gold in transit to New York, next Monday, will give the coinsiness the right to the use of government funds until its arrival, as well as the gold engaged on or after that date. The order making its redemption on the time that may be required for the receipt of the gold, if it has been actually engaged or shipped. This would make it feasible to buy gold in Australia, Japan or even in South Africa and make the proceeds available for use in New York from the date of purchase, without expense for interest charges while the bullion is in transit. The time-money market seemed to be unaffected by the news, and loans for 60 and 90 days commanded a premium equivalent to 7% to 8 per cent., with six month money leading at 8% per cent. The only lenders in any amount were foreign bankers. Yesterday's $2,000,000 transfers to the interior through the subtreasury were offset in the daily statement of operations by extraordinary government disbursements to the amount of $3,000,000, leaving the day's losses of the banks only moderate. The government institution has taken from the banks since the last bank statement, however, $4,923,000, and $500,000 was deposited for transfer to San Francisco today. The money stringency here is bringing offerings in small amounts from widely-separated points in the interior which make an appreciable aggregate. New York exchange at Chicago recovered to 5 cents discount, compared with 40 cents discount Tuesday. Reading bore the brunt of sustaining the general market up to the late afternoon, when rumors that control of Baltimore and Ohio was to be transferred to that company. When the demand for call loans had been satisfied, offerings of the unplaced remainder carried the rate off from 25 per cent., where it closed. The Great Northern land report was revived later, with effect on United States Steel and Great Northern preferred and had a strengthening influence on the whole market. Bonds were heavy; total sales, par value, $3,152,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.
